FOR

AFRICA AND THE EAST.

THE FIFTY-FIRST YEAR,

CONTAINING

THE ANNIVERSARY SERMON,

BY THE RIGHT HON. AND MOST REV.

THOMAS, LORD ARCHBISHOP OF YORK,

VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE SOCIETY,

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE,

&c. &c.

LONDON:

PRINTED BY WILLIAM WATTS, CROWN COURT, TEMPLE BAR.

Published for the Society,

BY SEELEYS, FLEET STREET, & HANOVER STREET, HANOVER SQUARE;

MESSRS. HATCHARD, 187 Piccadilly.

MESSRS. J. NISBET & Co., Berners Street.

In Dublin, by

MESSRS. JOHN DAVID LA TOUCHE & Co.

R. K. GREVILLE, ESQ., LL.D., REV. D. T. K. DRUMMOND, & CAPT. GROVE.

 The Committee of the Church Missionary Society beg to suggest to the Committees and Officers of Associations, that the most convenient and economical mode of making their Remittances is through the medium of a Banker in the Country to the Society's Bankers, through the Banking-house in town with which the Country Banker corresponds, advising the Secretaries of the payment.

PROPER FORM OF A BENEFACTION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

IN consequence of some late decisions with regard to charitable Legacies, it has been found necessary, in order that a Testator's benevolent intentions may not be frustrated, as has been the case in several instances, that the following forms of Bequest should be substituted for that hitherto printed in the Society's Reports.

No. I.—Form of Bequest of a Common Legacy.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of a voluntary Society meeting in or near London commonly called or known by the name of "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East" the sum of Pounds *free of Legacy duty for the general purposes of the said Society† to be paid within calendar months next after my death. And in order that the said Legacy [or Legacies] for charitable purposes may be paid in full I direct the same together with the Legacy duty thereon to be paid exclusively out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may be bequeathed for charitable purposes and in priority to all my Debts and funeral and testamentary expenses and all other Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society [or each of the said Societies] shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy [or Legacies respectively].

No. II.—Form of Bequest of the Residue, or a Share of the Residue.

And in order to give full effect to the bequest hereinafter contained for charitable purposes I direct that my Debts, the expenses of my funeral and of the probate and execution of this my Will and the Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto‡ shall be paid out of such part of my personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may not be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the primary Fund§ and in case only of the same being insufficient for payment thereof then out of such part of my personal Estate as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the ultimate Fund; and subject as aforesaid, I give and bequeath unto the Treasurer for the time being of a voluntary Society meeting in or near London called or known by the name of "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East" for the general purposes of the said Society such part of my residuary personal Estate as by the Laws in force may be bequeathed for charitable purposes [or if a share only of the residue be intended to be given, then, instead of the words in Italics, say, "such sum of money as shall be equal to (one-fourth or one-half, according to the intention) of my whole residuary personal Estate to be paid exclusively out of such part thereof as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes or such less sum as the said last mentioned part of my personal Estate will extend to pay"]. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general residuary personal Estate I bequeath the same &c.‖

---

* If so intended.

† If there be other charitable Legacies, they may be here added thus—"and to a certain other voluntary Society" &c. "and I direct each of the said several Legacies hereby bequeathed for charitable purposes to be paid" &c. as in the remainder of the above form.

‡ In case there be other charitable Legacies, insert here, "other than and except charitable Legacies."

§ If it be intended also to charge the Debts and Legacies on real Estate, then add "and in the next place out of my Freehold and Copyhold Estates."

‖ The latter Clause to be filled up according to the Testator's wishes; but it must not be for any charitable purpose.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, April the 30th, 1850, being the Fifty-first Anniversary—

The Right Hon. the EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair,

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY ONE OF THE CLERICAL SECRETARIES AND THE REV. JOHN VENN, M.A., PREBENDARY OF HEREFORD,

On the Motion, of the REV. W. MARSH, D.D., Incumbent of St. Mary's, Leamington, seconded by the HON. and REV. H. MONTAGU VILLIERS, M.A., Rector of St. George's, Bloomsbury, and supported by the REV. DR. BARTH, of Stutgardt, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of this Meeting be given to His Grace the Archbishop of York for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to His Grace the Vice-Patron; to the Right Hon. the President and the Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies. [See List, p. iv.]

On the Motion of SIR ROBERT HARRY INGLIS M.P., V.P., seconded by the REV. JOHN EAST, M.A., Rector of St. Michael's, Bath, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the rising importance of the Native Church in Sierra Leone, the rapid increase of Converts in Abbeokuta, and the grace given to them under severe persecution, as well as the openings into the interior from the eastern coast, encourage the hope that the Lord's time to favour Africa is come; and demand, on our part, renewed efforts to secure for her the protection of England's power, and the blessings of England's Christianity.

On the Motion of the REV. ARTHUR S. RAINEY, Minister of the Episcopal Chapel, Crieff, Perthshire, seconded by the REV. JOHN THOMAS, one of the Society's Missionaries from Tinnevelly, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That, though many of the existing Missionary fields urgently demand an increase of Labourers, and hold out the promise of a large spiritual harvest, yet this Meeting regards the newly-conquered Provinces of the Punjab and Scinde as presenting a claim which must not be postponed; and they rejoice in the fact that this claim has been urged upon them by Chaplains, by civilians on the spot, and by soldiers who have helped to win or maintain those Provinces by their sword; and they trust that the blessing of God may abundantly prosper the proposed undertaking.

On the Motion of the REV. CHARLES BARING, M.A., Rector of All Souls', Marylebone, seconded by the REV. J. SCHOLEFIELD, M.A., Regius Professor of Greek in the University of Cambridge, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the increasing magnitude of the work of God in the Missions of the Society, and the largeness of the Providential openings beyond them in various countries, invite Christians at home to a corresponding enlargement of their prayers, their efforts, and their alms, in this holy cause.

At a Meeting of the Society, held at Exeter Hall, in the Evening of the same Day—

The Most Hon. the MARQUESS CHOLMONDELEY, one of the Vice-Presidents, in the Chair,

EXTRACTS FROM THE REPORT HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. JOHN VENN—

On the Motion of LIEUT. COLONEL JACOB, late Member of the Corresponding Committee at Bombay, seconded by the REV. JOHN T. JOHNSTON, one of the Society's Missionaries from Ceylon, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That, viewing the Corresponding Committees, as now constituted in their India and Ceylon Missions, as the centres of union and intercourse between the Parent Committee and the Missionaries, the Clergy and Laity in their respective localities, and more especially between Europeans and Native Christians, this Meeting rejoices in the hope that, by the late appointment of Clerical Secretaries for the Western-India and Ceylon Missions, a way is opening for the increased efficiency and extension of the Missions, and a greater in-gathering of souls to Christ in those parts of the world.

On the Motion of the REV. CHARLES S. F. MONEY, B.A., Curate of All Souls', Marylebone, seconded by the REV. CHRISTOPHER BOWEN, M.A., Incumbent of St. Mary Magdalen, Southwark, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the fact, that the Society has now in connexion with it a greater number of Labourers than at any former period, calls for the expression of gratitude and praise to God, and is a motive to more earnest and constant prayer for a large increase of Labourers and means to extend our Missions.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by a Patron or Patrons, a Vice-Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church.

II. The office of PATRON of the Society shall be reserved for such Members of the Royal Family as may honour it with their protection; and that of VICE-PATRON for His Grace the Primate of all England, if, being a Member of the Society, he shall accept the office. The PRESIDENT shall be such Temporal Peer or Commoner as may be appointed to that office; and VICE-PRESIDENTS shall consist of all Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, who, being Members of the Society, shall accept the office; and of such Temporal Peers and Commoners as, being also Members, shall be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upward, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upward per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward, Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying to the amount of Fifty Pounds, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upward shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate, to the General Committee, proper persons, as Patrons and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents for the Society in the principal Towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; the other Committees as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee; and Three, each of the others. In case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex-officio, Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society; of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued: The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.*

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. That all questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between any Colonial Bishop and any Committee of the Society, shall be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, whose decision thereupon shall be final.

XXXIII. That the object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as, in any other respect, to alter the principles and practice of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations, and explained in Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Report.

The proposed reference shall be made, through His Grace the Primate, by the Committee, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the Committee may deem advisable; and the Committee will be bound so to refer all questions, falling within the scope of the Rule so understood as aforesaid, which the Colonial Bishop shall require them to refer.

While all decisions of the Bench of Bishops on questions so referred will be considered by the Committee as binding on them and their agents or representatives, the Colonial Bishops or other Ecclesiastical Authorities, unless concurring in the reference, cannot properly be considered as so bound.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The following passage, from Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Annual Report, illustrates the practice of the Society in reference to this Rule:—

"The Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] our Missionaries—these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same Colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church."

APPENDIX II. TO THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT.

REFERRED TO IN THE NOTE TO LAW XXIX.

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

It is the object of the following Remarks to show, that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognised in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognised co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in MATTERS ECCLESIASTICAL; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant Church, a Lay-Patron selects and presents "his Clerk"—as the Clergyman is technically called—to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every Church—the Churchwardens or Sidesmen—whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle, that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the FOUR following Heads:

I. THE COLLECTION OF THE HOME REVENUE, and THE DISBURSEMENT OF IT ABROAD.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. THE SELECTING AND EDUCATING CANDIDATES FOR MISSIONARY EMPLOYMENT.

In this department there is no necessary encroachments upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged, that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment: and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates: and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth:"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London "sends forth" every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their Foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a SENDING FORTH of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign Stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognised the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour; so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President—December 17, 1835—in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognised Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those—the Committee and Secretary—who still stand in the relation of Lay-Patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop* or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask [to receive]."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms:—"You seem to me to lay down the principle most correctly. . . . . This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I report all the proceedings of the diocese."—9th June 1836.

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a licence or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries: the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837:—

"We are not to take for granted, that discretionary power will be abused; but, on the contrary, to provide, by a cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an occurrence. If the event of arbitrary conduct should arise, or be supposed to arise, the remedies are—public opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop—and the Society's refusing to make other appointments and locations than those unreasonably objected to. Nothing is the least likely—and probability is the guide of life—to arise to impede or cramp the Committee; since they unquestionably and avowedly possess, The choice of men--The appointment of spheres of labour—The temporal power, including pecuniary support."

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands toward its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a Beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is, in a sense, perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Missionary Committees," says his Lordship, "have a far greater latitude in India than any Lay-Patrons at home. Upon presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, the Patron at home is functus officio. The Clergyman is removed, on being once instituted and licensed, totally and for ever from the Patron, and is transferred to the superintendency of the Bishop. The Patron has nothing whatever more to do with him. But in India, the Committee is (1) the continued paymaster of the Missionary after he is duly licensed;--for institution and induction there are none. (2) They correspond with him. (3) They supply him with Catechists. (4) They report his chief proceedings home. (5) They propose removals and changes of Station to the Bishop. (6) They exercise, unavoidably, an influence which does not belong to the mere Lay-Patron; and are aiding, in a variety of ways, to the comfortable and honourable discharge of the Missionary's most exalted and most spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those Stations which are Extra-diocesan; i.e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such Stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras, to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission in Travancore; which, as an independent state, not forming a part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made on behalf of the New-Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia; who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly satisfactory to me, that our friends at home are taking a view of these things which proves them to belong, not only to a MISSIONARY, but also to a CHURCH Society." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert, that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta—Letter, May 26, 1837: "The boundaries of the power of Committees, as they approach to those of the Bishop, can be ascertained, in many points, only by time and observation." Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society: and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—"The principles of our new relations are now fully recognised: the details will soon find their level."—Letter, 9th June 1836.

* The Three Bishops of India, and the Bishop of Australia, are the Presidents of the Corresponding Committees in their respective dioceses.

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church.* Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that, in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this TRANSITION STATE—from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour. This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach. In an interview with the Bishop of Barbados—April 1835—this point was expressly alluded to; and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, "that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary's services."—(Extracts from Committee's Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society, according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee's using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper Candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops—as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson—that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceeding.

It seems impossible to supersede this conventional understanding—as it may be termed—till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, not of confusion, but of peace, and "the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause—"that all and every of these may, IN THEIR SEVERAL CALLINGS, serve truly and painfully, to the glory of His name!"

NAMES OF MISSIONARIES AND OTHER LABOURERS,

AT THE SEVERAL STATIONS OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY: APRIL 30, 1850.

 By MISSIONARY, is to be understood one in Holy Orders; and by CATECHIST, one who engages in such religious care and instruction of the people as may be consistent with his character as a Layman. The letter (m) means Married; (w) Widow.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Females such as, cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing Female Adults.

A STATION is the place at which a Missionary or European Catechist is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers sent from Europe show the date of their first leaving England.

The asterisk (*) denotes that the Missionary is on his way out; The mark (†) that he is on his way home.

Suggested Order of Proceedings at a Meeting preparatory to the Formation of an Association in aid of the Church Missionary Society.

1.—Mr. will move, and Mr. will second, a Resolution, "That be requested to take the Chair."

2.—The Chairman will briefly state the object for which the Meeting is assembled, and then call on the Rev. to offer up the usual Prayer to Almighty God, for a blessing on the proceedings of the day.

3.—After Prayer, the Chairman will make such further observations as he may deem necessary, and then call on Mr. to move the First Resolution.

FIRST RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That this Meeting fully recognises the duty incumbent on Christians to employ all suitable means for the propagation of the Gospel throughout the world; and hails, with thankfulness to the Great Head of the Church, the labours of the CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY in its various Stations in Heathen Lands, and among decayed Christian Churches.

SECOND RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That an Association be now formed, and entitled, "The Church Missionary Association;" and that the following be its Officers and Rules.

PRESIDENT. VICE-PRESIDENTS.

COMMITTEE:

RULES.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward; or if Clergymen, Half a Guinea; and also such persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward; or if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas; and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at its General Meetings. Collectors of Sixpence and upward per week will receive a copy of each Monthly Number of the "Church Missionary Record"; and Collectors of Two Shillings and upward per week will receive a copy of the Annual Report, in addition to the "Record." Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society. Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors. Contributors of 1*d.* a-week and upward will be entitled to receive the Parent Society's "Quarterly Paper."

VI. The objects of this Association shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society—to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VII. The whole of the funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society, in aid of its designs.

VIII. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day as shall be fixed by the Committee; when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be read, and an account of its receipts and disbursements presented, duly audited.

THIRD RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That the success which, under the Divine Blessing, has attended the Church Missionary Society, in its efforts to make known the Gospel of Christ among the Heathen, is a loud and providential call for increased exertions, for devout thanksgiving to Almighty God, and for continual prayer for a more abundant outpouring of the Holy Spirit, to render the means employed successful.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That the new and enlarged openings for Missionary exertion, in different quarters, demand our best energies to make known the blessed Gospel of Christ to Heathen and Mahomedan Nations.

PREACHED AT ST. BRIDE'S CHURCH,

FLEET STREET,

ON MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 29, 1850,

BEFORE THE

Church Missionary Society,

BY THE RIGHT HON. AND MOST REV.

THOMAS, LORD ARCHBISHOP OF YORK,

ONE OF THE VICE-PRESIDENTS OF THE SOCIETY.

SERMON,

&c. &c.

ST. MARK XVI. 15.

AND HE SAID UNTO THEM, GO YE INTO ALL THE WORLD, AND PREACH THE GOSPEL TO EVERY CREATURE.

THE ministrations of our Blessed Lord in the days of His flesh had, with few exceptions, been confined to the individuals of His own nation. But immediately after His resurrection, when about to withdraw His personal presence in order to resume that glory which He had before the world was, He delivered to His chosen companions that authority and commission which He had Himself received of His Father. "As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you." This was done, that immediately after His ascension, and grounded on the great doctrine of His atoning sacrifice—confirmed by the overwhelming evidence of His resurrection—the testimony should go forth, proclaiming salvation through Him to all the ends of the earth. The sure voice of early prophecy had declared that in Him "should all the nations of the earth be blessed." In later times it was said, "Ask of me, and I shall give Thee the Heathen for Thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Thy possession;" "It shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord's House shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it;" with numberless predictions of like import. So full indeed, so repeated, is the attestation given to the future and universal spread of the Gospel, that to cite the passages would be to transcribe a large portion of prophetic Scripture. This would here be needless, because you all know them, and happily they are called in question by few or none in our days. The full import of such prophecies, and the extent of their fulfilment, may not be so generally acknowledged; yet the Scriptures unequivocally declare that the whole race of mankind, without exception, and wherever placed, had sinned and corrupted its way, and "come short of the glory of God;" who had "concluded all in unbelief, that He might have mercy upon all." Accordingly, the redemption by Jesus Christ is set forth as a propitiation for the sins of the whole world; that as the apostasy from God and goodness under the first Adam was universal, so should the restoration be; that "as in Adam all die, even so in Christ should all be made alive;" and "because all died, so one died for all"—a remedy co-extensive with the ruin. The necessity was urgent, and the purpose wide. For it comprehends the whole circuit of the habitable earth, lost in sin, and lying under God's wrath and condemnation.

Plainly, however, as the purpose of God was declared, and written in characters scarcely open to misapprehension, and distinctly as the admission of the Gentiles was charged upon the Apostles—"Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature"—it required afterwards a special revelation to convince them that the Gentiles were to be made partakers of the same light, and knowledge, and privileges, as themselves. And some time elapsed before the zeal and stirring eloquence of St. Paul himself could succeed in securing to the Gentile converts a full participation of Christian privileges without some admixture of Judaical rites. They could not, or at least they did not, see the temporary nature and object of the Mosaic dispensation, as introductory to that larger and better dispensation which was to follow, when the blessings of the new covenant were to be diffused over all nations.

A striking evidence of the divine original of the Gospel is furnished in this its gracious design, and in its suitableness to man under every modification and variety of his being. For who but God could know and declare beforehand the universal necessity of man, and devise and establish a system of such unlimited application and efficacy. His dealings with man from the beginning had reference to the redemption which is in Christ Jesus. Throughout, they form one whole, marvellous, and consistent plan. The prophecies, the types, the ordinances, were all from the first preparatory to the revelation of the Gospel, by reason of its universal necessity, and the consequent purpose of its unrestricted use.

Is it possible for words to convey a positive command in plainer language than the text? wherein our blessed Lord sends forth His accredited servants to make known the mystery long hid from ages and generations, but now to be manifested to all, even salvation through Him who is called "the hope" and "desire of all nations." "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature." The command was obviously not confined to the persons then and there addressed; for they were but mortal men, born to live a few brief years on the earth, and then to disappear; of necessity leaving the mighty work scarcely begun, which God designed to be accomplished in the fulness of time. But in that gracious assurance, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world," is given a clear intimation of a succession of men to be appointed, who should carry on the work throughout all ages and countries, till that glorious epoch, sure to come, when "the knowledge of the Lord should cover the earth, as the waters cover the sea." This, then, is a duty binding on every portion of the Church Catholic. None can escape from its obligation. It is our bounden duty, as a highly-favoured and eminent branch of that Church, to do our part; and to carry the Gospel to them that know not God; and, in plain obedience to His will and command, to proclaim it to earth's utmost borders as the revelation of the grace of God for the restoration and redemption of fallen man.

This, I repeat, is our bounden and special duty. Who can venture to gainsay it? Do we not acknowledge in our Public Service that "for us men and for our salvation Jesus Christ came down from Heaven?" Do we not daily beseech Almighty God that He would be "pleased to make His ways known upon earth, His saving health unto all nations?" These are but vain words and an empty sound, an unmeaning pretence and a solemn mockery, unless, in our several places and stations, earnestly, diligently, in faith and love, we each endeavour to spread abroad, among them that know it not, that precious and only name whereby they can be saved.

It has been to many, and may still be to some, a stumbling-block that the light of truth has hitherto visited so sparingly the nations of the earth; that God's message of love and mercy hath been so scantily communicated, and His beneficent purpose so imperfectly executed. He employs the agency of man, not to fathom the depths of His infinite wisdom, or to draw aside the curtain which hides His secret purposes, but to obey His commands, and to fulfil His revealed will. Yet man, unthankful man, is too slow to act for God; too tardy in carrying out His gracious designs. There is too little exercise of self-denial, and too little regard for perishing souls. We think too seldom and too lightly of His exceeding goodness to ourselves, and of the love of Christ who died for them as for us. We read and hear of their awful idolatry and of their revolting superstition, of their ignorance of God and of the way of salvation; we are acquainted with their debasement and guilt and ruin; yet how rare our thoughts, how few and languid our prayers, in their behalf! As to the powers which God hath given us, how slow we are to put them forth from a desire to instruct and save them! Even when the duty of Missionary efforts is forced on our attention, and resolutely taken in hand, how many are the hindrances which retard our progress!

The pride and waywardness of man are always and everywhere to be contended with, both in ourselves and others. There is often a want of simplicity, a want of firmness and of truth, in delivering our message, leading some to palliate error, to substitute "the inventions of men for the greater witness of God," to keep in the dark background those doctrines and precepts which are the peculiar object and distinguishing glory of our faith, "preaching another Gospel" than that which hath been revealed from Heaven, and to which alone, be it observed, belongs the promise of blessing and success. There is also the unhappy want of agreement and of unity among those who go forth to teach, differing and divided often one from another, perplexing their hearers with strange diversity of practice, and not unfrequently with opposing views as to the mode and substance of that holy religion, which, under every aspect of man's outward condition, is everywhere and always the same.

Nor among the difficulties which impede the Gospel should we omit to notice—to our sorrow and reproach and amendment be it spoken—the inconsistent lives of too many professing Christians in every settlement, bringing discredit "openly in the sight of the Heathen" on the body and the faith to which they belong; rendering it oftentimes easier to gain converts among rude and untutored savages, where the name of Christ, and of His miscalled disciples, has never been heard, than amid examples presenting such contradiction to the faith proposed for acceptance.

Yet, notwithstanding such hindrances, and many more which we stay not to enumerate or even to glance at, there is in the Gospel message an inherent principle mighty enough to overcome them all. Like the Apostles of old, let us preach, simply and plainly, "repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ," as commanded, and we shall carry with us that which shall gradually surmount all opposition, till "all the kindreds of the earth" shall own and bless the doctrine of a crucified Redeemer. Let not this be thought an extravagant, a wild, and a visionary notion. The first preaching of the Gospel by a few plain and unlettered men, the tentmakers and fishermen of Galilee, was a far greater change than its gradual extension can be now. The difficulties, too, were greater. Now indeed, as then, Satan and the powers of darkness are leagued against the truth. But, however frowning and discouraging appearances at any time may be, they should be as nothing in our estimation, and vanish away, before the glorious and enduring purpose of the Most High in the standing injunction of the text.

In obedience to this command, and in reliance on this promise of its ever-living Head, we of this age and country have the most powerful inducements to act a conspicuous part in extending the borders of Christ's Holy, Catholic, Church. The enterprising spirit of our people has created political, social, and commercial relations with every corner of the globe. Our rapid, easy, and continual communications with the most distant countries, and our varied transactions and intercourse with them, have opened the prospect, as they suggest the hope and furnish the opportunity, of making known the Gospel to all the heathen portion of mankind. From what has been already attempted in this work, we have the past experience of partial failure and of general success, as a beacon to warn, or a light to guide and cheer us in future efforts. We need only the Spirit of God to animate and quicken us in our course, and a prayerful dependence on Him to direct our doings for the furtherance of His glory in the conversion of benighted and sinful men. Our forefathers were once as dark and lost as they now are, without any knowledge of the true God, and living under the dominion of the Evil One. What thankfulness, then, should we feel that this ignorance and darkness have been removed; that we were born in a land where "the true light shineth," and are rescued from the galling bondage of superstition into "the glorious liberty" of the Gospel; that through the goodness of God, and the agency of His Church, we have severally been made the subjects of adoption and grace here, and heirs of glory hereafter! This undeserved call to a hope full of elevation, comfort, and joy, should inspire us with love and charity towards all men. Placed in such circumstances as we are, through the distinguishing mercy of our God, and not by any merit of our own, we are not proudly to deem others less capable of His favour, or less fit for its enjoyment. We have it on undeniable authority that His ancient people were not singled out because "they were more or mightier," or better than others, but "because He loved them," and in their selection He had purposes of mercy to accomplish in them; and so He made them the depositories of His will and the vehicle of His gracious designs. Thus, surely, the heathen world may well appeal to us, "by the mercies of God," to have compassion on them. Can we have received, and continue to possess, the message of pardoning love and mercy, and behold millions of immortal beings, with souls as precious as our own, bowing down to stocks and stones, and wholly abandoned to the most degrading and senseless idolatry, and meanwhile not burn with eager desire to "show them a more excellent way?" They have claims on our sympathy, and on our efforts to enlighten and save them, as intelligent and imperishable beings, members of the same great family of mankind, children of the same God, redeemed at the same costly price, and entitled to be made heirs of the same promises, and hopes, and glory. It is a rare and special excellence of our holy religion that it calls for and encourages an enlarged benevolence, which should have no assignable limit but the wants of man, and our means of relieving or removing them. "There is no difference, for the same Lord over all is rich in mercy unto all that call upon Him," "for ye are all one in Christ Jesus." If we look idly on, and use no efforts for the conversion of the Heathen, do we not, in our measure and degree, counteract the beneficent design of God, who "sent His Son into the world, that all who believe in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life?" Do we not act in a spirit contrary to that prayer of our blessed Lord, when He taught and commanded us to pray, saying, "Thy kingdom come?" Are we not unmindful of that express assurance, "All the ends of the world shall remember, and turn unto the Lord, and worship before Him?" And are we not exhibiting in our conduct a practical disregard—the result, it may be, of a lurking and unsuspected disbelief—of those sublime expectations which Prophets, Apostles, and holy men of old entertained respecting the universal prevalence of the Gospel, when,

"from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same the name of Christ shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered, and a pure offering?" If we are in earnest for the salvation of the Heathen, remembering the word of Him who says, "I am the Lord, I change not," and that His promises are sealed with the blood of the Redeemer, we who "were once darkness and are now light in the Lord" shall readily hope and believe that we are designed, as instruments in His hand, for carrying the same everlasting life and truth through the world, and for bringing the nations to Christ.

In His spirit, a spirit of compassion and love, let us actively and willingly communicate the spiritual privileges we enjoy; thus sanctifying our abundance, and evincing our gratitude to Him who alone "hath made us to differ." If indeed we had no higher aim than the fleeting and sordid interests of this world, such as the advancement of our commercial relations, or of our fame, or political power, it would be a wise policy to encourage the propagation of the Gospel. For what but the Gospel, however imperfectly evidenced in the lives of its nominal professors, has given to them that superiority in intelligence, in freedom, in dignity, in morals, and in happiness, which they enjoy above the downcast and pitiable votaries of idolatry and superstition? Imbue them with the spirit of our holy religion, as established on Scriptural principles among ourselves, and you would confer the highest boon which man can bestow on man; and by erecting our Church on the ruins of Paganism we should obtain the most extensive and splendid triumph which humanity has ever achieved.

The wisdom of such a procedure will be seen, owned, and felt, from another grave consideration—namely, that continual intercourse with heathenism is apt to debase the mind and degrade the character. Men removed far away from Christian institutions will be liable, and at liberty, to follow their own vain imaginations, and to riot without control in all the abominations of sinful excess, till they rival, or surpass, the very heathen around them in criminal and forbidden indulgences. Moreover, what more likely to become a bond of union between ourselves and those under our dominion than to have made them partakers of a common faith, and sharers with ourselves in the elevating and saving truths of the Gospel, and in the privileges of the Church of Christ?

It may be well, then, to inquire what we have done in this behalf. As a nation, we have done little or nothing. This may possibly have been so ordered by Divine Providence, lest Christianity, like the baneful impostures of the Arabian Prophet, should seem or be said to owe its extension to the power of the rulers of this world, or to the irresistible combination of enthusiasm and the sword. Be this as it may, no national* efforts had ever been made to

* In the year after the Restoration (A.D. 1661) King Charles the Second granted a Charter of Incorporation* to certain noblemen and others therein mentioned, by the name of "The Company for Propagation of the Gospel in New England and the parts adjacent in America." This Charter was probably granted at the instance and solicitation of that illustrious man, Robert Boyle; who was appointed by his Sovereign the first† Governor of the new Company, and interested himself greatly for many years in its proceedings and success, up to the time of his death in December 1691.

Moreover, by his will he bequeathed an annual stipend for a Lecturer, who should "be‡ assisting to all Companies and encouraging of them in any undertaking for propagating the Christian Religion to foreign parts."

This original Company is said to be still in existence, but to have fallen into other hands; though when, or from what cause, I have no means of knowing. This may have taken place soon after Boyle's death. For in 1701 Archbishop§ Tenison (who had himself been appointed by Mr. Boyle one of his Trustees) obtained that new Incorporation to which, forty years after the grant of the former Charter, the same name was given; that venerable name by which it is still known throughout the world, as, "The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts."

propagate the Gospel, when, about one hundred and fifty years ago, some wise and good men, members of our Church, associated themselves as individuals to provide Teachers, Ministers, and Houses of Prayer, for our colonial possessions and foreign dependencies. To their gratuitous and pious labours the North-American continent especially is indebted for every thing like a settled, orderly, and Apostolic Church in those vast and flourishing regions. In more recent times, wherever conquest or the tide of emigration has carried our adventurous countrymen, across the broad Atlantic, or to the furthest East, or to the utmost isles of the sea, there the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel has directed its anxious cares, and has established its beneficent Stations, "according to its power;" yea, of late, much "beyond its power." And of course wherever those Stations are, they stand as actual centres of civilization and conversion to the idolatrous natives around them. The Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge had been early engaged, to a smaller extent, in the same benevolent and blessed work. But it remained to a comparatively recent date to make the case of the heathen world a special object of solicitude. Little more than half a century ago, it pleased God to put it into the hearts of some of His faithful servants to "care for their souls." Hence gradually arose that interesting and honoured Institution whose Fifty-first Anniversary we are now met to commemorate. Small as it was in the beginning, and slow and feeble in its early progress, requiring for its establishment and continuance and growth all the holy energy which a band of earnest and devoted Christian brethren could employ, "the little one has become a thousand, and the small one a strong nation." Looked upon at first with some jealousy and suspicion, time, and a better acquaintance with its scriptural object and its charitable labours, have done much to correct this erroneous feeling. Its appropriate and cheering name should be, among ourselves at least, a sufficient recommendation to fellowship and support. It has at length obtained a high position in public favour, and a well-earned title to the gratitude and co-operation of sincere Churchmen. As an honoured witness for God in the world, gathering within the fold of Christ those sheep which might otherwise perish, it is worthy of all estimation, confidence, and help. And I scruple not to say, in the language of one of the Reports, that, so far from damaging other kindred Societies, this Society, by diffusing a Missionary spirit and a spirit of Christian benevolence, has tended rather to advance their interests, as it certainly was the main cause of the extension of Episcopacy to India.

We need not dwell on the difficulties which encompassed the Society's early promoters, nor upon the doubts, bordering on despair, which seemed to retard their course; obstacles these, which faith, prayer, and devotedness, alone could have overcome. Our more agreeable duty this evening is, to call forth the voice of praise and thanksgiving for the signal marks of Divine favour which have been bestowed, while, under a deep and humbling sense of the shortcoming of past services, we pray for a continuance and increase of the success already vouchsafed. For surely, if it be one chief purpose of this solemnity to rejoice and give thanks together for what has been already done, there is another thing equally needful, and that is to bow before God in sorrowful and repentant acknowledgment of former listlessness and neglect. "Knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep," let us throw off the lethargy of indifference, and bestir ourselves for the mighty work before us, and with the more activity and zeal on account of past inertness; so that our endeavours may henceforward in some sort compensate for our blameable indifference in years gone by.

For ages has the solemn injunction of the text been heard in the land, and how small is the effect hitherto produced! When, in compliance with this plain duty, the Founders of this Society first gathered together, to send to heathen nations "the Gospel of the grace of God" in accordance and conformity with our own Church, how few rallied round them to assist in their holy enterprise! Nor did any of our countrymen then seem disposed to forsake the sweet delights of home, kindred, and friends, even on the high and sacred errand of carrying the benign influence of the Gospel to heathen lands. Recourse, therefore, was of necessity had to foreign nations, to supply the lack of zeal and service among ourselves. In looking through the Reports—which all should do who would acquaint themselves with the doings and wants, the claims and prospects, of the Society—it is impossible not to be struck with the number of foreign names in its employ abroad. This plan, adopted also by the older Societies, was confessedly owing to the want of a more lively and active Missionary spirit at home. Perhaps, also, it may have been in part attributable to the too scanty provision for men of piety duly qualified for the work, who must be influenced by a prudential regard to those dependent on them for subsistence. "The labourer is worthy of his hire." Hence we cannot commend too highly the purpose of setting apart some portion of the funds raised at the Jubilee commemoration, as a provision for the education of the children of your Missionaries. It is a praiseworthy object, and of indispensable necessity. The experience, however, of later years warrants the hope that we shall be well supplied with men, born, baptized, and educated in our own Church; thereby ensuring a greater uniformity among the Teachers, and a firmer attachment to its doctrines and discipline—till the happy time may arrive when a due supply of Native Teachers shall cause all anxiety on this head to cease. The erection of permanent Institutions for this latter purpose is a proposal deserving of all commendation, and can scarcely fail to meet with full encouragement and success.

Meanwhile, considering all the circumstances, there is much ground for thankfulness to Him, in whose hand are the hearts of all men, not only that many able and devoted Ministers have latterly been led to seek such holy employment in far distant lands, but that such eminent success has been permitted to accompany their labours. There is much reason to hope that an increased number will be found of well-qualified servants of God to encounter the perils, bear the privations, and meet the disappointments of a Missionary life—like the great Apostle, "perplexed, but not in despair; cast down, but not forsaken"—and, upheld by the same word of unerring truth that "their labour shall not be in vain in the Lord," to endure all in the fulness of hope, that, through the Divine blessing, some at least may be saved, and become their "joy and crown of rejoicing" at the latter day.

And here I cannot omit to notice that the Society, acting in all material points in strict conformity with its original design, is understood to have been—and so may it always be!—scrupulously vigilant in the selection of its Agents and Ministers; sending forth only such as were thought to be animated with the purest motives of love to God and to His Church, and of zeal for the conversion and salvation of men.

It was hardly to be expected that any Institution, on its first establishment, should exhibit that regularity, precision, and order, which are the slow but natural growth of observation and experience. But these elements have been more developed in proportion to the interest taken in its welfare, and to the extended support given to its exertions. And now, through this and those other venerable Societies before mentioned, opportunity is given for the exercise of Christian benevolence such as no Church or generation ever before enjoyed. And, as a happy accompaniment, a deep sense of our obligations and responsibilities has been excited; the sympathy and the prayers of the faithful are engaged; and a strong desire appears to prevail for the evangelization of that large portion of mankind, the heathen world, who are "living without hope, and without God in the world."

We have alluded to the difficulties at home which encompassed the Society in its earlier days. From its present condition we see that these have mainly disappeared. The same may be said of difficulties abroad. British India was once in a manner forbidden ground; the vast empire of China was unapproachable; and Africa's inhospitable climate was the charnel-house of Missionary enterprise, and seemed to shut out all hope of successful progress.

The Annual Reports have informed you how the case is now altered in those countries; and how, by means of its labours, begun and continued in faith, God has showered down His blessing on the Society. In Sierra Leone this blessing has been conspicuously exhibited. In Tinnevelly and Travancore are many large Congregations of Christian converts, manifesting all the proofs of the power of the Gospel which may be seen at home. Native Teachers are there under preparation, and whole villages have embraced Christianity; Schools are multiplied; and the Natives have established Religious Societies among themselves. China, with its numberless population, opens an encouraging field of labour, and gives promise of early and extensive success. In the Punjaub and in Scinde the patriotic men by whose skill, valour, and intrepidity in war those countries were recently added to the dominions of Great Britain, are emphatic in their entreaties for the spread of the Gospel among those whom they have subdued—a fact as remarkable as it is unexampled and without precedent. It shows the strength of their own convictions, that "the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God," will do more to keep these hitherto-turbulent countries in peaceable submission, and in the line of duty, and affection, and progress towards good, than any weapons of ordinary and earthly warfare; and that a nobler and more enduring victory may yet be gained than valour and arms have ever won, by the conversion of the Natives to the faith of Christ through the instrumentality of Missionary labour.

Nor should we fail to notice in an especial manner the mighty change effected by the Society's Missionaries in New Zealand, where appalling cruelties, and an inveterate and deplorable superstition, have given way before the preaching of the Gospel. Christianity there seems likely to retain its hold over the native mind, and to extend its conquests, so that hereafter, at no distant day, that same country may become the seat of civilization, and the dispenser of truth, to other lands around. Of Ceylon, of British Guiana, of the North-American Missions, and of some others, the time would fail me to speak, and their circumstances are generally known. In all these countries the ground was unoccupied and barren, the very wilderness of sin and Satan, loudly calling for culture and care. The good seed already sown appears to promise a plentiful harvest, which is no slight indication of the guiding and approving hand of God over the Society's operations.

Your Society now numbers one hundred and four Stations, one hundred and forty-seven ordained Clergymen, twenty-seven Lay Catechists, and many times more Native Teachers and fellow-helpers. The baptisms in the past year were 5554. There are between thirty and forty thousand children in Mission Schools, and Congregations of Christian worshippers numbering one hundred and seven thousand; of whom above thirteen thousand five hundred are Communicants, showing a considerable increase within the year, and most of them giving hope and promise of stability and permanence in the faith.

As at the first promulgation of the Gospel the Septuagint version of the Old Testament was of immense importance to its propagation, so likewise from the translation of the New Testament into many native languages, effected by the labours of pious and learned men, has arisen one great advantage unknown to the earlier history of the Society. These translations, together with the Churches which have been built, and the Seminaries for training native youths to be Catechists and Schoolmasters, afford fresh and encouraging facilities which cannot be too highly appreciated.

Let it not be deemed unsuitable to the sacredness of this place, on this occasion, to state, in few words, the financial condition of the Society. Its total income for the past year has been 104,273*l.*, exhibiting an excess of 3269*l.* over that of the previous year; but the excess has arisen chiefly from the department of Legacies. The real income received at home is 662*l.* below the preceding year; and in the most important branch of income, Contributions from Associations, there has been a falling off to the extent of 1642*l.*—attributable, perhaps, to the extra efforts made in the Jubilee year, and to the general depression so much complained of.

Nevertheless, there is abundant cause why we should "take courage" and persevere in the course hitherto so highly blessed. To bear part, however humbly, in such labours, has in itself an obvious tendency to open and enlarge the heart and to ennoble the mind, by carrying it, as it were, out of and beyond ourselves into those dismal regions which are "fast bound in the misery and iron" of idolatry and debasing servitude. In the effect of such labours you behold, and rejoice in, the partial accomplishment of the sure promises of God. In the progress which your Society has made you feel persuaded that this is God's doing; and that, as the silver and the gold are His, so the will to devote them to His service cometh also from Him. This reflection should abate and lay low every self-exalting thought, humbling us for the tardiness and inadequacy of our help, while leading us to praise the Lord for the good already effected, and to trust that, in His own time, and in His own way, He will bring His word and holy promise to pass, when "the wilderness shall become a fruitful field."

This solemn Meeting will not have been in vain, if, in love and thankfulness, we are stirred up to a more lively and Christian compassion for the perishing millions of the heathen world; and if, acting on the principle of one renowned in the annals of ancient Rome, a principle worthy of our higher and holier cause, we deem nothing done whilst aught remains to be done, till the whole world, that "world which lieth in wickedness," that "world for which Christ died," shall be brought to the saving knowledge of His truth. That we may be awakened and assisted for this work, we should be fervent in prayer for the outpouring of "that Spirit, without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy;" without whose agency and co-operation we are trusting only to "an arm of flesh." We must indeed, as He does, employ the active instrumentality of man, but this must be in a submissive dependence on the Spirit of all grace and goodness, as the sole foundation of success, and the only earnest of final victory, in our efforts to evangelize the heathen world.

True it is that we have no miraculous powers at command. They have long ceased. For when Christianity was once duly and sufficiently attested, they were no longer needed. It has seemed to be the order of the Divine procedure to commit the further spreading of the truth to ordinary means. It is therefore for us, in the age where His good providence has placed us, to be found faithful; as in all other parts of His requirements, so in the diligent, unsparing, believing use of the means committed to our charge. Thus we should employ all practicable caution, and send forth to minister only men of capacity, rightly disposed for the task, self-denying and devoted, of firm confidence in the faithfulness of God, and animated by a just sense of the grandeur and sacredness of the work to be accomplished. They should partake of that patient humility, of that trust and hopefulness, and of that Apostolic spirit, which St. Paul ever displayed, with much of "the wisdom which cometh from above." It should be a subject of prayer to "the Lord of the harvest" that such labourers may be multiplied, and speedily "sent into His harvest;" and also that the dew of His blessing may continually rest upon them and on those already engaged in His service. The knowledge of this your sympathy will yield them "strong consolation" when severed by thousands of intervening miles from the Society's friends and administrators at home, and softly cheer them in their dark and trying hours of despondency, weariness, and solitude.

Towards the fulfilment of our Saviour's command in the text every Christian may do something, by his wealth, or by his personal service, or his influence. "If there be first a willing mind, it is accepted of God according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not." Give then of your wealth to Him "who gave the power to get wealth." And let all assist with their prayers. "The fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." This is the only force to which Omnipotence ever bows; and, if offered in sincerity, it is sure to draw down His blessing. By such agency has your Society, with its limited and comparatively feeble means, effected the good already attained, which is indeed such matter for praise and thanksgiving, that we may well say, "This is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes." Therefore, "not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto Thy name be the glory, for Thy mercy and truth's sake."

With such a boundless field of labour as the Society has yet before it, in the East and West, in the North and South, and in the far-off isles of the sea, we should each make some sacrifice, and offer willingly of our substance; remembering our duty and responsibilities as individuals, and esteeming it the great glory and blessedness of our Church to realize its true character as a Missionary Church, the special instrument of God's highest purpose in making known over the earth's wide surface "the unsearchable riches of Christ." This is no new design, no novel experiment now heard of for the first time. It is as old as Christianity itself, and was zealously acted on from its first promulgation. Else, where should we have been now? Let it not be said, then, that we are indifferent or lukewarm, when, with our yearly accumulating wealth and more extended empire, heavier and proportionate obligations are laid upon us. Let the wants of the world, and the judgments of God which are abroad in the earth, and the millions of heathen souls which year by year are passing away into eternity, in ignorance of God and of the redemption which is in Christ Jesus, be our inspiring motive, and fill us with holy resolution to concur with the good providence of "God, who willeth all men to be saved, and to come to the knowledge of the truth;" that by our united prayers and offerings and efforts of Christian charity, in our several stations, this year may be distinguished in the Society's annals for the interest awakened, and the impulse given, to its blessed work in the cause of Christian Missions. Its correcting and civilizing influence has been felt over many distant lands, in having called forth that spirit of inquiry which seems to forebode the dissolution of some of the ancient systems of deep-rooted superstition, as of old Dagon fell before the Ark of God. And it should be our encouragement, our hope, and our trust, as it may be our comfort and rejoicing in the hours of latest consciousness on earth, that we have borne our part—though, even in its best extent, below the desire and aspiration of our hearts—our small part and share in giving effect to the command of the text, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature."

In bringing these too-lengthened observations to a close, I can say with all sincerity that I have felt oppressed by the weight and importance of the duty this night assigned to me. Under the consciousness of my own insufficiency, I could have wished that the task had been entrusted to some one or other of those now before me, whose better acquaintance with the origin and progress, the present state and future prospects of the Society, and with the history of all its past transactions, to say nothing of other and stronger reasons, would have enabled them to enter into more minute and interesting details, and so to enforce with more practical effect and success the object and design of our Meeting. But having, at the request of those who are officially concerned, consented to undertake what in other hands would have been more satisfactorily and more ably executed, I have, with all plainness of speech, and with the aid and free use of your Reports and papers, given utterance to some of the thoughts which arose in my mind from the simple, yet solemn command of the text.

Suffer me only, in conclusion, to say, that if we are duly sensible of our Christian privilege as members and Ministers of the fairest branch of Christ's Holy, Catholic, Church, we shall be anxious to extend the same to others. If we feel any of that expansive benevolence which the Gospel enjoins and commands, our sympathies will be enlisted in behalf of that immense majority of the human race now suffering under various forms of a polluted and debasing idolatry. And wherever, in the furthest horizon, appears a dark spot unillumined by the cheering and saving light of the Gospel, there will your efforts be used to dispel the cloud that overhangs the people, by the communication of Christian truth in the spirit of Christian love; and according to that Protestant model which alone, consistently and with a clear conscience, we can venture to propose, or adopt, or assist. Thus shall we show, not only the unspeakable value we put on the advantages which Divine goodness allows us to enjoy, but also our gratitude to the Giver by our readiness to dispense the same among those who have them not. And if, through inadequate means or other causes, your Society's progress has not been all that sanguine friends could wish, enough has been accomplished to encourage hope and to inspire confidence for the future.

As at first, amid surrounding chaos, dwelling in the plenitude of His own uncreated and essential greatness, Jehovah said, "Let there be light, and there was light;" so in the moral, no less than in the natural world, when He has commissioned His accredited servants to "go and teach all nations," making them His instruments for conveying the light of His truth to such as "sit in darkness and in the shadow of death," He will doubtless, in His own good season, bring out that perfect day, of which we have hitherto seen but the first, and faint, and early dawn; and through their appointed labours He will cause "the light to break forth as the morning," when "the Gentiles shall come to that light, and kings to the brightness of its rising," and "all the kingdoms of the world shall then become the kingdoms of our God and of His Christ." Amen.

REPORT,

&c. &c.

THE Committee present their Report on this Anniversary with more than ordinary anxiety: for when the minds of men are agitated by questions of an anxious and stirring kind at home, there must be danger lest their interest in Foreign Missions should decline, and the zeal which would otherwise have been directed to the evangelization of the world be turned aside; and so the great work be checked for want of means, just at the time when our past labours and prayers are on the point of receiving their full reward.

Earnestly, therefore, would the Committee entreat their friends to pause for a brief interval, and to take a calm survey, amidst the nations of the earth, of the great and blessed work which the Church of England is carrying forward, through the instrumentality of this Society.

STATE OF THE FINANCES.

INCOME.

The Income of the Society, for the year ending March 31, 1850, arranged under the usual heads, has been—

I. GENERAL FUND — Associations, Benefactions, Legacies, &c.	92,259	2	2
II. SPECIAL FUNDS—
Disabled Missionaries', &c., and Missionaries' Children's Home	1114 16 8
China-Mission	1026 12 1
	2141	8	9
	94,400	10	11
III. LOCAL FUNDS, raised and expended in the Missions,	9872	15	11
	£104,273	6	10

This statement exhibits an increase over the gross income of last year of 3269*l.* 18*s.* 5*d.* But as the excess in Legacies amounts to 3085*l.*, and there has been an increase of interest on funded property, and of the Local Funds, the account exhibits an actual decrease, in the contributions of the public of the United Kingdom, to the amount of 662*l.* 4*s.* 8*d.*

In the remittances from Associations, which comprise more than four-fifths of our usual home income, there has been the serious deficiency of 1642*l.* 18*s.* 8*d.*

EXPENDITURE.

The Expenditure of the Society has been so far below the Income, that the Committee have, on the urgent advice of the Finance Committee, carried the amount of the Legacies—7724*l.* 18*s.* 3*d.*—to the Capital Fund.

The expenditure on account of Disabled Missionaries, &c., exceeds the special contributions to the Fund by 3739*l.* 10*s.* 1*d.*, which excess has been taken from the General Fund.

The expenditure on account of the China Mission has exceeded the receipts by the sum of 1755*l.* 7*s.* 7*d.*, which has been taken out of the capital of the China-Mission Fund.

By these arrangements the expenditure of the year is brought within the income of the year.

THE JUBILEE FUND.

The sum announced at the last Anniversary as received on account of the Jubilee Fund was 53,127*l.* 10*s.* During the past year there has been an addition of 3694*l.*, making a total of 56,822*l.* 3*s.* 7*d.

The Committee, in conformity with the scheme of appropriation sanctioned by the last Anniversary Meeting, have assigned

To the Fund for Disabled Missionaries, &c.	£20,000
To the Endowment of Native-Christian Churches ..	10,000
To the Erection of Missionary Buildings	13,900

The remainder of the Fund is reserved with a view—first, to the further erection of Missionary Buildings in the Missions, as the wants of the several Stations shall be more fully ascertained by the returns to the grants already assigned; and secondly, to the purchase or erection of a Missionaries' Children's Home.

The Committee have thought it best to defer the providing of a permanent building for the Children's Home until they shall have ascertained, by the experience of one or two years, the amount of accommodation which may be required, and other particulars connected with the design. They have therefore engaged three contiguous houses in Milner Square, Islington, which will afford accommodation for forty children; and they have engaged the very valuable services of the Rev. S. Hope Unwin, M.A., and Mrs. Unwin, to superintend and manage the large family which will be collected together in "THE HOME." The Institution has been commenced with fifteen pupils, and other applications are before the Committee which will speedily fill up the number which can be accommodated in the present buildings.

The opening of the Home took place on the 7th of March. A special Meeting of the Committee was held on that day in the building, the Right Hon. the President in the Chair, when an appropriate address was delivered by the Rev. W. Jowett, M.A., who is now the oldest surviving Missionary of the Society, and the design was commended in prayer to the blessing of Almighty God.*

DECEASE OF MISSIONARIES.

The following individuals have been called from their labours to their eternal reward during the year—

West-Africa Mission—The Rev. Neils Christian Haastrup died at Kissey on the 24th of August, of fever, after a few days' illness.

East-Africa Mission—Mr. Wagner, a mechanic, died at New Rabbai on the 1st of August, of fever.

Calcutta and North-India Mission—The Rev. Charles Theophilus Krauss died at Hooghly on the 14th of October, of fever, while on his way to Calcutta with his family, partly on account of health, and partly to attend the Half-yearly Meeting of the Society's Missionaries of the Bengal District.

Ceylon Mission—Mrs. Pargiter, wife of the Rev. R. Pargiter, died at Chundicully on the 31st of March, six days after giving birth to a daughter.

RETURN HOME OF MISSIONARIES.

West-Africa Mission—The Rev. F. Bultmann and Mrs. Bultmann left Sierra Leone on the 2d of May, on a visit to Europe; and arrived at Cork on the 9th of July. The Rev. C. F. Ehemann and Mrs. Ehemann, the Rev. D. H. Schmid and Mrs. Schmid, left Sierra Leone on the 21st of February, on a visit home; and arrived at Falmouth on the 16th of April. They were accompanied by Mrs. Haastrup, widow of the late Rev. N. C. Haastrup.

Calcutta and North-India Mission—The Rev. P. L. Sandberg and Mrs. Sandberg left Calcutta on the 21st of January 1849, in consequence of the ill health of Mrs. Sandberg; and arrived at Portsmouth on the 15th of May. They were accompanied by Mrs. Mengé, wife of the Rev. J. P. Mengé, whose state of health rendered it necessary for her to leave India. The Rev. C. T. Hœrnle and Mrs. Hœrnle left Calcutta on the 21st of February, on a visit home; and arrived in London on the 21st of June. Mrs. Krauss, widow of the late Rev. C. T. Krauss, left Calcutta on the 25th of December; and arrived in England on the 8th of April.

Ceylon Mission — The Rev. J. T. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston, and the Rev. F. W. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, left Colombo on the 24th of February 1849, in consequence of the ill health of Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Taylor; and arrived at Gravesend on the 22d of June. The Rev. H. Collins left Colombo in April 1849; and arrived at Southampton on the 29th of May.

New-Zealand Mission — The Rev. W. C. Dudley left Auckland on the 14th of July, on account of ill health; and arrived at Portsmouth on the 24th of November.

DEPARTURE OF MISSIONARIES.

The following additions have been made to the Labourers abroad—

West-Africa Mission — The Rev. N. Denton and Mrs. Denton left Gravesend on the 14th of October for Sierra Leone, on their return to the Mission; and arrived there on the 24th of November. The Rev. Thomas Maxwell and the Rev. George Nicol, African Students from the Institution, left Gravesend on the 3d of November for the same place, on their return to the Mission; and arrived there on the 27th of December.

Abbeokuta Mission—The Rev. C. A. Gollmer and Mrs. Gollmer, and the Rev. H. Townsend and Mrs. Townsend, left Plymouth for Badagry on the 9th of January, on their return to the Mission. They were accompanied by Mr. Eugene Van Cooten, Surgeon, Student from the Institution, Mrs. Van Cooten, and Mr. Huber, a German mechanic.

Bombay and Western-India Mission—The Rev. William Salter Price, Student from the Institution, and Mrs. Price, left Portsmouth on the 26th of July for Bombay; and arrived there on the 9th of December. The Rev. George Candy, having been appointed Secretary of the Corresponding Committee at Bombay, left Southampton on the 27th of February for that Presidency.

Calcutta and North-India Mission—The Rev. W. Smith and Mrs. Smith, with their family, embarked at Portsmouth on the 13th of August for Calcutta, on their return to Benares; and arrived at Calcutta on the 31st of December.

Madras and South-India Mission — The Rev. George

English and the Rev. Thomas Foulkes, Students from the Institution, Mrs. English, Mrs. Foulkes, and Miss M. J. Hobbs, embarked at Portsmouth on the 18th of June for Madras; and arrived at Madras on the 20th of September. Miss Newman left England on the 20th of August for Madras, to join Miss Hobbs in the Normal School; and arrived at Madras on the 28th of December. Mr. Thomas Knight Nicholson, Student from the Institution, left Portsmouth on the 30th of January for Madras.

Ceylon Mission—The Rev. Robert Bren and the Rev. George Parsons, Students from the Institution, with Mrs. Bren and Mrs. Parsons, left Gravesend on the 17th of June for Colombo; and arrived there on the 4th of November. The Rev. George Pettitt, one of the Society's Missionaries from Tinnevelly, having been appointed Secretary of the Ceylon Mission, left Southampton on the 20th of March for Colombo.

China Mission—The Rev. Frederick Foster Gough, B.A. St. John's College, Cambridge, late Curate of St. Luke's, Birmingham; the Rev. E. T. R. Moncrieff, M.A. Trinity College, Dublin, late Curate of Achurch, Oundle; the Rev. William Welton, B.A. Caius College, Cambridge; and Mr. Robert David Jackson, Student from the Institution, left Portsmouth on the 5th of November for Hong Kong.

New-Zealand Mission.—The Rev. Ralph Barker, Student from the Institution, and the Rev. Thomas Lanfear, from St. Bee's College, with Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Lanfear, left Gravesend on the 19th of July for Auckland; and arrived there on the 26th of November. The Rev. T. S. Grace, from St. Bee's College, and Mrs. Grace, left Gravesend on the 11th of February for Auckland. Mr. Thomas Vidal, appointed Secretary of the New-Zealand Mission, and Mrs. Vidal, left Gravesend on the 26th of March for Auckland.

North-West-America Mission—The Rev. Robert Hunt, Student from the Institution, and Mrs. Hunt, embarked at Gravesend on the 6th of June for York Fort; and arrived there on the 16th of August, and at Red River on the 3d of October.

NUMBER OF MISSIONARY LABOURERS.

Since the last Anniversary, as will be seen from the preceding statements, two Ordained Missionaries, the wife of a Missionary, and one Layman, have been removed by death; nine Clergymen, and the wife of a Clergyman, have left their Stations on a visit home, principally on account of health; twenty-one additional Labourers—fourteen Clergymen, four Laymen, two Female Teachers, and one Mechanic—have been sent out; beside three Clergymen who, in recruited health, have returned to resume their labours abroad, one of them having been transferred from the South-India to the Ceylon Mission; and two Natives of Africa, who, having been admitted to Holy Orders, have returned to labour in their own country.

The number of Clergymen and European Lay Agents, exclusive of the wives of those who are married, at present in connexion with the Society, is 193, viz.

Abroad—
Ordained European Missionaries	124
Ordained Native Missionaries	13
European Catechists, Schoolmasters, and others	45
At Home—
Ordained European Missionaries	10
Total	192

In addition to the above there are 1534 East-Indian, Country-born, and Native Catechists and Teachers in the service of the Society.

ISLINGTON INSTITUTION.

The number of Students resident at the commencement of the year was 22, and during the year 11 have been admitted to residence for examination and probation; but as 7 have left for the Missions, and 7 from the failure of health or other causes, the present number is 19. This number is lower than it has been for many years past; and the Committee earnestly appeal to their friends throughout the country, and especially the Clergy, to seek out, and to recommend to the Committee, suitable Students. They must at the same time take this opportunity of remarking, that the advanced state of the Missions, and the progress made by Native Students abroad in the acquisition of the original languages of Scripture, and in the elements of science, render it essential that Missionaries should be men of good ability, diligence, and aptness to teach, as well as men endued by the Spirit of God with faith, love, and holy zeal for the advancement of the Redeemer's kingdom.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

In the course of the year eight individuals have been admitted to Deacon's Orders in connexion with the Society—five of the Students at Islington by the Bishop of London;

two Catechists in North India by the Bishop of Calcutta; and one Catechist in New Zealand by the Bishop of New Zealand. Two of the Deacons ordained by the Bishop of London, at the general Ordination on Trinity Sunday at St. Paul's Cathedral, were the Native Teachers, the Rev. Messrs. Nicol and Maxwell, from Sierra Leone. His Lordship kindly held a special Ordination at Fulham Church on Michaelmas-day, in order to admit these Native Missionaries to the order of Priest before their return to Africa.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE SOCIETY.

The Periodical Publications of the Society have ever been regarded as a very important branch of its operations. By means of the information which they have furnished, the Missionary spirit in the Church at home has been mainly sustained and enlarged. The Committee have therefore from time to time reviewed the plan upon which the Periodicals are conducted, and have endeavoured to adapt them to the changing circumstances of the work. The Church Missionary Record is a standing history of the proceedings of the Society, given, for the most part, in the words of the Missionaries themselves, in which the events of each Mission are distinctly brought under review at stated intervals. This record is especially intended for those who wish to obtain an intelligent insight into the progress of the Society in each field of labour, as presented in the reality of the work, rather than in scenes of selected and special interest.

But as many recent communications of great interest arrive, which cannot be inserted in the "Record" till after a delay of several months; and as others are of a collateral interest, relating rather to science or geography than to direct Missionary work, and cannot properly find a place in this Publication; the Committee commenced, on the first of May 1849, a new Monthly Publication, called The Church Missionary Intelligencer, the object of which is to furnish a medium for the publication of such interesting communications as have been described. An additional interest will attach to "The Church Missionary Intelligencer" from the fact that, being stamped, a copy is sent every month by Post to each Missionary of the Society in the various parts of the world; thus enabling all the members of the Missionary body to hold communion with each other; so that, if "one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it."

The Church Missionary Gleaner contains a miscellaneous collection of Missionary articles for the middle classes of society; and The Church Missionary Juvenile Instructor supplies the same in a form peculiarly attractive to the rising generation. Both these Periodicals are illustrated. Of the "Gleaner" a new series was commenced on the 1st of April of the present year. Each Number now contains half as much again as a Number of the old series, with two Engravings, but the price has not been increased.

The Committee take this opportunity of urging upon their friends to make known the Publications of the Society, both by promoting their sale, and by procuring the insertion of the intelligence which they contain in provincial newspapers, or other channels of information. It has been universally found, that, in proportion as the Periodical Publications of the Society are read with care and regularity, in that proportion the interest and zeal of our supporters are kindled, and their contributions and prayers are called forth in our behalf.*

* The Committee having recently revised the rules for the gratuitous distribution of the Society's Publications, we here give the substance of them—

One Number of the "Church Missionary Record" is forwarded by the Society to every Clergyman having the management of a Parochial or District Association, or who otherwise promotes the interests of the Society, and to every Collector of 6*d.* per week—or of 26*s.* per annum, made up by weekly, monthly, or quarterly collections—provided application be made for the same by means of the Requisition provided for that purpose. (Any number of this Requisition, and of the new Rules, will be supplied to Secretaries of Associations who may not have received them, on application to the Secretaries, Church Missionary House, Salisbury Square.)

A copy of the Annual Sermon and Report, with the List of Contributors, &c., is issued to all Collectors of 2*s.* and upward per week, in addition to the "Church Missionary Record."

The "Church Missionary Paper" is forwarded to all Collectors, for distribution among their Contributors of 1*d.* and upward per week. These also must be applied for in the Requisition.

A copy of the Annual Sermon and Report, with the List of Contributors, &c., is issued to every Subscriber of One Guinea and upward per annum—if Clergymen, of Half-a-guinea—and to Benefactors of Ten Guineas and upward. Benefactors of smaller amounts (not less than One Guinea) are entitled to the above for the year in which their Benefactions may be made.

A Copy of the Annual Sermon, and an Abstract of the Report, is issued to every Subscriber of Half-a-guinea per annum.

Persons entitled to the Gratuitous issue of Publications, according to the preceding Rules.

THE "CHURCH MISSIONARY RECORD."

Clergymen having the management of Parochial or District Associations, or otherwise promoting the interests of the Society.

Collectors of 6*d.* and upward per week.

If the Collection amount to 2*s.* per week, a copy of the Annual Sermon and Report is given, in addition to the "Record."

THE "CHURCH MISSIONARY PAPER" (QUARTERLY.)

Collectors, for the use of Subscribers of 1*d.* per week.

THE ANNUAL SERMON AND REPORT.

Clergymen subscribing Half-a-guinea per annum, and Lay Subscribers of One Guinea and upward per annum—during the continuance of such Subscription.

PATRONAGE.

During the year four of the Vice-Presidents of the Society have been removed by death—namely, the Bishops of Llandaff and Norwich, and the Deans of Leighlin and Bristol.

The Bishops of Victoria, Rupert's Land, Madras, Llandaff, and Norwich, being members of the Society, have accepted the office of Vice-President.

SECRETARYSHIP.

The Committee having this year introduced important changes into the publications of the Society, by which a considerable pecuniary saving will be effected, the Rev. Joseph Ridgeway, who has acted as Assistant Secretary, will henceforward confine his labours to the editorial department. The Committee have therefore engaged the Rev. W. Knight, jun., who has been a zealous and efficient Secretary of the Bristol Association, to undertake the office of Assistant Secretary.

DECEASE OF THE REV. EDWARD BICKERSTETH.

The Committee have the melancholy task of recording their high esteem and affection for the memory of the late Edward Bickersteth, who for 15 years was a Secretary of the Society; and continued to the last to render to its cause the most important services, especially at the season of the Jubilee. The Committee regard the removal of such a man as a call upon all the members of the Society for special prayer, that the Lord may pour out His Holy Spirit upon the Church, and raise up many men to supply his place—men of faith and love, of simplicity and godly sincerity, and of effectual fervent prayer; men who will not only advocate the claims of Religious Societies with ability, but who also Benefactors of Ten Guineas and upward, for life.

Benefactors of One Guinea and upward, for the year in which their Benefaction may be made.

THE ANNUAL SERMON, AND ABSTRACT OF THE REPORT.

Subscribers of Half-a-guinea per annum.

The above Publications can also be purchased of Messrs. Seeley, Fleet Street, and Hanover Street, Hanover Square. We give the prices below, together with the prices of those which are issued for sale only.

The "Church Missionary Intelligencer"—5*d*. unstamped, 6*d*. stamped.

The "Church Missionary Record"—2*d*. (instead of 3*d*. as heretofore).

The "Church Missionary Gleaner"—1*d*.

The "Church Missionary Juvenile Instructor"—$\frac{1}{2}$d.

The "Church Missionary (Quarterly) Paper"—2*s*. 6*d*. per 100 (instead of 3*s*. 6*d*. as heretofore).

The Annual Sermon and Report—2*s*.

The Annual Sermon and Abstract of the Report—1*s*.

A variety of smaller Publications, Missionary Maps, &c., are issued from the Church Missionary House, Salisbury Square.

will carry with them, as he did, into the bosom of society, and in their Missionary journeys and social meetings, a holy savour of the spiritual principles, on the maintenance of which depends all hope of the blessing and presence of the Lord with human instrumentality.*

MISSIONS.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived in 1804.)

Mission Establishment:

14 Ordained European Missionaries.	2 European Female Teachers.
3 Ordained Native Missionaries.	7 Native Catechists.
2 European Catechists.	46 Native Teachers and Schoolmasters.
1 European Surgeon.	3 Native Schoolmistresses.

General Review of the Society's Labours.

The labours of the Society in the Colony of Sierra Leone have not only been directed to the instruction and pastoral oversight of the Africans who inhabit the Colony, but also to the evangelization of the heathen tribes of Western Africa; that from Sierra Leone, as a centre, the light of Christianity may issue forth to illuminate and bless distant kingdoms. In conformity with this view, the annual retrospect of the Mission may be presented under three distinct aspects.

I. Pastoral Mission-work within the Colony.
II. Preparatory measures within the Colony for the extension of Mission-work into the interior of Africa.
III. Missionary efforts for extending Christianity into the interior.

I. PASTORAL MISSION-WORK WITHIN THE COLONY.

Occupation of Wilberforce, and Russell and Tumbo.

The increase of Labourers, and especially of the Native Teachers, has enabled the Society to extend its operations to various villages and hamlets of the Colony hitherto left destitute. One whole parish, of which Wilberforce is the chief village, had been long unoccupied by the Society, till it was determined, in the Jubilee year, to appoint a Missionary to its pastoral charge. Accordingly, the Rev. Henry Rhodes, upon his return to Africa at the close of 1848, renewed his Missionary labours amidst the neglected population of that parish. A Sunday-school was commenced in a native house, and a Native Catechist resided at Wilberforce. At the end of the first quarter a Day-school was opened, and the foundation of a spacious School-house laid; and measures are also in progress for the erection of a Mission-house and Church.

* A Minute adopted by the Committee on Mr. Bickersteth's decease is given as an Appendix to this Report.

The occupation of Wilberforce has brought under the notice of the Missionary, and within the sphere of his exertions, many neglected hamlets, containing several hundred Heathen in each, which will soon, it is hoped, become Out-stations to Wilberforce.

The importance of this Station is well described by the Native Catechist stationed there under Mr. Rhodes' superintendence. In a private Letter to a friend in England he writes—

I bless God I still enjoy a sense of His favour, which stimulates me to double my diligence, not only that I may not lose what I have already attained, but that I may increase in the knowledge and love of God, as well as love to my fellow-creatures. As you wished to know how the people received us here, I will tell you. Wilberforce, though one of the oldest villages in the Colony, is far behind any of the other villages in a moral and spiritual point of view. It contains a population of 1349 inhabitants, of whom the greater part are deeply sunk in ignorance, superstition, idolatry, and in the wickedness of Pagan nations. Surely this is a field needing our labour as much as Badagry. But we have the Word of God, that, when the Spirit shall descend upon us from on high, the "dry bones" around us will live, and there will then appear "an exceeding great army." Our Place of Worship was opened on the 28th of October, and Mr. Rhodes preached, from Ecclesiastes v. 1, 2, to a crowded Congregation. Blessed be God! by the exertions of my Superintendant, and his humble servant, we are now seeing some fruit of our unprofitable labours. The Sunday-school is steadily increasing, and here is a field before me, especially a field amongst my own sable brethren. I shall not promise great things, nor raise high expectations; but shall throw myself into the work, not in public alone, but in their own houses, in order that the idolaters, with the multifarious idols in this village, may fall before the Gospel, as Dagon fell before the ark.

The same extension of Missionary pastoral care over neglected parts of the Colony has been happily effected in other directions, as in the case of Russell and Tumbo, upon the south-east confines of the Colony. Here Mr. Young has taken up his residence in the humble accommodations of a native house, and is bringing his rude neighbours into an observance of the decencies of a civilized and Christian life, while he makes occasional excursions among the wild inhabitants of the wood, the heathen Sherbros, who live beyond the boundary.

By these measures the number of converts from heathenism has been considerably increased; and notwithstanding the constant accession of Heathen and Mahomedan Natives, liberated from the captured slave ships, Christianity not only maintains its ground but makes a manifest progress.

Erection of a New Church in Freetown.

Three years ago a new Church was projected on the west side of the town, to hold 1000 worshippers. The plans were drawn, and the work commenced, under the zealous and able superintendence of the Rev. James Beale, who, before entering into the ministry, had been engaged in secular employments of a similar kind; and now, in the absence of all such available aid in the Colony, without relaxing, it may almost be said, his spiritual labours, being blessed by God with an unusual degree of health, has carried to completion this great and important undertaking. Various discouragements were surmounted, which would have defeated the efforts of an ordinary faith and zeal; for he had not only to contend against the professional difficulties of such a work, but he was also straitened for want of funds, through the crippled state of the Society's resources. Under these circumstances, he was often encouraged by the interest manifested by the people in the work. One such case the Committee cannot omit to record. Mr. Beale writes—

I wished my carpenters to make the roof of the Church for a certain amount of money. They considered it well, and at length came to the decision that it could not be done for that amount. One of them came forward, in a very humble manner, and said that they were very sorry to differ in opinion from me, but for that sum they could not take the work, but would all give to the Society one week of gratuitous labour.

Mr. Beale, being anxious to prepare a Congregation for the new Church, commenced a Sunday-school in the lower part of the building before the upper part of the Church was finished. He writes—

July 29, 1849—This day the new Church bell sounded for the first time the well-known call for the Sabbath-school. I had anticipated a goodly number being present, but when we reached the door we found the spacious rooms crowded to excess, so that we could hardly get to the table. I had with me nearly the whole of the students of the Grammar-school, fifty in number, beside ten girls living with us; but was still obliged to summon some of my former scholars of Kissey Road to assist in teaching the prodigious numbers assembled.

When we had sung a hymn, and bowed our knees, I must say that inexpressible feelings of gratitude filled my heart, whilst for the first time we dedicated the place to the service of God. Six or seven hundred adults must have been present, and many more could not gain admittance. Thus commenced our great work in the west of Freetown. May a gracious God watch over and direct the work to be done in this place, for the glory of His name and the good of souls!

The next step was the commencement of a Day-school in the rooms under the Church, which in a few weeks numbered 200 children, all paying one penny per week.

Mr. Beale thus describes the opening of the Church for Divine Service—

Wednesday, Oct. 10, 1849—I have this day to record the memorable event of the opening of our new Church in the west of Freetown—an event fraught with important results to this Colony, and, it may be, Africa in general. It is situated in the midst of a densely-populated district, over which, in many parts, idolatry is rampant. Beside, the roads, four in number, meet at that point, and are the best in the Colony, so that it is very easy of access to every part of the town. At seven o'clock our people from Kissey Road met for special prayer, when many fervent petitions were presented before God, entreating Him to take possession of the house which had been built for His name. In thanksgiving, one man made use of this expression with great fervour—"We thank Thee, O God, that Thou hast put it into the hearts of others to build us such a house"—with an humbling view of their own unworthiness. At eleven o'clock Divine Service commenced, and the sacred walls resounded with the words of that beautiful hymn—

How did my heart rejoice to hear
My friends devoutly say,
In Zion let us all appear,
And keep the solemn day!

I love her gates, I love the road:
The Church, adorn'd with grace,
Stands like a palace built for God,
To show His milder face.

The Congregation was large and respectable, most of the influential men of Freetown being present. Mr. Koelle preached an excellent and very appropriate sermon from Rom. i. 16; at the close of which the largest collection was made I have ever witnessed in the Colony, viz. 23*l.* 7*s.* Multitudes rejoiced to see this day, and heaped blessings upon the Society, and myself, its unworthy agent. I cannot describe my feelings at thus being permitted to bring this my desired but arduous work to a consummation; especially that now I should be able to take part in the opening Service, after my arduous duties and exposure during the last four years in the erection of this Church, and the new Institution at Fourah Bay. I cannot but record the goodness of the Lord in watching over us, so that no life has been lost. Several of the workmen have fallen from considerable heights—two, more than forty feet—but almost without hurt. There have been many hair-breadth escapes: stones and timbers have fallen again and again into the midst of the workmen from the top of the buildings, enough to have crushed many to pieces. I, too, have more than once been all but precipitated from the top, whilst the sun once so overpowered me as almost to deprive me of sight, and certainly endangered my life. May that Providence which has watched over us in building still have His watchful eye upon us for good, that these buildings may prove the means of life to thousands in Africa!

Oct. 14, 1849: Lord's-day—Last Lord's-day was our usual Sacrament-day, and I met the Communicants in the Sacrament Class for that purpose on Saturday evening; but it was suggested to me to put it off until to-day, and then for all to meet at Pademba Road Church, since it would be the last Sacrament at which all would be present as a body. The suggestion was approved; and to-day we met around the table of our common Lord and Master, and from thence the Church separated—the one part to meet at Kissey Road and the other at Pademba—I trust with an assurance of meeting again in a better world. When I look at this magnificent building, I cannot help reflecting on the Prophet Zechariah's word, "Who hath despised the day of small things?" Ten years ago I made an attempt, within a few lots of the present Church, to do the people good, by opening a Lecture in a cottage, desiring, but scarcely having the smallest hope, that such a Church should be erected. Some of the persons then attending are now intelligent, wealthy, devoted Christians, foremost to assist me in every useful proposition, both by teaching and example. To several of these Members I am very deeply indebted for our present prospect of usefulness in this part of the town, and especially that my subscription-list for the Church now amounts to the handsome sum of 180*l.* 11*s.* 11*d.*

We complete these interesting extracts by one which presents a most important feature in the work.

Oct. 25—I have strongly felt the need of beginning in the right way at Pademba Road, especially to impress on the people the necessity of supporting the Gospel. Beside their usual subscriptions to the Society, I thought they might begin to help by supporting their own Christian Visitor. It was to-day proposed to the infant Church, and I felt truly gratified to find that they with one accord agreed to my proposition. He is to have 1*l.* 5*s.* per month. The person selected by me is a respectable, active, healthy, devoted man, apt to teach, and of long standing in the Mission. He gives up a good business for the work, which he undertakes, I believe, from love to souls. Although all agreed to support a Visitor, there was a difference of opinion as to how the sum should be raised; some proposing that each member should pay a fixed sum monthly, whilst others wished it to be done by voluntary subscriptions as often as needed. The case was referred to me, and I decided for the free-offering of each, according to every man's ability. They agreed to this plan, and immediately subscribed enough for his wages for half-a-year. They are few—only forty members—but very willing to accede to any proposition. Beside the large sums they have subscribed for building the Church, they have taken seats in the Church at 10*s.* and 15*s.* per annum. They have also got from England a beautiful funeral pall, of the value of 15*l.*, with an inscription on the top of the tin box, "The Church Missionary Society's Church, Pademba Road, built by the Rev. J. Beale, November 1847." They have agreed also to light the Church, and several have expressed a desire to get out an organ.

Accession of New Members.

There have been some large accessions to the Church during the past year, by the baptism of adults who had been long under instruction, and who gave good evidence of their sincere and intelligent profession of the faith of Christ. Mr. Beale writes—

June 3, 1849: Trinity Sunday—Yesterday I met the Candidates from Wellington and Allenstown for the last time previous to their baptism; and this morning I baptized them all, forty in number, all males, belonging to ten different tribes. It was a very solemn season. I rejoice to think that forty soldiers have been added to the ranks of the militant Church of Christ, pledging themselves manfully to fight under the banner of the great Captain of our salvation. Fifteen of them are able to read the Bible, and understand the principal doctrines contained therein. The rest are not so far advanced; but they all know what they must do to be saved, and have, I trust, a sincere desire to serve God.

On a subsequent occasion Mr. Beale reports—

July 30—I admitted two intelligent young men to class, making up the third hundred admitted into the Kissey-Road Church since January 1846. Though my time and strength have been severely taxed in carrying on the buildings, and now the Grammar-school, it is an unfeigned cause for gratitude that our Heavenly Father has not suffered His servant to labour in vain. Among the additions to our Zion we number many influential, devoted, and intelligent men, as well as what formerly were many ignorant and stubborn idolaters. "The Lord" certainly "hath done," and is doing, "great things for us, whereof we are glad." To Him be all the praise!

General Progress of the Work.

While the Committee rejoice to receive such cheering accounts of the accession of new converts, they receive with equal satisfaction the report of the ordinary labours of the Missionaries, who are striving, in much patient perseverance, to raise the standard of spiritual religion amongst the converts, and to build them up in their most holy faith. The Rev. J. U. Graf gives the following review of his Station, Hastings, during the last year—

Upon the whole, I can look back upon the year now closing, with reference to this Station, with considerable pleasure. In point of number our Church has made no great progress; for while there have been, from time to time, new applicants as Communicants or Candidates, some, especially of the latter, have either been dismissed for irregularity of conduct, or have left of their own accord.

I can bear a very tolerable testimony to the general good conduct of our members—to their peaceable and teachable disposition, as well as to their willingness to help in every good work. The female part of my people at times have given me some uneasiness by their irregularity and want of docility; but even they have now greatly lessened my anxiety, by establishing a Committee of the oldest matrons of the Church to look over the rest. There are elements of self-management, added to those of self-support, which may hereafter prove useful.

Our Church-Relief Company is also going on favourably. We have relieved, during the year, to the amount of about 30*l.*, and have more than 50*l.* in hand, for which a general or savings' bank would be most acceptable.

But whilst I and my people wish to feel thankful for every token for good, we rest not satisfied as though nothing more were wanting, but desire rather to "go on, even unto perfection," "growing in every good word and work" until we be complete in Christ. Taking this as the standard which we aim at, who would not find abundant, if not overwhelming, cause for deep humiliation before God? Our Church Members may be trained, by rule and discipline, creditably to walk in the ranks of Christ's soldiers, so as to cut a tolerable figure; but to face the enemy's fire in the full use and active exercise of the whole armour of Christ — to have the flame of Divine Grace, not only just burning in their souls and houses, but to be bright burning and shining lights, not hid under the bushel—i.e. to have all the Christian graces in active, purifying exercise, in the daily avocations of life, so as to exercise no doubtful and timid influence upon the great mass of heathenism and ungodliness—this, alas! is not so easy.

This active exercise of strong Christian principles is the more desirable from the somewhat altered state of our population. There is not a great influx of new liberated people mingling with the old inhabitants of our villages: either they are transmigrated to the West Indies, or else made to form new Settlements. From this circumstance we must expect the number of our Communicants and Candidates to increase less rapidly than hitherto. On the other hand, the old inhabitants, who hitherto have joined no Church, appear chiefly composed either of "stale idlers," or determined old sinners long since hardened. Ours is becoming more the state of Christian lands. Conversions will be fewer, and those that take place will have a greater struggle. How well for our people to be deeply "grounded and rooted" in the "truth as it is in Jesus!"

If God give opportunity, grace, and strength, I propose making a Missionary tour into the Susu country next year.

The Missionaries have wisely determined to watch, more vigilantly than ever, against the occasions and temptations which lead to declension from a true Christian spirit. They have set themselves vigorously to oppose practices which have gradually grown up among the people, but which have become occasions of evil—the counterpart, alas! of similar evils in our own Christian land. There have been numerous Clubs or Benefit Societies established among the people, in which the Christians and the Heathen have been accustomed to mingle together, and in which drinking and revelry prevailed. The Missionaries have succeeded in establishing Christian Societies in opposition to these; and though the people have been very reluctant to give up the advantages and pleasures of the mixed Societies, and many have refused, yet others have been rescued from evil communications, and a testimony has been borne, which it is trusted will, in time, produce much good.

Another practice against which they have contended is the assembling of great numbers to keep a wake over the dead body of a friend. The custom sprang up from the Christian practice of a few meeting together to sing hymns for the consolation of the survivors. But though the ceremony begins with hymns, it generally soon degenerates into a drinking party and revelry. Here, again, the Missionaries have exerted themselves with success in opposing so mischievous a practice.

Evidences of the Reality of the Christian Profession of the Converts.

Notwithstanding the indifference to Christian privileges, and the practical neglect of the Gospel, which too often pains the heart of the Missionaries, there are mingled many encouraging tokens that the Lord is present with the people, imparting to them the gifts of His Holy Spirit. A few such cases may be added.

The power of the Gospel to create an entire change in the character of a man was remarkably manifested in one of the Native Converts. The Missionary relates—

Of him it may be truly said, "Old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." When in his country, he was for many years one of a marauding party, who went from place to place, living only on the spoils of war. He was at length taken, and sold as a slave, but recaptured by a British man-of-war. He is a very stout, robust man, and was formerly excessively loquacious, bold, and imperious. His character may be judged of from the following fact. When taken captive, the man who bought him put a basket on his head, as on others he had purchased, and bade them proceed onward to his home. This man refused his load, saying he had never carried a basket in his life, and would not do it now. The man placed it on his head, but he let it fall to the ground. He was then tied, and whipped severely, and ordered to proceed. The basket was again placed upon his head, but it was again allowed to fall. He was again severely beaten, but still refused. His master then took fire, and applied it to his back, until passers-by pitied and begged for him. He still refused, and his master declared he would kill him. His reply was, "Well, I am your money: cut my head off one time, but I will never carry a basket." For this, he said, the man kept him without any thing to eat during the whole of a long journey, placing the load upon others; and shortly after sold him to some slave-traders who came to the town. For years his character just answered to this account of himself. Now he is kind, gentle, and submissive—an example to his countrymen of the renovating power of Divine grace.

A strong confidence in the efficacy of prayer may be noticed as a striking evidence of the reality of their religion. One of the Missionaries being under anxiety respecting the health of his wife, newly arrived from Europe, writes—

I was greatly delighted with the visit of one of my people to-day. He begged me not to be cast down, even in case Mrs. S. should be attacked by the climate-fever. "We," said he, "will stand together in prayer, and the Lord shall show wonders."

After her recovery he writes again—

The people here were much concerned about Mrs. S.'s illness. They not only made daily inquiries after her health, but made her also a special subject of prayer.

Nor was the case of the Pastor's wife alone an incentive to prayer. In the same Journal the following notice occurs—

Several female Communicants came to-day, asking me whether they might not meet among themselves once a-week to sing, to read a part of the Holy Scriptures, and, which was their chief object, to offer up prayers for the sick.

Mr. Beale reports the death of one of his Communicants, who may be said with truth to have continued "instant in prayer" to the last hour of life. Mr. Beale visited him, and asked him of his condition, when the following conversation took place—

"Master, I do not know whether this sickness is unto death or not; but if I die, no fear for me. I shall go to Jesus. No fear, Master, no fear, Master, no fear for me! I don't feel any joy, but I believe." I replied, "I don't fear: I feel thankful for the grace which has been given you." Among other things, I thought I would hint the loss his death would be to his family; but he replied, "That God who took care of me when I came to this country, where I had no father nor mother, will also take care of them."

Mr. Beale adds—

Oct. 11—Yesterday I was informed that Samuel Wilson had been suddenly removed by death. This morning, at eight o'clock, the funeral took place, and was attended by a large number of persons.

His last end was eminently peaceful. One of my members gave me the following account of his last days. The day before he died he seemed somewhat better, talked freely, and in the evening walked out by moonlight, about half a mile, to see the new Church. When there, he expressed to his wife much pleasure at its progress, and told her that that must be the place she must attend: that if God should be pleased to take him away from her, she was never to listen to any body to be drawn aside, but always to worship within its walls. They then returned, and retired to rest. Soon afterward, his wife awoke, and found he was not there. She got up to seek for him, and found him on his knees in the parlour, in prayer to God. At her request he again lay down, but by and by he again rose, and went into the parlour to pray. After he had been there a long time, his wife called him; but he told her to "hush," as he was now engaged with his Maker. So he continued through the night until the break of day, like his blessed Master before His passion. Very early, some friends called to see him, to whom he spoke freely, and thought he was a little better, and quite happy in Jesus. A little time after, he lay down on the sofa, and his wife covered him with a country cloth, and he appeared to fall asleep. In this position his happy spirit took its flight to the realms of bliss, without a struggle.

Thus lived and died a poor African, a monument of God's saving mercy. He was one of those rare spirits who give the labourer in the Lord's vineyard unfeigned pleasure. He was always in his place in the Sunday-school, Church, &c. Though he lived between three and four miles from the Church he was scarcely ever absent, even in the rainy season. His work is done; and while he has left a bright example behind, he himself reaps the fruit of all his toil in that blessed world where affliction, pains, and temptations never come.

The following notice of a sick member of the Church occurs in the Journal of Mr. Davies, at Regent.

Sept. 8, 1849—This afternoon I called to see a sick male Communicant. Poor man! I found him very much changed in appearance, and fear his sickness will terminate in death. However, I was rejoiced to see him so happy in his Lord and Saviour. I asked him if Christ were precious to his soul. He replied, "Sir, He cannot be otherwise. He made friendship with me first, and then, when He showed me His love, I made Him my friend."—I replied, "Yes, we love Him because He first loved us." He then said, "Sir, that is what I mean." He continued, "And oh, what a dear friend is Jesus to me! Sir, I have proved Him, and no can part with Him for all the world, for Jesus is every thing to me." After engaging in prayer with this happy Christian, I left him.

Sept. 15—This afternoon I called to see the sick man again. He is still a great sufferer; but, although in bed, he hastened up to come and bid me welcome. When we were seated, I said, "Well, Sam, sickness is very hard upon you; but tell me, how is your soul?" He replied, "Sir, my poor body have pain too much; but, thank God, Jesus loves me. I tell you, Sir, if Jesus were like man, He had left me plenty of times; but because He is my best friend He stands by me."

The Rev. C. T. Frey records the address which was made by a Christian Visitor, one of a class of Native Agents who receive no special education for their office. The Missionary, while visiting him in his last illness, spoke on one occasion to a Heathen who had come to pay a friendly visit to the sick Convert, and who excused himself on account of the trouble he was in from embracing the Gospel of Christ. The sick man took up the discourse in these words—

"My brother, Master told you a true word. I know you have trouble; but hear what I have to tell you. Look upon me: I am sick, and have much pain. If Jesus was not assisting me, I should not be able to endure it. His grace is strong in our weakness. I bless God that He has brought me to the knowledge of His Son, who has died for us. My friend, you compare [are like] a man coming from farm with a heavy load on your head: on the road a kind friend meets you, and offers to relieve you; but you refuse his assistance, and go on in your own strength, until this fails altogether, and you fall down and hurt yourself. My friend, this behaviour is very foolish. That heavy load is your trouble and your sins. That friend is Jesus, who came to save us. You must put your trouble down at His feet, and humbly beg Him to deliver you. If you will not hear, you will die, and your trouble will never be done."

"I went home," says the Missionary, "very much pleased, and thanked God for the measure of grace He had given to the afflicted man."

One of the Native Catechists, Mr. Thomas King, thus reports the case of a sick Communicant visited by him—

April 7, 1849—I visited him on the 25th of March, and inquired what he thought of his illness—whether he expected to get over it or not. He said, "I do not think I shall get better: only God knows." Though much labouring under debility of body, he exclaimed so heartily, as if intending to bring out his very wish with the words, "O that I might be permitted to remain at the gate of that happy place! that is quite sufficient for me. The happiness of the gate is enough, and more than we can think of. Heaven! oh, what a blessed place! Oh, what a dreadful thing to die without an interest in Jesus! what a fearful and awful thing to be lost!"—"Do you build your hope in Jesus, the true and only foundation?" "To whom have I to look but to Him?"—"Jesus," I said, "promises us, not only a place at the gate, but even seats on His throne, and mansions in His Father's house, provided we are His." The sick man replied, "I am unfit for such room in that holy place: I only ask for a place at the gate."

On another occasion Mr King writes—

Aug. 11—I visited a sick Communicant to-day. Her language bespoke the entire submission and resignation of a Christian. Though poor and sick, she is one of those whom the Lord has made rich in faith, and who shall be heirs of the kingdom which He has gone before to prepare for them that love Him. When I inquired how she was, she replied, "I am still here, waiting for my Master's time. As for me, I wish to be out of this body of sickness and pain, that I may be present with my Saviour: but His own time is the best." "Will you pluck off the fruit from the tree, that has cost you much pains and labour, till it be found quite ripe, and fit for use?" I asked. "So the Lord will not take any of His people away till they are found fully prepared and ripe for glory." After much exhortation to patience and stedfastness, I left her.

Importance of Native Agency.

The fact will not escape the observation of intelligent readers, that some of the foregoing notices relate to Native Teachers, and show them to be well qualified for relieving the European Missionaries of a share, at least, of the pastoral care of the Christian Congregations. The attention of the Committee has been anxiously directed to arrangements by which a Native Ministry may be provided, so that the labours of the Missionaries may be devoted to the extension of Christianity among the Heathen. Some important advance toward this result has been made by the location of steady and experienced Catechists in the villages. A still further advance has been made this year by the admission of two Native Africans, Messrs. Nicol and Maxwell, to Holy Orders by the Bishop of London, who have now returned to Sierra Leone.

The transition, however, from a Missionary establishment to a settled ecclesiastical system requires much careful consideration, and cannot be completed without the appointment of a Bishop for the African Church, a measure which the Committee earnestly hope may not be long delayed. They hopefully anticipate the time when Sierra Leone, with its complete ecclesiastical organization, shall be the starting-point and the head-quarters of an extensive African Mission.

II. PREPARATORY MEASURES, WITHIN THE COLONY, FOR THE EXTENSION OF MISSION WORK.

Education.

The Committee place their Educational Establishments under this head, because they endeavour to shape the education of the Natives with a view to the training up Native Ministers and Missionaries.

Each village has its Day-school, where the children pay one penny a-week for their instruction, which are all conducted by Native Schoolmasters, under the superintendence of the Missionaries; in which the children receive a thoroughly Christian education, and into which the Committee are striving to introduce industrial instruction, especially agricultural. They trust that they shall shortly have more effectual means for introducing this system, as Her Majesty's Government have agreed to transfer to the Society the care of the Boarding-schools of liberated children, containing several hundred pupils. The Society is to supply the instruction, and the Government will pay for the board and clothing of the children, and also give a competent salary to a Lay Agent selected by the Society, who is about to sail for Sierra Leone, with a view to introduce the industrial system into these Boarding-schools.

The Grammar-School.

This Institution affords a superior education to boys who are able to pay for it. The education comprises Latin and Greek, and Mathematics, as well as the usual branches of English learning. Upon the return of the Rev. T. Peyton to England, in March 1849, the School was placed under the superintendence of the Rev. J. Beale, with the assistance of a Native Tutor, Mr. Thomas Macaulay, who had just returned to Sierra Leone after receiving the advantage of eighteen months' instruction in the Institution at Islington, of which he had made a good improvement. Mr. Macaulay having been instructed in this country in navigation, has introduced the study of that science into the Grammar-school.

In taking a review of his labours at the Grammar-school, upon his return to England, Mr. Peyton states—

Four years have elapsed since the commencement of the Grammar-school in 1845, during which period 94 young men and boys have entered. Of these, 43 have left, some of whom had acquired a good education, and 15 of them were able to read the New Testament in the original tongue. The anxiety of the Africans to avail themselves of the opportunities it affords is proved from the fact that it is to a considerable extent a self-supporting Institution. It has, in the four years, supplied the Mission with 8 efficient Native Schoolmasters, and 15 pupils for the Institution. Others, who have finished their education, have been apprenticed to trades in the Colony.

The following testimony has been borne by Mr. Peyton to the aptitude of the African mind for the reception of knowledge—

Twelve years have now elapsed since I first went to Sierra Leone, and during the greater part of that period I have been engaged in the educational department of Missionary labour, both in the ordinary Day-schools and the Institutions above named, and have therefore had opportunities afforded me of testing their mental capabilities. My experience, then, in dealing with the Africans, both youths and adults, leads me to say, without hesitation, that when they are favoured with the same advantages as ourselves, their mental capability and powers of apprehension, when rightly developed, are equal to those of the European. This is particularly observable in boys of from eight years of age to eighteen.

Fourah-Bay Institution.

The new building was opened on the Jubilee Day, Nov. 1, 1848. The number of students was only six at that time, but it was gradually increased during the year, partly from the Grammar-school, and partly by admissions of promising students upon probation; so that, at the close of the first year, Oct. 16, 1849, the number of students amounted to twenty-one. This number includes two who had been for some time employed in the Mission as Catechists and Schoolmasters, and who came into the Institution for a time in order to complete their theological studies.

The Principal reports favourably of the state of the Institution, and of the diligence and progress of the students. Their studies comprise English Grammar and Composition, Greek and Hebrew, Algebra and Mathematics.

In the hall of the Institution public Divine Service is held twice on the Sunday, and once on Thursday evening, and a Sunday-school has also been established.

The Rev. J. Warburton thus speaks of the annual examination of the Institution at the close of the first year—

Oct. 16, 1849—I was present at the examination of the Fourah-Bay students. The examination was of considerable length, embracing the various studies pursued in the Institution, from Hebrew downwards, and was highly creditable to the Principal and the Rev. S. W. Koelle. Mr. Koelle's examination of his Hebrew class was a remarkable event in the history of the Mission. To hear a class of African youths, the immediate descendants of emancipated slaves, reading the Holy Scriptures of the Old Testament in the original language, and evincing their knowledge of that language by answers to minute as well as important questions on its grammatical construction, appeared to me singularly striking, and certainly was not anticipated a few years ago. Some of our friends in England are probably a little mistaken with regard to the "signs of the times," respecting a Native Bishop for Sierra Leone; but assuredly, if Africa is to be enlightened, that period is approaching. May God hasten it in His time! I have spoken so much of the Hebrew class on account of its singularity, for the examination in the other studies, particularly in Greek and Biblical knowledge, was also very interesting.

To this encouraging statement of the progress of these Educational Establishments may be appropriately added the remarks with which the Rev. E. Jones closes one of his Half-yearly Reports—

In conclusion, we are strikingly reminded, by the present aspect of things, of the impotency of man, and our hearts are forced to turn to the Rock that is higher than ourselves. With our machinery complete, we want the breath to come from the four winds and breathe into it life and motion. We want youths endowed with power from on high, who shall willingly offer themselves to the work of the Lord. We want that spirit of fervent, persevering prayer, that shall give the Lord no rest till He come, and rain down righteousness upon us, and make this His pleasant place, the garden of the Lord, where He may be glorified. We want that faith which, firmly believing in the accomplishment of God's prophetic word, shall bear up our fainting spirits amidst the wear and tear of things present, and keep steadily in view the glorious things that are to come, when "all the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the Lord, and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before Thee!" "Lord, lift Thou the light of Thy countenance upon us!" "Prosper Thou our handywork."

Female Education.

The Female School which has been established at Freetown provides a solid English education, on a scriptural basis, for those whose parents are able to pay such sums as will render this Establishment in due time self supporting. It is obviously very important to raise the standard of female education in some degree proportionably with that of the other sex; and the Committee are very thankful that a lady, Miss Julia Sass, accustomed to the higher branches of tuition in this country, has been found willing to devote herself to this service. At the close of the year the number of pupils was 13. Miss Susan Crowther, daughter of the Rev. Samuel Crowther, is associated with Miss Sass as an Assistant in this School. A large female Bible class assemble every Sunday with the pupils to receive religious instruction, so that the Missionary character of the Institution is fully maintained.

Miss S. Hehlen has been very zealously engaged in female education at Kissey; first in conducting a Female Boarding-school, and subsequently a large Infants'-school.

Study of the Native Languages.

The Study of the native languages has been pursued with assiduity by several of the Missionaries of the Society. The Rev. J. U. Graf has translated portions of the Scripture into Susu. The Rev. D. H. Schmid has compiled a Dictionary in English and Timni. Mr. Koelle has pursued his study of Bournu.

III.—MISSIONARY EFFORTS FOR EXTENDING CHRISTIANITY INTO THE INTERIOR.

Communication with the Yoruba Mission.

The connexion between Sierra Leone and the Yoruba Mission has been kept up by the interchange of communications, and by the transmission of funds collected by the Natives in Sierra Leone for the building of Churches in Abbeokuta.

It was mentioned, in a former Report, that one of the principal Chiefs of Abbeokuta had shown so much confidence in the Missionaries as to confide his son to their care, to be educated in Sierra Leone, and to be instructed in mechanical science. This act of confidence has been providentially rewarded in a remarkable manner. The boy heard, by accident, that one of his brothers had been brought into Sierra Leone as a slave, and had been enlisted into a West-Indian regiment. He hastened to the parade, and eagerly sought his brother among the ranks. They recognised each other with a warmth of affection which deeply interested the bystanders. It appeared that the young soldier had been kidnapped soon after his brother's departure, sold to the Portuguese, liberated by the cruisers, and brought into Sierra Leone. An application was immediately made to the commanding-officer to procure the release of the brother, upon the usual terms of a payment of 12*l.* The Natives soon engaged to contribute this sum. The release could not be obtained without the sanction of the Commander-in-Chief, Field-Marshal the Duke of Wellington; but the commanding officer kindly consented to transmit the application to his Grace, and by the very next mail an order was sent out to give the young recruit his discharge without payment, if the Church Missionary Society would agree to receive him into the Grammar-school, and afterward to send him home to his father. The two brothers are now pursuing their studies together in that Institution.

Remarkable Opening to the Vei Tribe.

Another occurrence has connected Sierra Leone with distant tribes, and may involve important results. At the close of 1848, Captain Forbes, of H.M.S. "Bonetta," informed the Missionaries at Sierra Leone, that, near Cape Mount, about five days' sail south-east of Sierra Leone, he had met with individuals of an African tribe which possessed a written language, and that he had brought with him some of their books, and a man who could read them. The man stated that the art of writing had been brought from the interior. This discovery created a lively interest in Sierra Leone, since it had been generally asserted and believed, that, amongst 150 supposed dialects of Africa, not one had yet been raised by the Natives themselves to a written language. In the hope that this discovery might be improved to the furtherance of the Gospel of Christ, Mr. Koelle was immediately deputed by the Local Committee in Sierra Leone to visit the tribe, and to investigate the circumstances connected with the language. He performed this duty with promptness and ability, and at the cost of much personal suffering from privations and illness, being absent for four months. He soon discovered that the art of writing was of very recent invention, and confined to a single tribe, the Vei tribe, on the coast. Nevertheless, the facts discovered possess much interest, though of a more limited extent than at first supposed.

The writing is syllabic. About 200 symbols represent the sounds of all the syllables occurring in the language, which is of simple construction.* Mr. Koelle found the inventor of the language, a man of about forty years of age, of great intelligence, and much religious feeling, who lives about twenty miles in the interior, and, when a child, had for a few weeks learnt the Roman alphabet from an American Missionary. He states, that after he was grown up, about sixteen years ago, he received in a dream the first impulse to express his language by written syllabic symbols. He imparted the dream to a few companions, who assisted him to invent the characters, and to procure, through the favour of the King of the tribe, the means of establishing Schools and of teaching the people generally. War soon broke out, the town was destroyed by fire, and the tribe depressed and dispersed, and they have had no regular Schools since. Nevertheless, Mr. Koelle reports—

> In Bandakoro [the chief town of the tribe] all grown-up people of the male sex are still able to read the country books, and in all other Vei towns there are at least some who can do the same. I have myself witnessed, several times, that they use their writing for correspondence. Books, also, they seem to have had in considerable numbers, but the greatest part of them was lost in the conflagration of Dshondu. Nevertheless, I succeeded in getting some, which will be sent home: their contents are of a mixed kind—family notices, journals, religion. In the religious part the influence of Mahomedanism is evident.

The proximity of the Vei Country to Liberia seemed to indicate the propriety of commending this interesting tribe to the care of Missionaries from that Settlement, rather than attempt to open a new Mission from Sierra Leone; and this course was approved of both by the Local Committee in Sierra Leone and the Parent Committee. But circumstances have since occurred, which seem providentially to bring the Society into connexion with the Vei Tribe, and to open a prospect of making Mr. Koelle's study of the language subservient to Missionary purposes.

* Many of the symbols appear, however, to be superfluous, and are never used in their books. The real number of syllables in the language is not more than 100.

The Vei language is spoken by the natives upon the Gallinas River, in the neighbourhood of Cape Mount. This locality was long a favourite resort of the slave-traders. They had large establishments, and many Europeans were settled in the place. At the close of last year, Capt. Dunlop, of H. M. brig "Alert," succeeded in making a treaty with the Natives, by which the Slave-trade was for ever abolished. The traders themselves became alarmed for their personal safety, through the enmity of the Natives, and were beholden to Capt. Dunlop for their escape from the country. Between 1000 and 2000 slaves were carried to Sierra Leone and liberated there; and the Chiefs of the Gallinas entrusted three of their sons to Capt. Dunlop to convey them to Sierra Leone for education, where they were at once received into the Grammar-school, and are pursuing their studies with diligence. Capt. Dunlop then appealed to the Society to commence a Mission in the country which he had thus cleared of the Slave-trade, and to raise the Natives, by the introduction of Christianity and its attendant blessings, to the level of civilized nations, and to a capacity for supporting themselves by lawful commerce and agriculture.

The Committee have directed the Missionaries in Sierra Leone to send some of their number without delay to the Gallinas, in order to obtain information, and otherwise prepare the way for the opening of a Mission, if it shall ultimately seem advisable to do so. Should this Mission be established, the connexion which has been already formed between the Vei Tribe and Sierra Leone will prove an important step in the arrangements.

Moral Effect of the Operations of the Squadron.

In a late Letter, Mr. Koelle mentions a circumstance which shows the moral reputation which England has gained throughout Africa; and that the operations of the African Squadron, in connexion with Sierra Leone, are exciting the admiration and gratitude of her sons, which cannot fail to give a mighty aid to England's efforts to introduce Christianity and lawful commerce into the darkest recesses of that vast continent.

It appears that two native merchants, from Bournu and Haussa, had arrived at Sierra Leone. On their travels to the Gold Coast "they had heard of a country where White Men liberate, for God's sake, all slaves whom they capture at sea, and where all African nations live together as freemen. Upon this they determined not to return home till they had seen that country." They travelled above a thousand miles, and arrived at Sierra Leone. "And here," writes Mr. Koelle, "they were filled with amazement at what they saw! 'Truly,' they said, 'White People are God's people. If one does not fear White Man, he cannot fear God.' I gave them each an Arabic New Testament, which they promised to take home with them."

Timneh Mission.

The Rev. C. F. Schlenker has continued at his Station at Port Lokkoh; but, the Committee regret to add, with very small encouragement. Political circumstances have deprived the Mission of the patronage of a Chief, which it once seemed to enjoy. The enmity of the Mahomedans, and the evil lives of many traders who have professed Christianity, together with other circumstances, have appeared to wean the interest of the people from the operations of the Mission. The children are taken from School without cause, and the people only assemble to hear the preaching of the Word when their attendance is required by some Chief in his own enclosure.

Under these circumstances, the Missionaries in Sierra Leone have recommended the removal of the Mission into some more promising locality in the interior, and amongst the heathen portion of the Timneh Tribe.

Mr. Schlenker has made progress in the preparation of a Dictionary of the language, and in the translation of portions of the Scriptures; so that it is hoped that another commencement of the Mission may be made in this tribe, which originally possessed the country of Sierra Leone, where the advantages already gained in respect of the language may be turned to account.*

BADAGRY.

The Rev. I. Smith, and Mr. W. Marsh, a Native Catechist, have laboured in this Station during the last year.

Congregation—Boarding and Day-schools.

The attendance at Divine Service on the Lords'-day continues to be scanty, averaging in the Church between fifty and sixty. Occasionally, however, there are indications that the power of the Gospel is beginning to be felt. Some of the Chiefs, especially those who have children in the School, appear more willing to listen to the Missionaries: some of them attend Divine Worship regularly.

The Boarding-school contains thirty boys. One of them has become, by the death of his father, the head Chief of a neighbouring town. There are also thirty Day-scholars. The School is becoming orderly. The Yoruba Primer has been introduced, and the children learn with much spirit.

Influence of the Missionary in a Time of Peril.

The influence acquired by Mr. Smith was manifested upon an occurrence which might have issued in an internal war, had he not been able to mediate. A man who was suspected of treachery having entered Badagry, and being countenanced by a party in the place, the principal War-Chiefs armed themselves and their followers, to expel the supposed traitor. The party who favoured him appealed to Mr. Smith. He knew that they were determined to set fire to the town if they should be attacked. He writes, Aug. 11, 1849—

I at once resolved, with God's assistance, to stand in the gap between the excited and enraged parties; and, taking Marsh for interpreter, I was with Akitoye before eight o'clock, half suffocated by the multitude assembled to wait for the word to act. There were the warriors, and all the principal persons, with the singing-women dancing, and singing exciting war-songs, to inspire them for the battle. I was obliged to be bold, pointed, and determined with Akitoye, before he would give me a promise that his party should not move till I returned from the opposite party. It cost me some trouble before I could get them to view the matter at all calmly; but having gained a point with them, I returned to Akitoye, with whom I was glad to find several of the Chiefs. The people outside were impatient; and several times, before I could tell Akitoye the result of my visit, they shouted for the King's word. I then spoke with Akitoye in his private room, and advised him according to the best of my judgment; and he promised me he would act accordingly. I then spoke to the other Chiefs, and told them I would look to them for the safety of the town. Seeing now all in a train to be quietly settled, I returned home, but not before the hour appointed in the morning for the work of destruction. Shortly after this, by the timely aid of the other Chiefs, the matter was so far settled, that the gong was beaten in the town to prohibit either party exciting the other, as the matter was to be settled in an assembly of the Chiefs, and not by force of arms. I thank God for this result.

Aug. 12, 1849: Lord's-day—A general calm prevailed this morning. All the Chiefs sent to thank me for my efforts yesterday; and beside these officials, came a whole party of females, wives of Okkan and Possu, to thank and bless me for my exertions for the general peace of the town. O that they would feel grateful to God, and see His hand in it!

Baptism of Four Adults.

The baptisms in Badagry have hitherto been chiefly confined to children, or individuals from Sierra Leone; but on the 30th of Sept. 1849 Mr. Smith writes—

I felt thankful this morning to be able to address my people in the Church, and to baptize four adults. I have for some time past carefully observed the deportment of several of our Candidates, with the view of admitting them into the Church by Baptism; and three weeks since, selected the above, 1 male and 3 females. The man, on being asked if he understood the nature of Baptism, replied, "It seems to me like an agreement between God and myself, which binds me to Him and His service as long as I live." One of the women,* on being asked if she intended to give herself up to God fully, replied, "I have done so; and now I pray God rather to let me die than turn again to sin." This woman, as well as the man, has lately mastered the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Ten Commandments, in the native language; and they are both progressing in the Sunday-school. The above are all of the Yoruba nation, and I trust sincere Christians. One woman is an emigrant from Sierra Leone; the other two are "the mother and grandmother" mentioned in my Journal of May 22, 1848.* The man was formerly a worshipper of Ifa; but Ifa, not being able to preserve his abode from fire, was, I am told, left by him to be destroyed. Another, however, rescued the deity, and offered it to the owner; but it was rejected as being worthless, unable to do him any service, and alike unable to take care of itself.

Labours of the Native Catechist.

The Native Catechist, Mr. Marsh, addresses the people on the great truths of Revelation at every opportunity; and on the Lord's-day takes his station under the spreading tree where Mr. Crowther first began to proclaim the Gospel to his countrymen. He is, however, deeply pained by the indifference of the great mass of the people, and by the hostility of the Mahomedans.

Superstitions of the People.

The power of a cruel superstition over the minds of the people often discovers itself. There exists among the Popos, at Badagry, a custom bearing some resemblance to monastic vows. The people are mostly under vows of dedication to some idol; and each order has its peculiar laws, which cannot be violated by themselves or by others with impunity. Under these vows they are often secluded from society for long intervals in idol temples. Mr. Marsh writes, April 17, 1849—

This year, as in years past, there are about 500 young men and women shut up in different idol temples, some for nine, twelve, or fifteen months. When these have come out, as it has been observed, they make much of themselves through life as spiritual beings; and any one who touches their heads, or mistreads on the upper part of their foot, must be fined a great sum of money; and if unable to pay, must be either sold or put to death. There have been instances of fining, selling, and putting to death, since we have been here.

Mr. Smith thus describes the place where the victims of a cruel superstition, through the instrumentality of which the Prince of Darkness reigns over the Popos, are put to death—

Jan. 31, 1849—In crossing from one part of the town to the other, I passed over a parcel of ground literally strewed with human bones of all descriptions, lying bleaching on the sand. It is the sacred spot in front of the Priest's dwelling, where all the unhappy individuals who happen to fall under the condemnation of the god Seso as guilty of witchcraft, are put to death. Their bodies are placed on a scaffold and left to decay, and their bones to lie bleaching thus.

Destruction of Okeodan by the Dahomians.

One fearful occurrence is recorded in the Journals of the Missionaries—the destruction of a native town by the Dahomians—which exhibits the horrors of those internal wars to which the Slave-trade gives the impulse, and which would be undoubtedly multiplied tenfold if an unrestricted Slave-trade were allowed by the withdrawal of the protecting Squadron. Mr. Marsh thus describes the occurrence—

Jan. 7, 1849—We heard that the Dahomians had destroyed Okeodan by surprise. This put the inhabitants of Badagry into consternation, being made sensible by experience of the cruelty and inhumanity of the Dahomians.

Okeodan is a town about thirty miles N.N.E. from Badagry. It is bounded on the north by a river called Yewa, which is bordered all along by a kind of quagmire on both sides. The southern part being solid ground, and fruitful, the better part of the inhabitants cultivated a large portion of it; so much so, that we, the inhabitants of Badagry, were indebted to them for the greater part of our supplies and necessaries. But the other part of the inhabitants lived, like the Popos, by thieving and plundering. The people of Okeodan were said to number above 30,000. At the time of its destruction there were in it numerous people who had come from various parts for the purpose of trading.

The Dahomians, as they generally do, marched by night in parts of the country where no human being could perceive them, skulking and lurking until they reached Okeodan at night. They then blocked up all the passable parts of the town, and early in the morning marched into the town without meeting the least resistance, and fell to kill and capture. Some of the poor people ran madly and fell into the river, and others ran into the quagmire, and were all drowned. A few hardy men only, who could swim, swam over the river and escaped. Dead bodies were so numerous in the river, that its surface in that part was densely covered with them. All the other people fell into the hands of the Dahomians. After this, the Dahomians remained eight days at Okeodan, in order to kill some of their prisoners. They spared neither age nor sex, but killed men, women, and children, and boiled the numerous heads in order the more easily to scour off the skin and take out the brains. All the skulls are given to the King, who is said to reward his vassals more for skulls than for living prisoners. It also procures much honour and esteem for those who kill many persons in war. After they had finished this abominable piece of cruelty, they erected four large scaffolds in the four quarters of the town, and collected the bodies of the dead, and placed them in heaps on the scaffolds, and then kindled fire under each scaffold and broiled all the corpses. They also fenced the town around with bamboo leaves, which is to signify that no one should dwell in the spot for ever.

A few days after this horrible event, a friend invited me to come and hear for myself some circumstances respecting Okeodan, from the mouth of a woman who was one of the female soldiers of the King of Dahomey, and who herself went to that war. She informed me that 10,000 men and 10,000 women soldiers went to the Okeodan war; that she caught four persons; that the King went to the war in person; that the captives led away from Okeodan numbered 19,600; and that a great number of skulls were carried home. She also informed me that the army of the King of Dahomey was divided into two parties; and that the other party went into another part, and also brought home as rich a booty as those who went against Okeodan.

Another person informed me that the King of Dahomey made a present of 600 slaves to Domingo, the slave-dealer, and 200 to the King of Porto Novo.

This painful recital is inserted in the hope that it may call forth the prayers of many Christian hearts, that the Society may be enabled to extend its operations to other native tribes, and convey to them the only effectual remedy for such awful manifestations of human depravity and Satanic influence.

Visit to Porto Novo.

In February 1849 Mr. Smith visited Porto Novo, an important town west of Badagry, upon the river Ossa. The King received him in great state. He sent his chief messenger, bearing a gold-headed staff from the King, to request his attendance. He was conducted through the streets in procession. All the people fell on their knees as they passed, in honour of the King. The King received him with the usual parade of African greatness. In one of his interviews he addressed the Missionary in remarkable language, expressing his disappointment that a Missionary had not been sent to him as well as to Badagry, and stating that he had, in expectation that one might arrive, appointed a site for his residence, and fenced in a parcel of ground. He added, "I have stretched my eyes with looking, till they are broken."

ABBEOKUTA.

The Rev. J. C. Müller, and the Rev. S. Crowther, Native Missionary, have conducted this Mission during the last year. The Rev. D. Hinderer joined it on the 14th of May 1849.

Rapid Growth of the Missionary Work.

The aspect of the Missionary work continues to be most encouraging, and calls for much grateful acknowledgment to God on the part of the Society. While in other fields of labour the progress of the work has been slow, at Abbeokuta it has been characterized by remarkable rapidity of advancement. In August last the Mission completed its third year, and Mr. Crowther thus states the result—

Aug. 3, 1849—This Mission is to-day three years old; and if we look back during that period, we have much cause for thankfulness for the protecting care of our Heavenly Father in the midst of superstitious enemies who would have swallowed us up, or driven us from the field. What has God wrought during this short interval of conflict between light and darkness! At the lowest calculation, we have 500 constant attendants on the Means of Grace, about 80 Communicants, and nearly 200 Candidates for Baptism and the Lord's Supper. A great number of Heathen have ceased worshipping their country gods: others have cast theirs away altogether, and are not far from enlisting themselves as soldiers to serve under the banner of Christ. The Gospel has been preached nearly in all the remote ends of this extensive town. The religion of Christ becomes a topic of conversation and discussion in their war expeditions, in the farms, and in markets remote from this place.

Eagerness of the People to hear the Gospel.

Many evidences are given by the Missionaries of the eagerness of the people to hear the Word of God, of which a few instances may be cited. Mr. Müller writes—

Dec. 25, 1848—Being Christmas-day, the Chiefs Ogubonna and Sagbua sent me each a Christmas present this morning. Divine Service was exceedingly well attended. People from all quarters of Abbeokuta flocked into the House of God, and there was a marked attention perceptible during the whole of the Service. We are at liberty to say that this multitude assembled in God's House, not from mere novelty or curiosity, but from a desire to hear the Gospel preached to them; for novelty or curiosity have pretty much passed away at Abbeokuta. We are personally known to the people all over the town, and are hence no object of curiosity to them any longer. And we have, beside, been witnessing, on two successive Sabbath-days, a similar Congregation at Ake and Igbein. I believe that our Heavenly Father is powerfully drawing myriads of this people to His Son. He is shaking, even now, Abbeokuta's heaven and earth, for He who is the Desire of all nations is come to this people, and the Lord is about to fill this land with glory.

At a later date the same Missionary writes—

May 2, 1849—We had opportunity of preaching the Gospel to a good number of people at Kesi this morning. As we were walking down the Kesi market, toward Ẹmẹre, we saw two Babbalawos blessing the people for money. We stood still for a little time, and I was surprised to see all the people turn away from those false prophets and surround us, with the intention to hear our message. The Devil's priests, thunderstruck on perceiving their influence so rapidly gone, walked off like people who accompany a funeral.

Mr. Hinderer reports—

Aug. 24, 1849—My hearers increased to some hundreds; but such was the division among them at last, that they all stood group by group conversing about this new doctrine; by far the greater part blessing White People for bringing the Word of God to their country; the others cursing us for disturbing their country-people in their most holy worship. At last, when I blessed them, and promised to come again to the same place next week, they shouted their loud Amen.

Evidence of God's blessing with the Word.

Some signal instances are also reported, in which the Word preached is attended with a power and influence upon the hearts of the hearers which prove that the hand of the Lord is with His servants. Mr. Müller relates, Feb. 19, 1849—

While we were preaching Christ at Awga, a young woman took our attention; for she took no notice of what passed around her, but all her attention was fixed upon the subject she heard. She, like Mary, would ponder the Word. The woman responded at last, and put intelligible questions to us. She did not ask, Shall I get children, money, and a long life, by serving Jesus? but, "How must I pray to God? and where am I to do this? What must I do to obtain peace and happiness for my soul?" These questions were satisfactorily answered by my Visitor. "Undoubtedly," said he, "in this woman's heart is the work of grace begun."

On another occasion, when Mr. Hinderer was preaching, a man pushed through the crowd, who appeared, from his eagerness, to be in a state of intoxication. Being charged with it, he denied it, saying he had not drunk a drop of liquor during the day; "but," said he, "the truth is, I came full of wrath and full of questions to put you down with; but since I listened to the Word of God my heart has got soft, and I can no more put those questions." He and the Missionary had then a long but peaceable discourse together, in the presence of the rest of the hearers; and when they shook hands on departing, he said he came with a heart full of wrath, but he could now go home with a soft and peaceable heart.

The Word, which is accompanied with such evident power to the hearts of individuals, also exercises a general and pervading influence upon the people at large. This effect is evident in the countenance given to the Mission by most of the Chiefs, even though they do not themselves embrace the truth; and more especially in the manifest waning of the power of idols and of the ancient superstitions. The people begin to be ashamed of their idolatry, and of the cruel practices connected with it.

There is a certain politico-religious observance called "Oro," which it is death for any woman to witness. Very lately a poor distracted mother, who had suffered the loss of two of her children, torn from her to be sold as slaves, and who apprehended the loss of a third and only remaining child—such are the horrors of this accursed traffic! such the cruel sacrifice of tender affections which accompanies it!—rushed out into the streets in a fit of desperation while "Oro" was passing, and was instantly put to death. "But on this occasion," writes Mr. Crowther, "there was manifested among many in the assembly, great grief of mind. They begin to look upon their heathenish practices with a more enlightened eye. Such feelings were never manifested nor heard of on such an occasion, before the preaching of the Gospel in Abbeokuta." On another occasion, two powerful Chiefs violated some of their superstitious regulations, to the astonishment of the people, upon which Mr. Crowther observes, "We are constantly informed of instances of struggling between light and darkness in the minds of many others." Testimony to the same effect was given by one of the Priests himself, in these remarkable words: "Only eight years ago this town was notorious for cruelty; but now both persons and property are sufficiently safe. We old men understand that a good thing will come from preaching God's Word in this place. Preach! preach! Do not mind what some people say; but exercise patience. God will do His work in time." "So spoke the Babbalawo," writes Mr. Müller, "in a friendly manner. 'We will exercise patience,' we replied; 'but do not ye turn a deaf ear to Him who speaketh unto you from heaven, lest you hear this sentence pronounced upon you: Woe unto thee, Abbeokuta! for if such mighty deeds had been wrought in Tyre and Sidon as are performed in thee, they would have repented: wherefore in the day of judgment it shall be more tolerable for them than for thee.'"

Presents from the Queen of England and Prince Albert.

The arrival of a present of a splendid Bible in English and Arabic, from the Queen of England to the Chiefs of Abbeokuta in return for an offering on their part, and a Letter written at Her Majesty's command by the President of the Society, commending the Mission to their care, and exhorting them to guide their conduct by the rules of that Book, gave an important countenance to the cause of the Mission.

The presentation of the Letter and present from Her Majesty, accompanied also by a steel corn mill from His Royal Highness Prince Albert, was made in an assembly of the Chiefs. Mr. Crowther writes—

> We would not let this fine opportunity pass, without embracing it to impress upon the minds of these old superstitious people that clause in Her Majesty's Letter, that it is not only commerce which makes England prosperous as she is, but the knowledge of God. I proved it to them while holding the splendid Bibles in my hand—the prosperous reigns of Kings David, Jehoshaphat, Hezekiah, Josiah, who feared God, and encouraged their people to do the same; as well as the successful government of Nehemiah, who rebuilt the ruined walls of Jerusalem: whereas those Kings who did not fear God, but worshipped the Devil, and offered human sacrifices, never prospered, because the blessing of God was not upon them.

A fortnight afterward, Ogubonna, one of the influential Chiefs, visited Mr. Crowther, and, after describing the deep impression which that meeting had produced, stated his firm conviction that in six years' time Christianity would become the national faith of Abbeokuta.

Special advantages enjoyed by this Mission.

In the wonderful events which have been now detailed, the Committee recognise the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the labours of the Missionaries. They are not, however, unmindful of some peculiar advantages which the Yoruba Mission has possessed; among which may be mentioned, the important influence which the return of the liberated Africans, presenting themselves as living monuments of the generosity of British Christians, has exercised upon their countrymen. Another special advantage has been that the Gospel is proclaimed at Abbeokuta by enlightened Native Preachers, who had been trained for many years in Sierra Leone before they returned to Yoruba. Mr. Crowther remarks, in reference to this point—

> The advantage of teaching the people through the medium of their own language is manifest. They have learned in twelve months what would have taken newly-liberated Africans three years to learn through the medium of the English language; and even then their perception would not have been so clear as might be wished.

To the hand of the Lord, which first provided these advantages, and then granted a blessing to them, let all the praise be ascribed!

Trials of the Converts.

It may perhaps be asked, how far those among whom the seed is thus springing up "have root in themselves," so as to endure when affliction and persecution arise because of the Word. It has pleased God already to give this proof of a true work of faith. The Converts have been tried—severely tried—in many ways, and they have been strengthened and sustained, and enabled to witness a good confession.

The Christian principles of some among the Converts have been tried by temptations of an ensnaring kind. Those inhabitants of Abbeokuta who subsist by agriculture, carry their produce to the Lagos market, and travel in large bodies for mutual protection against kidnapping parties who infest the road. It became a question with the Converts, how they ought to act when the market-party travelled on Sunday. They applied to Mr. Crowther, who set the case before them, and left the final resolution of the difficulty to their own consciences. The result is thus related—

> They left me, and went away to consider the case for themselves. The interval of seventeen days must pass between one market and another, and a month will pass if they lose one market before they can start: they have, however, determined to make a trial of observing the Lord's-day at any risk, trusting in the Lord rather than violate the Sabbath against their conscience. It is a cheering fact that they have continued to do so amid taunts and scorn from their Heathen companions, which they care not for; and though they were obliged to travel sometimes in a small party on such occasions, while large parties have been repeatedly attacked, killed, kidnapped, and plundered, they have been mercifully preserved by that God in whom they trusted, and whom they honoured.

Another perplexing and insidious trial is thus described by Mr. Crowther—

One among many devices planned against our Converts, in order to draw them back to idolatry, and the most likely to succeed, in the imagination of the Heathen, was, to refuse them their daughters in marriage if they would not offer sacrifices and purchase gods for their intended wives, according to custom. After considering the matter between themselves, all the unmarried Candidates agreed, as one man, never to take any of the young women if they refuse to become Christians. Contrary to the expectations of the parents, Priests, and Chiefs, the young men were the first to ask their intended wives to embrace Christianity, for then they would pull well together; but on the refusal of the young women and the parents, they have prudently declined being unequally yoked together with idolaters, which would be a snare to them, though urged by the parents to marry them, and promised that the worship of the country-fashions would be at their own expense. Persons who have been living in polygamy, and desiring to be baptized, have made their final choice, and dismissed the rest of their wives. There have been four refusals to marry idolatrous women, and six dismissals of overplus of wives in this district, since the last two quarters. These decisive steps taken by our Converts entirely perplex the Heathen: they cannot tell how to account for it. Some wise ones among them would have it that the Missionaries have some magic or medicine, which they administer to those who go to them, by which their hearts are turned against the prevailing lusts of the country, which no law, no fine, could prevent. That magic, if there be any, is the secret operation of the Spirit of God upon the heart, which subdues the old man.

The first attempt at violence was in connexion with the superstition of Oro, when many scenes of cruelty occur. Fierce and bloody threats were uttered, that on this occasion vengeance should be taken upon the Book-people, as the Converts were termed. An exciting song was made for the occasion, in which Oro was termed the lion of the Book-people, and the most violent means were used to terrify the Converts. By the advice of the Missionaries, the male Converts all remained in their homes during the days of the festival, and the time passed over without personal violence, or the defection of a single Convert.

Subsequently, one and another of the Converts was unlawfully seized and put into the stocks—a cruel and sometimes fatal punishment; but upon the application of the Missionaries they were released by the Chiefs. Mr. Crowther relates—

A man in my Church was next to be tried. When the messengers came to seize him, they offered him a razor, either to kill himself or any of those who had come to seize him. He replied, "I have two knives about me, and they would have done as well, but I have been taught 'Thou shalt not kill.'" So he rose up and went with them, and he was put in the stocks. Our Candidates have been instructed to make no resistance, lest their enemy should make a handle of that to hurt them. As I wished the people might see that our Candidates were governed by another and superior principle, I thought if this man were let to stand his ground, without any interference in his behalf, every one would be led to see for himself the power of godliness which works in them. I only sent messengers to encourage him; so I took no more notice of Olupoko, who, I believe, had the chief hand in the matter, though he spoke favourably to me on the former occasion. During the five days the man was confined in the Council House, a host of Babbalawos and old Priests were at him, persuading him to give up the profession of the new religion, and to take again that of their forefathers. At last, when they could gain nothing, the members of their council began to inquire among themselves the propriety of confining a man for so long a time for doing what he conscientiously believed would do him good. As they could gain nothing upon the man, they forced him to become a member of their secret council, and let him go.

As soon as he was let out he came and related to me all he had endured. To say, that all the opponents of Christianity are greatly mortified at these disappointments to detach the people from the Church, is superfluous.

The very steps they have taken to quench the smoking flax of the Gospel are tending to raise it to a flame: some of the timid Candidates, who have kept back during the heat of trials, are occupying again their places in the House of God. They come again because they cannot conscientiously join in the worship of idolatry. Since the last man was released, which was on the 17th of October, he has continued to attend the Means of Grace, and no attempt has been made to take another.

This is the state of our Mission to the present date: our people are cheerful, and we are encouraged in our work.

In reading this extract from Mr. Crowther's Letter, we are forcibly reminded of a passage in the Acts (iv. 21, 23): "So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them ... and being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them." May our Abbeokuta converts be all filled with the Holy Ghost, and speak the Word of God with boldness

But the powers of darkness cannot be overthrown from their usurped dominion in any country without a severe struggle, and in most cases without the blood of martyrs. We must not expect that Western Africa shall be eventually exempted from this dispensation. In primitive ages the northern regions of that vast continent furnished its martyrs —in a later age the eastern kingdom of Abyssinia—and it may be that Western Africa will now take its turn in the field of honour.

After an interval of some months, cruel persecution unexpectedly broke out against the Christian Converts, of a more formidable and violent character than any preceding attempt. The immediate occasion was the death of a Convert, though it was evident that the train had been previously laid. Hitherto, God had mercifully preserved the lives of the Native Converts, so that in three years and a half not one had died. Upon the first death occurring, the Convert received Christian burial. The Babbalawos thus lost a lucrative burial fee, which they were accustomed to receive. Their indignation was at once raised to the highest pitch. As in Ephesus of old, upon a similar cause, they raised a cry among the people against the Christians. Four or five of the townships of which Abbeokuta is composed were excited against the Converts, who were seized and put into the stocks. The history of this persecution is given in Mr. Crowther's Journal, from which the following extracts are taken—

Oct. 20, 1849—An enraged multitude came, with bill-hooks, clubs, and whips, catching and dragging the Converts to the Council House, with singing and shouting. Each of the men's feet were thrust in holes perforated through the walls, and made fast on the other side in stocks. Some of these holes were made in the walls two feet from the ground, and were intended for torturing gross offenders. In such holes, after many of our Converts were beaten nearly to death, their feet were made fast, exposed to scorching sun by day and floods of rain by night, for five days together. Had any of them died, the whole prisoners, about 100 persons, including those in connexion with the Wesleyan Mission, would have been put to death. Why? Because, as they all were confined and punished for going to Church, without any other crime, so, if one die for the same cause, others must die likewise. What would have become of this Mission, yet in embryo, but hitherto most promising, which I anticipate as a starting-point to Central Western Africa in some future days? Satan would have had it so, to the annihilation of the Mission; but God would have it otherwise. "And the Lord said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand; but save his life." The hand of Satan has been upon our people, and upon all the little they had, but their lives were not touched.

But to proceed. The women were cruelly whipped and pinioned, without regard to age or their delicate state—some being pregnant—and enshackled. In the meantime their houses were plundered, their household utensils destroyed, their doors unhinged, and carried to the Ogboni house.

Whatever accusation was made a cloak of this persecution, the first question put to them in their confinement was, whether they would not worship Ifa and Orisa again; to which they unanimously answered, "No!" At first they tried to subdue them by starvation. For nearly two days nothing was permitted to be given them to eat; but our poor persecuted sufferers said, Christ fasted forty days and forty nights in the wilderness; and that it was Christ's will that they should suffer after His example. They comforted one another in their confinement, and prayed for their persecutors while in bonds, after the example of Christ—Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." Their Christian fortitude in suffering preaches loudly to all the inhabitants of Abbeokuta. They sent frequent messages to me not to be broken-hearted; that they remained the same, and would be to the last, because they had been told such things would take place; that the very fulfilment of them strengthens their faith more and more in Christ our Saviour.

Thus we see the operation of the Spirit of God in the hearts of this people. As they were instructed, not one of them moved his hand against his enemies: they quietly followed as a lamb. These were not long ago the plagues of the town—thieves, kidnappers of their own children, incendiaries, adulterers, and murderers; the dread of the people, against whom none dared approach. Both baptized and unbaptized all stood stedfast in their new faith, to the great vexation of their persecutors. As they could not get a denial of their faith in Christ, they shaved the heads of them all, in order to shave baptism off; purchased a pigeon, and wrung the blood upon the heads of the women, and placed a figure of the devil before them to worship; but all to no purpose.

The Converts were fined, to the amount of nearly a hundred pounds; they were strictly forbidden to go to Church, or communicate with the Missionaries, on pain of death, a public Crier announcing it by knocking the gong-gong. The way to Mr. Crowther's house was watched day and night.

The superior Chiefs were, at last, persuaded by the Missionaries to take up their cause in the council, after which the persecution ceased; and the Converts returned to their homes, and to the public worship of God.

Among the chief causes of the persecution, Mr. Crowther mentions the fact that the priests and priestesses of the national superstition have been deserted by a far greater number of the people than the Missionaries had been aware of; that before the arrival of the Missionaries these parties had been alarmed at the success of the Mahomedans, and had opposed them; but now both Heathen and Mahomedan united in opposing Christianity.

Another cause, which the Committee are grieved to record, has been found in the base conduct of some of the liberated Africans from Sierra Leone, who—having returned to Abbeokuta, and being desirous of adopting country practices, especially polygamy—have united in the wicked attempt to expel the Missionaries from their country.

After describing the way in which the War-Chiefs at length interposed to stop the persecution, Mr. Crowther states—

Though the unthinking Priests would be glad to have us out of the way, yet there is a powerful check to this, which weighs more with the War Chiefs and the public at large than any thing else—the preservation of their country from destruction. The links we at present form with Badagry, and with the ships-of-war, and the British Vice-Consul at Whydah—through whom any communications from us can reach the King of Dahomey, who is the modern Sennacherib to this part of Africa—make every one to dread the idea of our leaving Abbeokuta, and exposing the country to the powerful Dahomians. All these things, in the providence of God, together with the expected return of emigrants from Sierra Leone, are made subservient to our protection in this remote part of Africa.

Petition of the Committee against the withdrawal of the Squadron.

The Committee, adverting to the facts that the rise of Sierra Leone, and the commencement and continued existence of the Yoruba Mission, are the fruits of the African Squadron, presented a petition to Parliament, earnestly deprecating its withdrawal or diminution. They record, with gratitude to God, the decision of the House of Commons against the withdrawal; and more especially the emphatic declaration of Lord John Russell, as the First Minister of the Crown, in these words—

That this country had been blessed with great mercies during the past year; that more than once they had thanked God for the dispensation of those mercies; that if this nation were now to say that the unhallowed and cruel traffic in man should be revived, we could no longer have a right to expect those mercies. He considered that the high Christian and moral character of a nation was its main source of security and strength.

Study of the Yoruba Language, and Translations of the Prayer-book and Scriptures.

It was mentioned in the last Report that the Committee had adopted, in concurrence with other Missionary Societies, a standard system of orthography. A Primer in the Yoruba language was drawn up by the Missionaries in England in this orthography, and sent to Abbeokuta. It was an experiment how far the orthography would suit the language, or the people be induced to adopt it as a medium of thought. The result has, however, been most successful and encouraging. Mr. Crowther writes—

No sooner was the Yoruba Primer introduced than they caught it with such pleasure and interest, that in a few weeks the first and second classes, which were reading the New Testament [in English], not only got through in reading it with facility and understanding, but could repeat the whole Primer from memory as a play lesson. I directed Mr. Morgan to pay his chief attention to make them understand the power of letters, which is an important point in teaching to read, especially to a people who had no idea of such an art before.

As soon as the Sunday-scholars began to know the use of the Primer, they paid double attention to learn to read it; and if I could continue School for three hours instead of one in the morning, and one hour and a-half in the afternoon, the signal for closing the School would still be received with regret for the shortness of the time.

Six men belonging to the first class of Native Converts, instructed by Mr. Morgan with much attention, have gone through the Primer, and are comparing the portions of Scripture Lesson in their English Testaments. No better stimulus could have been given. Each of the inferior classes is making rapid progress to attain the same point.

Mr. Crowther immediately wrote out the greater part of the Book of Common Prayer in Yoruba, according to this orthography, and sent it home. It has been printed, and returned to him. He also sent home the Epistle to the Romans, of which the British and Foreign Bible Society has printed a small edition, which has been sent to Africa. Mr. Crowther had already sent over the Gospel of St. Luke and the Acts of the Apostles, but these were written out upon a different system, and the Committee wait till they shall receive the same in the improved orthography before they are printed.

The following interesting remarks are made by Mr. Crowther upon the suitableness of the Liturgy of the Church of England to the wants of an African Congregation—

I am glad I have been able to send the Epistle to the Romans, and the portion of the Liturgy proposed for the present use of our Mission.

I was obliged to tax myself, notwithstanding other urgent duties, that I might accomplish this desirable end. I wish we had had them already for our use, but the delay has its advantage: some translated portions have been upward of five years in use, and have had a fair trial among the people. The devout language and comprehensive prayers of our excellent Liturgy are becoming those of the people who hitherto knew no other prayers than the like recorded in the 18th Chapter of the first Book of Kings, "O Baal, hear us," give us a long life, give us children, give us money, and kill all our enemies!

The most bigoted idolaters who attended our Church Service were struck with the charitableness of Christianity, and remarked, on the use of the Litany, "They pray, not only for themselves, and for all in general, but specifically, and for their enemies also."

My attachment to the use of the Liturgy has not in the least abated; but, on the contrary, since I have been sifting various portions in translating them into my native tongue, I have found its beauty sparkles brighter and brighter; scriptural in its language, and very well adapted for Public Service, and I can find no substitute for my countrymen.

When Mr. Hinderer was appointed to the Yoruba Mission, he directed his attention to the study of the Haussa language, and took out with him a Haussa Primer prepared by the Rev. J. F. Schön. But hitherto he has met with no opening for the introduction of the written language among the Natives who speak Haussa. They are, at Badagry and Abbeokuta, all slaves or bigoted Mahomedans, and will not even assist Mr. Hinderer in his own study of the language.

The Committee, in closing their report of this interesting Mission, are happy to state that a Consul for the Gold Coast of Africa, Captain Beecroft, has been appointed, who is well acquainted with the country, having made several voyages up the Niger. His presence upon the Coast will afford additional security and encouragement to the Missionaries; and it is hoped that he will officially visit Abbeokuta as Her Majesty's representative, and encourage the Native Chiefs in their measures for supplanting the Slave-trade by lawful commerce and industrial pursuits.*

Report for the Year 1849.

THE Rev. F. A. Hildner has suffered much from illness during the past year, and in November removed to Boujah, near Smyrna, for change of air and scene. His health, we are thankful to say, is now re-established. His Report for the year 1849 states—

The general features of the Mission throughout the year have been the undisturbed state in which it has continued, the unbounded freedom with which the Scriptures have been taught in the Schools, the general favour which these have enjoyed with all classes of people, and the respectable and efficient condition in which, by God's blessing on the means, it has been possible to carry them on. All this gives me ample ground for thankfulness and praise.

The Society's School-establishment has, as to its general arrangements, proceeded much the same way as in former years. Average number during the year on the books, 462; average attendance, on the week-days, 365; on the Lord's-day, 160. The Scholars have generally shown attention in the religious lessons given by myself, or under my superintendence, and many have gladly heard and received the word of truth. They have, as heretofore, learned by heart the Scripture Catechism, select Prayers, the Psalms, the Parables, and other parts of Scripture. Some of the elder children, I may say, have also, by the teaching of the Spirit, been convinced of sin, and led to Christ Jesus. Lately, one of them, a girl of about thirteen years of age, one of the more attentive scholars in my Scripture lessons, when cast on the bed of sickness evinced her faith in Christ as her only Saviour. In this faith she died. Such instances, though not as frequent as we could desire, strengthen us to go on with greater courage in our work of faith and patience.

Opportunities have not unfrequently presented themselves, when, by conversation, the truths of the Gospel could be brought home to a number of grown-up persons; sometimes in my house, sometimes on the way, sometimes in the houses of the parents or relatives of children in our Schools, sometimes with former scholars, or with Teachers in other Schools, and sometimes with other persons.

During the last year the Missionaries have been much tried by sickness. Messrs. Sandreczki and Dalessio, on their return from a Missionary tour in the interior in the latter end of October 1848, were attacked with the malignant fever of the climate. Mr. Dalessio, in particular, was dangerously ill; and in both cases they continued to be indisposed for several months, suffering much from debility. Eventually Mr. Dalessio was obliged to proceed to Constantinople for change of air. Mr. Wolters has also been unwell. In addition to this, before daybreak on the 29th of May, last year, a fire broke out on that side of the Mission premises which was occupied by Mr. Sandreczki and his family, and much injury done. Although from circumstances it was thought better that no judicial investigation should be instituted, there is every reason to apprehend that the premises were maliciously set on fire by an individual who had been dismissed, for misconduct, from the employment of the Missionaries.

General View—Appeal for Prayer.

The Rev. J. T. Wolters, in a Letter dated Jan. 19, 1850, thus describes the present aspect of this Missionary field—

In taking a retrospective view of the past year, we are led to hope that a new epoch is beginning in the history of this Mission. Though new openings for labouring more freely and directly among the Turks have not presented themselves, yet this does not discourage us. The Lord has evidently His own time with regard to the conversion of individuals as well as of nations; and indications are not wanting which let us hope that the Lord's own time with the Mussulmans is fast approaching. In the mean time we are called to prepare His way. A blessed calling indeed! May we fulfil it!

Among the Christians of the East there is evidently a shaking going on in many directions. The light of Divine truth is breaking in upon the darkness which has so long covered the Christian nations of the East. Superstition and ignorance, picture-worship, and a round of unmeaning ceremonies, do not any longer satisfy the minds of many in the Eastern Churches. Hierarchical despotism is losing its hold on the minds of the people. The dissemination of the Word of God is exposing the vain traditions of men. People begin to distinguish more clearly the one from the other. There is, in the minds of many, a process of fermentation going on, just as it was at the time when our blessed Reformation was drawing near. Many years may yet elapse before the great change takes place, and we may sink into the grave without seeing it. But what matters it? Who are we? Blessed be the name of the Lord that He condescends to employ us, His unworthy servants, as instruments in raising to Himself a spiritual temple in the East!

Printing and Translations.

Mr. Wolters commenced the preaching in Greek in the English Chapels at Smyrna and Boujah. The Greeks at first came and listened with attention. Gradually, however, they stayed away, having been forbidden by their Clergy to attend, and this effort to do them good is for the present suspended. Unwilling to lose the time and labour bestowed on the composition of these sermons, Mr. Wolters has printed them in a small volume, which has been well received by such of the Greeks as are willing to be instructed.

Mr. Sandreczki has been occupied in preparing a Scriptural History in Turkish, the first part of which has been printed. He also commenced, in the same language, a treatise on the Christian Religion, pointing out the connexion of its various doctrines, and their suitableness to the wants of man, especially with reference to the great truth of the atonement. This he was enabled to carry on amidst the repeated returns of fever which for a time afflicted him. The first part of Jowett's "Christian Visitor" has been translated by an educated Armenian, Head Master of the Armenian High School at Smyrna; and, having been carefully revised by Mr. Wolters, has also been printed and put into circulation.

This activity of the Missionaries has, however, excited the opposition of the Greek Priests, who have denounced, in several of the Churches in Smyrna, the books printed by the Missionaries.

Symptoms of Movement in the Eastern Churches.

From various communications it appears that the Turkish Government is energetically endeavouring to check the spirit of avarice and oppression which has characterized the proceedings of the Greek and Armenian Patriarchs, and their subordinates, in a manner which would not be discreditable to a Christian Government. Measures of this description will necessarily exercise an influence on the Missionary cause, and ought to be watched and diligently improved; because Mahomedanism at large would be vanquished by the reformation of the Eastern Churches. Just as the struggle against the Letter of Indulgence formed the prelude to our Reformation, so the Sultan's procedure against the abuses of the Patriarchs may be the preliminary step toward the same end; for it has already called forth a hitherto unheard-of excitement amongst the laity, who are henceforth to bear a more equal, or even preponderating share in the administration of worldly affairs. By little and little they may be carried on, through the combat of worldly interests, to that of higher ones in search of truth; and then they will learn to value that liberty of conscience, which the chief of the orthodox Mussulmans has granted to his Christian subjects.

Mr. Sandreczki, in a Letter dated April 19, 1849, mentions some interesting particulars as to the progress of inquiry amongst the members of these Eastern Churches—

The American Missionaries kindly communicate to us the almost daily progress of spiritual or religious agitation among the Armenians and Nestorians. Highly-interesting details have of late come to our hearing. At Aïndab (Syria) and Urumia (Mesopotamia)—and even among Bishops—the minds of the people are roused to great emotion. It is as if the dawning of revival were coming on; and I venture to say that Mr. Wolters' Greek Sermons, too, have already begun to stir up the minds of a few persons of the Greek community here. O for faith and perseverance now! O Lord, spread Thy table for the Mahomedans and Christians in this wilderness!

At this Station our Missionaries have suffered much from indisposition. Mr. Lieder's has been of a painful and prolonged character. Mr. Krusé has also been laid aside.

Visit from Bishop Gobat.

The Caïro Mission was visited in October of last year by Dr. Gobat, the Anglican Bishop of Jerusalem, accompanied by the Rev. J. Bowen. The Bishop, soon after his arrival, was attacked, while a guest in Mr. Lieder's house, with malignant fever, Mr. Lieder being confined to another room by rheumatic fever. Notwithstanding the impediments caused by sickness, the Missionaries had the advantage of many important consultations with the Bishop, as to the state and prospects of the Caïro Mission. The Bishop left Caïro on the 26th of November, returning to Jerusalem by way of the Desert.

Bishop Gobat has communicated to the Committee his views with respect to the Egypt Mission, and his advice respecting its future conduct. While he recommends some change in the arrangements connected with it, he bears testimony to the results of past operations.

The Bishop writes to this effect in a Letter from Jerusalem, dated January 9, 1850—

The Missionaries seem to follow almost too strictly the plan on which that Mission was begun by us twenty-four years ago; namely, to seek the friendship of the Clergy, especially of the high Clergy of the Eastern Churches, with a view of influencing them gently, in the hope that by slow degrees they would become convinced of their errors, and themselves reform their respective Churches. But this system has failed; and I am convinced that it will ever fail with several Eastern Churches, as well as with the Church of Rome. Individual conversion must be the aim, as the only means of prosecuting reformation.

The results of the Mission are thus summed up by the Bishop—

Beside disseminating the Word of God and other good books in all parts of Egypt, and the scriptural, though imperfect, education of hundreds of youths—which two good items cannot remain altogether without good fruits, though not known by the Missionaries—the results of the Mission are the conversion of a few individuals, some of whom have died in the faith; a few youths, now dispersed in Egypt, who have a good report, as if they were at least not only cured from gross superstition, but really seeking the way of life by reading the Scriptures and avoiding temptations; and I might add, that, whilst many members of different communities begin to doubt about the truth of the superstitions and traditions of their respective Churches, many have learned to respect Protestantism, and to suspect that, after all, it may be the true religion. This last point, compared with what we used to meet when we first began to preach the Gospel in Egypt, is an immense success, especially with respect to the future. Yet, upon the whole, it must be confessed that the Egypt Mission has not had the success which might have been expected. As to the future, although the prospect is not bright, the importance of the field in many respects would prevent my advising the withdrawal of the Mission, even if I had less cause of hope. But I have much hope, provided the proper means be used. It is not for me to tell you how the Missionaries must be exhorted to preach, so as at the same time to declare and show to the people their sins, and the abundance of the love and free grace of God in Christ, and thus to undeceive those who begin to think, and root from their mind the belief, that by a few changes, which men can make, their respective Churches could be healed. If the Church Missionary Society resolve upon continuing their Mission in Egypt, I should strongly advise that Missionaries be sent out without delay to make a trial in some provincial town.

Immediately after their arrival they should, if they live separate, each of them seek for, and receive altogether into their houses, some few promising, though not yet converted, young men as their Teachers of the languages, whilst they, the Missionaries, endeavour to train them as Bible Readers; for, in general, pious and simple Scripture Readers are the best agency which can be used in these countries; and, after personal piety, the Missionary ought to consider it his chief duty to train and superintend Native Scripture Readers.

Labours of the Rev. J. R. T. Lieder and Mrs. Lieder.

Mr. Lieder's time is divided between the superintendence of the Schools and general intercourse with the people, with a view to communicate to them the knowledge of scriptural truth.

The Boys'-school has been re-opened, after a suspension, from want of funds, of many months. The number on the books is 96, 59 being Copts, and the rest Greeks, Roman Catholics, Maronites, and Mahomedans. The Girls'-school, under Mrs. Lieder, has continued to prosper. The proportion of the different religions is the same as in the Boys'-school. The Arabic language is used in each School, and the Bible is read daily.

Labours of the Rev. W. Krusé.

Mr. Krusé devotes his attention to the Christian instruction of such persons as are willing to listen to him, in domiciliary visits, and at his own house. He writes—

My Meeting-room continues to be well attended, and with much thankfulness do I witness the progress the people make in the knowledge of the Holy Scriptures: every religious topic is referred for proof to this sacred volume. Some of my visitors show a decidedly Christian state of mind, and appear to walk worthy of their high vocation: others go on steadily studying the Word of God with earnestness. When once it was proposed to read occasionally some other religious book for edification, the majority declared, "The Word of God is sufficient for us, and is more precious and better than all." Some new inquirers have been added this year, most of them young men, who seem to be in real earnest. Occasionally one of a different spirit will come to see what is going on, and on these occasions a controversial point is started; but this seldom meets with encouragement, as the generality of the constant attendants are fully persuaded that these controversies only engender strife, and are not only useless, but "will increase unto more ungodliness."

In his Journals of last year Mr. Krusé had mentioned the case of a Coptic Priest, who appeared to be inquiring after the truth, and anxious to promote its interests. He now writes of him—having too openly manifested his Protestant principles, has been sent to a convent. He was the only Priest who understood the Abyssinian language, and was consequently much needed in Caïro as an interpreter, when the Abyssinian pilgrims are passing through; yet, fearing the influence that this man might gain over the minds of others, the Patriarch sacrificed this help to his crafty policy.

The Coptic Priest whom I mentioned in my Report last year,

During the months of February, March, and April, Mr. Krusé made a Missionary tour into Upper Egypt, and had many opportunities of distributing books and conversing with the people.

Exploratory Tour of the Rev. J. Bowen.

Mr. Bowen proceeded to Jerusalem by Trieste and Beyrout. He has visited Nablous, and spent some weeks amongst the people, who seem to thirst for scriptural instruction. He also spent a short time at Salt, on the other side of Jordan, where a spirit of inquiry is springing up. He accompanied the Bishop of Jerusalem to Egypt, and, after returning to Jerusalem, proceeded to Smyrna and, Constantinople. Mr. Sandreczki was to join him at the latter place, and they propose to travel together to Mosul.

Mr. Bowen has furnished the Committee with many important and interesting particulars in relation to openings for Missionary work in the countries which he has visited; but full details of his journeys are deferred till he has completed his extensive tour. The following extract from a Letter of Mr. Bowen, dated Jerusalem, May 31, 1849, confirms the statements which have been already given by the Missionaries at Smyrna—

> Of course my opportunities of observing are as yet very limited, but it is impossible to avoid feeling that there is a movement in this country, a shaking among the dry bones. Protestantism is respected. The power of the Patriarchs is weakened. Priests occasionally visit the Bishop and Missionaries here to converse on religion. There were about thirty Armenians the other day who wanted to join our Church. There has been a considerable movement in the Armenian Church, and many have formed separate Congregations in other parts of Syria and Asia Minor, but not here.
> The American Mission has made great use of the press; and, after many years of patience, an effect has been produced amongst the Armenians, and, to a much less extent, among the Syrians. But there are fruits of the American Mission formerly in this city. They laid the foundation of the Nablous movement; and a man, who is now employed by Bishop Gobat as a Scripture Reader, was brought out of his errors through their means.

The prejudice and wild zeal of the Mahomedans are also giving way. They tolerate the Christian. They no longer insult him, except in some of the wilder villages, and we may trust the time is not far distant when they will listen to the Gospel. A number of Natives constantly attend the Services of our Church, which they cannot understand; but, when there is an Arabic Service, without doubt many more will attend it.

Prospect for Abyssinia through the Missions of the Society.

Abyssinia was once a promising field of labour for the Missionaries of this Society. In the year 1843 they were forcibly driven from the country, through the influence of emissaries from Rome. It was mentioned, in the last Report, that a rumour had reached Caïro of the expulsion of the Roman-Catholic Priests and their supporters from Abyssinia. This rumour has been confirmed.

Mr. Lieder, in a Letter dated June 5, 1849, states that the young King of Shoa, Beshaheh Ouered, had forwarded two Letters, one to the Queen of Great Britain, desiring a renewal of the friendly intercourse that had existed between the British Government and his father; the other to Dr. Krapf, requesting his return. This young King, only fourteen years of age, has renounced all the heterodox notions of his father, and delivered hundreds of persons whom the late King had thrown into prison because they would not embrace his religious views. He has also taken the Metropolitan, Amba Salame, as his spiritual guide.

The Jesuits have been obliged to leave the country. The Abuna, Amba Salame, has on several occasions written to Mr. Lieder, requesting that one or two good Schoolmasters might be sent to him, as he was anxious to open a School of superior character in Gondar.

In connexion with this subject, it must be mentioned, that Maderakal, an Abyssinian youth recently a pupil in the Coptic Institution, is pursuing his studies at the Malta College; and the Rev. C. W. Isenberg, at Bombay, has six Abyssinian youths under his instruction, with a view to their future employment among their countrymen.

These remarkable circumstances seem to show that the prayers which were offered up by our devoted Missionaries in Abyssinia, and the many copies of the Holy Scriptures distributed by them, have not been in vain.

A still more remarkable fact remains to be told. The King of Abyssinia, and the Abuna, have written to Bishop Gobat to propose that he should undertake the superintendence of the Abyssinian convent at Jerusalem. If this arrangement take effect, the Bishop writes that he trusts the Society will place a Missionary at Jerusalem, as he is persuaded more might be done with the Abyssinian youths and pilgrims visiting Jerusalem, for the enlightening of their countrymen, than by a Missionary Station in that country itself.

Proposed Mission at Jerusalem.

The Committee having carefully considered the various providential circumstances which have been described, connected with Asia Minor, Syria, Mesopotamia, Egypt, and Abyssinia, have been brought to the conclusion that a Missionary Station at Jerusalem might not only provide for the instruction of Abyssinian pilgrims, and for supplying the general thirst for scriptural truth which has sprung up in these countries, but also would form a connecting link between our Asia-Minor and Egypt Missions, and tend in many ways to strengthen those hitherto isolated Stations.

They trust that in the course of this year an arrangement may be made for placing Jerusalem upon the list of the Missionary Stations of the Society.*

General View of the Mission.

During the last year the progress of this Mission has been of a very different character from any other connected with the Society. It has not consisted in work immediately around the Station, but in the opening-out of new fields of labour, and in preparations for a grand Missionary enterprise, if the Lord prosper the design. The Natives around the Station continue to exhibit the most disheartening apathy toward the Gospel. They set no value upon education, and the Schools have at length dwindled away and been given up. The hope, long cherished, of such help as might contribute to the comfort of the Missionaries at the Station, was frustrated by the hand of death at the very moment of its accomplishment. At the same time, the minds of the Missionaries have been stirred up to devise and attempt grand schemes for the evangelization of the interior of Africa; and they have found that refreshment in their protracted journeys through the wilderness, and in their intercourse with distant tribes, which have been denied to them in their Station upon the coast.

* Further accounts of the Mediterranean Mission are given in the "Church Missionary Record" for May 1850, pp. 97—107; and also in the "Church Missionary Intelligencer" for May 1849, p. 5; June, pp. 29, 30; and August, pp. 78—81.

Discouragements at Rabbai-Empia.

Further acquaintance with the people has revealed to the Missionaries the depths of misery into which they are sunk, through the enslavement of their minds by sorcery, and also the many cruel native customs—especially the putting to death of all deformed children soon after their birth—which prevail amongst them. Dr. Krapf writes—

> The more we get personally acquainted with them, the more we see there is an abyss of prejudices and barriers against our work in this country; so that we may not wonder at the almost imperceptible progress we make with them. We anticipate too much from and think too well of them.

At another time he exclaims—

> What horrid practices there are in a land where the Gospel does not reign! What responsibility lies upon us, the Missionaries, to raise our voice like a trumpet against such cruel abominations, which make a mother forget her suckling, the son of her body. O land of murderers, hear the voice of thy angry God calling thee to repentance, lest He destroy thee in thy sin and wickedness! O Lord, do not impute unto us the sins of this people! And ye Christians at home, pray and labour unceasingly that the Sun of Righteousness may soon rise over all nations, and that the Lord be entreated, by your earnest and faithful prayers, to make such preparations, that Satan, the old corrupter of the nations, may soon be cast into the bottomless pit, and shut up, and a seal be set upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more.

In the confidence of Christian hope he writes, on another occasion—

> I often think that, by God's blessing, a change might soon take place among this people; but past experience makes me very timid regarding the utterance of my expectation. Be it as it may, my duty is to sow the seed of God's Word into the dry ground; to labour, pray, believe, and hope with patience, until the Lord shall carry out His own designs. I wish to see no fruit of my labour until the Lord's time is come to show it to me, or to others. What did He answer to Mary, when she said to Jesus, They have no wine? Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. But in the meantime I shall fill the water-pots of stone with water. I shall present the knowledge of Christ to the stony hearts of the Wanika, until He shall manifest forth His glory, and those whom He has chosen shall believe on Him. Why, if I can believe on Him, and do know and feel persuaded that this my heart's belief is not the effect of my own working, but the sole work of His exceeding great power—why should I not also believe that He can and will work faith on Him in some Wanika hearts? Why should my Master not be able to do to others what He has done to me? And what a happy review will it be—after many years of struggle, dejection, difficulties, privations, prayers, preaching, troubles from beggars, and indifferent and rebellious hearts—when the Missionary shall be able to address some souls, with Paul, "And you hath He quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins." Eph. ii. 1.

Apparent Awakening of an Emnika Young Man.

The first and only instance which has cheered the Missionaries by the dawning of a work of grace upon the heart of a Native, after their years of toil and disappointment, is that of a poor cripple. The accounts continue to be of a hopeful character. The case is thus described by Dr. Krapf—

Dec. 2, 1848—I visited Mringe at his cottage in Muihani, and explained to him the story of the Rich Man and Lazarus. He said he had dreamed last night that he should throw away the beads which he wore around his neck for ornaments' and other superstitions' sake, I said that there was no dream necessary for putting aside all those sinful things which the plain Word of God interdicts, and charges with heathenism and man's traditions, which cannot quiet the soul. If he felt persuaded that these things are sinful in the sight of God, he should follow this persuasion, and not suffer them on his body, lest he commit a new and greater sin against the light of God now beaming upon his soul, fettered so long by Satan. Upon this, he cut off the string of blue beads which he wore around his neck. I kept silence, but rejoiced in heart at this small beginning of a change for the better in this country. We sat under the shadow of a tree when this happened. How unsightly are often the beginnings of the kingdom of God in a country! like a little tree rising out of its hidden roots. There is an Emnika cripple with mutilated legs—no wise, no mighty, nor noble man of this world—and he performs an act worthy of the look of angels; for by this act the poor man declared to serve the living God, and no more the superstitious idols of his countrymen. Still I looked on him with trembling, and laid apparently not the least stress upon his doing, because I was aware of man's trickish heart. I know that many Heathen have done the same before the Missionary from very selfish motives; and I was the more cautious, as he had alluded to a dream. I therefore spoke of the possibility that he might and would be tempted to hang again the idol on his neck, if he had not thrown it away from sincere and godly motives: he must be aware of the reproaches of his family and countrymen, and he would not be able to bear those and other sufferings, if he had not cast the string off in God's strength, light, and peace. I then spoke to him on 1 Peter i. 1, 2, prayed with him, and left him to the motions of his heart. On the road I thought within myself, It is worth trouble to seek for lost souls, to labour and wait for them till the Lord's hour is come to enlighten them with His marvellous light.

Arrival of the Rev. J. Erhardt and Mr. J. Wagner—Death of Mr. Wagner.

Dr. Krapf and Mr. Rebmann had long pleaded with the Committee for additional Labourers, especially for the assistance of a mechanic, who might relieve them from much of the manual labour in which they had been hitherto involved. After many disappointments, and the detention of a long and perilous voyage, the expected assistance arrived in East Africa; but its arrival was marked by new anxieties and grief. The Rev. J. Erhardt, and Mr. J. Wagner, a German mechanic, reached Mombas on the 10th of June 1849. Mr. Erhardt was, however, suffering from fever: he was removed as quickly as possible to the higher ground at Rabbai. During a fortnight his life was in imminent danger: he was almost always insensible, and often delirious; but the crisis proved favourable, and he was mercifully spared. Scarcely had he recovered, when Mr. Wagner was taken ill of inflammatory fever, of which he died on the 1st of August.

On the subject of this bereavement, Dr. Krapf thus expresses himself in a Letter written a few days afterward—

As to the blessing which our departed friend, J. Wagner, might have been the means to bring upon this heathen land, we can truly say that he spoke to these Heathen though he is dead. The Wanika have now witnessed a Christian's death and burial, which proclaimed to them the fearless hope in Him who is the life and the resurrection. Having read the prayers of the Burial Service in Kinika, I spoke to those who were present, and had dug the grave, on 1 Thess. iv. 13; and lastly we sang a few verses of a hymn, all which exercises showed the Natives the great contrast between Christianity, and the terrible lamentations and other horrible practices usually performed at the funerals of the Wanika. Our deceased friend, therefore, did not in vain come to this country. Hitherto we have only theoretically assaulted the Pagan abominations occurring at funerals; but now, one of the members of our Mission having afforded an opportunity, we have given the Heathen a practical lesson as to the manner in which Christians bury their dead, and why we do not weep like those who are without hope. Our friends at home cannot be too often told the fact, that, with the Africans, all our preaching and teaching must be attended by quasi-visible and palpable arguments, since the mind of the poor children of Ham is entirely bent upon this visible world. Hence we may not wonder why God of His wisdom deems it necessary to try the African Missionaries by sickness and by death; which things are all-powerful preachings to the Natives, if the remaining Missionaries turn their minds to these occurrences. Our friends therefore, at home, though they hear most frightful and melancholy accounts of death and sickness, and other trials of their Missionaries abroad, must never despair, nor desire to abandon a Mission on this account; but they must rather rejoice in their sufferings, since the struggling Missionaries thereby "fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in their flesh" for poor Africa. The afflictions of the Missionaries must show the Africans the great love which brought them to their country; and this reflection will and must induce them to listen to the preaching of a religion which conquers death and the grave, of which they are so much afraid, as this visible world has only a value in their sight. As the East Africans are as yet so indifferent toward the question, "What must I do to be saved?" I fear the reason of it is, because they have not yet seen enough of Missionaries' graves, and deep afflictions, which the West Africans have witnessed from time to time.

May the grave of our departed Lay-brother stir up the Wanika to seek salvation in Jesus Christ, the conqueror of death and hell; and may it also daily remind us of our pilgrimage in this land of darkness, and that we may fulfil the Word of God, which has been hid in East Africa from ages and from generations!

Missionary Tours into the Interior.

In addition to the Missionary tours mentioned in the last Report, Mr. Rebmann has during the last year accomplished a third and fourth journey, in a westerly direction, into the alpine country called Jagga. The first journey occupied three months—Nov. 1848 to Feb. 1849; the second, five months—April to August 1849. These journeys have shown the practicability of establishing Missionary Stations in those countries. Another attempt remains to be made—for which Dr. Krapf was preparing himself—to penetrate into the interior by a north-westerly route, through the Wakamba tribes and on the border of the Galla country, by which it is conceived that a road into the very centre of Africa will be opened.

The Committee have also received full particulars of a journey by Dr. Krapf, which was alluded to in the last Report, in a south-westerly direction from Rabbai-Empia, accomplished in July and Sept. 1848.

The Journals of the Missionaries in these tours exhibit the noble spirit in which they have been undertaken, and the wonderful openings for the entrance of Christian light into the interior, should the zeal and liberality of the Church at home supply the necessary means for enlarging the East-Africa Mission.

In visiting the territories of Kméri, King of Usambára, Dr. Krapf's object was to ascertain what opportunites exist for the prosecution of Missionary Labours, and whether the King would permit his people to be instructed. To determine this, a long, fatiguing, and dangerous journey had been accomplished; and, trusting to the good providence of God, our Missionary had unhesitatingly placed himself in the power of one, of whose disposition toward him he was of necessity doubtful. His first interview with Kméri was critical and anxious—

Aug. 8—In the evening I was informed that I should proceed to-morrow to the king at Salla. This news cheered me greatly, as I had passed several days in sorrow and anxiety, waiting for the royal decision. How entirely I was in the hands of mortal men, according to the outward appearances! But there was an Almighty Protector, in whose service I was ready also to sacrifice my life, if it were His holy will. I often thought the King might take me for an European spy or sorcerer; and no doubt the Devil would have rejoiced if I had met with the fate of the unfortunate Mr. Maison, who was put to death only a few days' journey to the south-east of Fuga.

Christians at home can scarcely understand the feelings which, at such critical moments, arise in the Missionary's mind; and could they look into the invisible world, and see how much the Lord is doing to frustrate Satan's designs, they would with greater earnestness pray for the poor Missionary in a distant land. And let our Christian friends be assured, that, at such moments, many of their prayers, offered up long ago, are heard and answered by the Lord, before whom those prayers lay for a long time. Thus our friends can, with their prayers, feed, protect, and preserve their Missionary abroad, and, through him, carry their Saviour's kingdom into the remotest part of a benighted Continent. How often would our life be endangered, and we be overcome by the enemies, if there was no Moses praying for Israel against Amalek! With your faithful prayers you subdue kingdoms, stop the mouth of lions, quench the violence of the fire, turn to flight the armies of the aliens; for the Missionary is exposed to all these dangers.

Aug. 9—This morning we were conveyed to the reception-room, which was at the entrance to a large house constructed for harbouring strangers. We were soon surrounded by the royal slaves and courtiers, who, however, were all very reserved and cold, and soon walked off. Having been in suspense regarding the King's mind for about an hour, during which Bana Khéri sat on the ground, labouring under symptoms of fear which I should not have expected, the arrival of the Simba wa Muéne—"the lion is himself," or, as it may also be translated, "the lion of the Self-existent," i. e. God, as Kméri is styled—was announced on a sudden; and after a few moments he entered the reception-room, attended by numerous followers going before and behind him. On entering, he cast a powerful look upon me. I saluted him as quick as I could with the words, "Sabahéri Simba wa Muéne, sabahéri Zumbe," i. e. "Good morning, thou who art the Lion thyself"—in opposition to his Governors being the smaller lions—"Good morning, O King!" He made no answer, neither to me nor to any body, but went on to take a seat on a native kitánda, or bedstead, which was hastily covered with a mat. All his followers kept profound silence. He wore a coloured dress, a Suahéli cape on his head, and had a long stick with a silver handle in his hand. There he sat, a stout man of engaging features, altogether a lion-like royal personage of about fifty-six or sixty years. The state herald sat in the middle, and cried out in a singing manner, "'Eh Simba, éh Simba!" i. e. "Oh Lion, Oh Lion!" whereupon his son-in-law related how I came, and what I did and said at Nugniri. He mentioned in detail, for instance, that I wrote down a number of Washinsi words. When he had ended his speech, the Viceroy said that he had closely examined me; that I was no Emganga, but a book-man, telling the Wasambára to abstain from deceit, lies, intoxication, and violence. Kméri cast his eyes continually upon me whilst these reports were made to him. When they were at an end, he talked a few words to his Counsellors, something to the purport, that it was a matter of course to abstain from these things; "but how," he said, "am I able to be friendly toward my enemies the Wasegúa?" Finally he said, "The European is my stranger, and nobody shall do him any harm." Upon this they all raised a cry of joy, and the herald repeated his "'Eh Simba, 'Eh Muéne"—"Oh Lion! Oh thou who art thyself!" After this conversation, in which I endeavoured to give him a better view of the contents of my book, he wished to see the presents which I had for him.

Aug. 11—As I had yesterday expressed my wish of returning to Rabbai as soon as possible, I was called by the King to give me his permission for departure. He asked me again about the object of my coming to Usambára. There was now the moment, when I could give witness before him of the "truth as it is in Jesus Christ." The Mahomedans wished to introduce other matters; but the King said, "Let him speak for himself." Thus I began by saying, "God, the Almighty, all-wise, and all-merciful God, has made heaven and earth, and every thing that is therein. He created, by His will, one man and one woman in the beginning in a state of purity, goodness, and happiness; but man, by Satan's subtlety, transgressed God's law, became His enemy, and a slave of Satan, following his devices, but thereby made himself most unhappy in time and eternity, as he brought by his transgression great miseries upon himself; for God, according to His justice, was obliged to punish the rebel-sinner. But being a merciful God, and disliking the eternal misery of man, He sent, 1800 years ago, His own Son Jesus Christ into the world, to make an atonement, through the effusion of His own blood, for the sinning man, to bear his guilt, and to procure for him the forgiveness of his sins before God, and a new spirit of life. Christ was thirty-three years in the world: He suffered and died, was buried, and rose from the dead on the third day, and ascended to heaven, where He lives in glory, rules the whole world, hears the prayers of those who invoke Him, and shall return to judge the quick and the dead; wherefore He demands that every man shall repent of his sins, believe in Him alone, and receive a new heart from Him."

When I went on in this strain the Mahomedans interrupted me again; and the King, who had listened very attentively, said, "I see what his words are: they are the words of the book." This he said in a manner which showed that he was a little affected by the importance of these words.

He then asked again whether I would accept ivory, slaves, and cattle, as he did not know what he could give me else. I repeated what I had said yesterday—that I should like to have a few free children to take and educate at our Station. He said he would give me free boys; but the people would not now understand the matter, and their parents would think they were made slaves. But if I would return, he would give me young people to be instructed in his own country. Beside, he wished to get people who understand misungu, i. e. arts: especially would he like a physician. Then he asked repeatedly, and very diligently, whether I would return in three or four months. I replied, that I could not answer this question; but I would consult with my friend at Rabbai, and would write to my friends at home about this matter: but I thought I should require more than a year until I could return again. He said I should return viâ Pangani; and he charged the Mahomedan to convey me to the King on my arrival. I mentioned, that if I did not, or could not come, my friend, or some one of my Society, would be in my stead; whereupon he said, "I now know yourself, and I wish you might come yourself." Lastly, he said, that, as I had refused the acceptance of ivory and slaves, he would give me five goats to eat on the road. This I accepted with thanks.

More than eighteen months have elapsed since Dr. Krapf's visit to Usambára, and his promise to communicate these facts to the Society at home; but as yet the Society has not had the power of enlarging this Mission.

Mr. Rebmann's third journey westward was undertaken with a view to reach, if possible, Uniamesi, an interior country where the roads to East and West Africa diverge. The Mahomedan, Bana Khéri, was again engaged as a guide; but he soon betrayed his trust, and defeated the object of the journey, representing himself to the kings of the country as the chief of a caravan, who, out of kindness, had permitted the European to accompany him. The Missionary at length obtained an audience of King Mamkinga, at Madjame, the principal tribe of Jagga. He writes—

I held out the Bible to him, and told him that our occupation was only about this book, which contained the Word of God, and which it was our object to teach all nations. The object of my present journey was not to beg for ivory or slaves, but to make friendship with him, and to ask him whether he also wished for people in his country such as we were. If this were the case, I would write to those who sent us, who would take care to send others like ourselves. The King was much pleased, and said, "How can I refuse this man?"

Encouraged by this reception, and the promises of the King to supply him with a guide and an escort of soldiers on the next occasion, Mr. Rebmann returned to the coast, and, having provided himself with a fresh supply of goods to barter for food, and to make presents to the Chiefs, he returned to Jagga in the course of a few months. This, which was the fourth journey westward, was, however, attended with more peril and disappointment than any previous one. Once he fell into a deep torrent, and was only saved from instant death by being able to seize upon a branch of a tree in his descent. King Mamkinga, by tormenting beggary, took all his goods from him, leaving him at last no means whereby to travel further; promising, however, to permit him to proceed upon a future occasion, and sending him, in return for the goods, a large elephant's tooth, worth more than 100 dollars. In this journey the guidance of Bana Khéri was dispensed with. Indignant at this treatment, he proceeded to Jagga, with the determination of counteracting Mr. Rebmann in his plans: he was murdered, however, in the wilderness.

Mr. Rebmann returned to the Station much broken in health, and disappointed in his long-cherished expectation.

Dr. Krapf now determined to attempt the route by the north-west, and in a Letter dated Sept. 6, 1849, he writes—

By the time hat you receive this Letter I hope to be on the banks of the Dana, if the Lord will permit me, there to bow my knees before Him, and in His Name, and in the name of the whole Church of Christ, to take possession of those countries, as Abraham of old did in consecrating all those places where he set his foot upon. Whenever I enter such new territories, I am always seized with a holy feeling; and this mightily strengthens me under those numberless troubles which arise chiefly from African beggary. Should, however, these be my last lines from Africa, then farewell in the Lord, until our eternal re-union on the banks of the river of life, where, also, the Galla will in his time join us in drinking from its crystal streams.

The various providential circumstances which have concurred to open to our Missionaries a way of access into the interior, from that part of the East-African coast to which their steps have been directed, are remarkable, and well worthy of attention. Some influences, which would have proved serious if not insurmountable obstacles to any effort of the kind, have been removed, or prevented from extending themselves, while others are found to exist of a favourable character, and calculated to facilitate their researches. We may briefly advert to some of these.

1. The subjugation of the Mombas-Arabian dynasty by the Imaum of Muscat. From all that they have been able to learn concerning this dynasty, our Missionaries have not hesitated to express their conviction, that, under it, they would not have been permitted to establish themselves among the Wanika, nor to travel into the interior.

2. The removal of the Wakuafi from the intermediate position which for some time they had occupied between Mombas and the interior to the east and south-east. This fierce, nomadic people, issuing from their primitive seat toward the centre, had grievously harassed the Wanika and other tribes, compelling them for security to reside in fenced villages. The road to Jagga, as well as that pursued by Dr. Krapf to Usambára, had been long and grievously infested by them; but latterly they have been chased away by the Masai, a pastoral people from the interior, who have thus cleared the roads by destroying the Wakuafi and repulsing the Gallas, who since then have ceased to intrude themselves into these districts. Thus Mr. Rebmann, with a few attendants, has been enabled repeatedly to travel over districts which had once been so endangered, that the Suahéli traders were obliged to carry with them 500 fire-arms, "while," as he says, "I had nothing more than an umbrella." The great plain formerly occupied by the Wakuafi is now left almost entirely to wild beasts.

3. The fact that, in this direction, Mahomedanism seems to have lost that proselyting energy which has so remarkably distinguished it to the north of the equator. Mr. Rebmann, in his Journal, has narrated a remarkable proof of this. About 150 years ago, a new dynasty was founded in Jagga by a Mahomedan from the Pangani River, named Muigni Mkoma. Yet, instead of his Mahomedanism having been perpetuated in his successors, and extended amongst the Jaggas, his descendants have lost all trace of it, and are only to be distinguished from the other Jaggas by their features and fairer complexion. When we consider what a barrier Mahomedanism proves wherever it has once established itself, we recognise in this circumstance a most providential interposition. The highway through the tribes which intervene between the coast and the centre has thus been kept free from this great obstruction. Heathenism is as a waste, a desert which needs to be reclaimed, but one where the instrumentalities necessary for the accomplishment of this great result may be brought into operation. Mahomedanism is a precipitous barrier of rock, through which the force of earthquakes will alone suffice to open a way.

4. The relation between the language of the people in the interior, so far as our Missionaries have penetrated, and those on the coast. Mr. Rebmann mentions that the language of the Jaggas possesses this affinity, and that they understand the language of the Wanika sufficiently for purposes of trading. To this we might add, the commercial intercourse existing among the different tribes, especially through the Wakamba, the principal traders between the interior and the coast. They travel in caravans of from 200 to 500 men, carrying their commodities on their shoulders, and frequently requiring from four to six men to carry one elephant's tusk of the largest size. They bring rice, cattle, ivory, and slaves from the interior, where the main body of the tribe resides, at a distance of from 400 to 600 miles from the coast.

5. The anxiety of the different Chiefs to open an intercourse with Europeans, that thus they might be enabled to dispose of their ivory, of which many of them have accumulated much, and to receive in exchange for it European goods; and, in connexion with this, the welcome reception which, in every instance, they have given to our Missionaries, and their anxiety that they should come and settle among them.

6. The monarchical form of government which prevails amongst the inland tribes, which Dr. Krapf considers more favourable to Missionary effort than the Republicanism of the coast.

7. And, lastly, the vicinity of the mountainous districts to that portion of the coast which was selected by Dr. Krapf as the most suitable for Missionary operations, and that in utter ignorance on his part of this important circumstance. The upland character of the interior, approaching so near to the coast at this particular point, perhaps more so than at any other, has elevated the European at once above the unhealthy influences below, and presented a way of access admirably suited to his constitution, by which he may proceed to the countries beyond.

The time and place selected for the commencement of our operations on the East-African coast have been most felicitous, selected not by us but for us. Shall we not go forward with holy energy and comprehensiveness of effort, assuredly gathering that the Lord has called us to preach the Gospel to the tribes of the interior?

Philological Labours.

Dr. Krapf has pursued his labours in the study of the languages of Africa, and in the translation of the Scriptures, with his usual zeal and intelligence. He writes, June 1849—

I am thankful to have at last succeeded in transcribing my Suahéli and Kinika Dictionary in 595 quarto pages. I have spent much time upon transcribing. I am now composing a Kikamba Dictionary, not of such a large volume as the above. The roots of both the Kisuahéli and the Kinika, and of other South-African idioms, are evidently contained in this language.

Speaking of this language in a later communication, Sept. 1849, Dr. Krapf writes—

I have collected a Vocabulary, and translated the first part of St. Mark's Gospel to the sixth chapter. The Wakamba appear to be much more susceptible for the Gospel than others. Regarding trade, they are the principal nation in East Africa. Beyond them, there are many other tribes, which speak a different language. I have collected the names of twenty of them from a man who is a native of Kikuyu. The circumstance that a common language forms the basis of all the dialects spoken south of the Equator, is certainly of the greatest importance, as greatly facilitating Missionary work; and upon it I should like to form a plan for the formation of a South-Africa Continental Mission line. As the language, in all essentials, is but one, so is the main character of their customs, &c., but one, notwithstanding all the differences of the South-African tribes. The wisdom of God has, doubtless, ordered this so on purpose, in order that, "in the fulness of times," His kingdom may be speedily established in this part of Africa. Our Mission in Rabbai has laid open, to a certain degree, all the country to an extent of 300 miles west and south. A Station in Taita or Jagga, or wherever it may be established, will in the same manner make known its advance ground, and propose the establishment of a further Station; and thus it would go on progressively, until, in Central Africa, a line coming from the west, perhaps from the Gaboon, could join that coming from the east, and thus complete the chain. North of the Equator this would not be so easy, on account of the greater difference of languages, and the enmity of the nations which seem to surround the sources of the White River. Whatever may be the success, it is well worth to consider all the facts which speak for such a plan.

Dr. Krapf has also sent home a Vocabulary of a language of the interior, called Kihiau, spoken by the Kamanga Tribe, on the south-eastern bank of the Lake Niassa, which he collected two years ago from a slave at Mombas. He writes—

I perceived the conspicuous intellectual faculties of the young Kamanga; and finding that the lad, from his long stay at Killoa, had made himself master of the Suahéli language, I thought it proper to avail myself of the fair opportunity, through the medium of the Suahéli tongue, to collect a specimen of one of those languages which are chiefly spoken in the neighbourhood of the Niassa lake.

This specimen has confirmed me in my former conviction, that, from the Galla boundary (4 deg. south lat.) down to the Cape of Good Hope, there is one family of languages, which I call the Suahéli stock. Since the Vocabulary was written I have received a work exhibiting specimens of West-African languages, which would go to prove that the Suahéli stock of languages does commence on the southern bank of the Gaboon River.

The fact of there being one grand stock of languages spread over all South Africa, is pregnant with thoughts and prospects regarding the civilization and destiny of this vast continent.*

BOMBAY AND WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionary first arrived in 1820.)

Mission Establishment:

7 Ordained European Missionaries.	1 East-Indian Female Teacher.
1 European Catechist.	2 Native Catechists.
1 East-Indian Catechist and Teacher.	35 Native Teachers and Schoolmasters.

Appointment of a Secretary to the Corresponding Committee at Bombay.

The Committee have long felt the desirableness of having at Bombay, as at Calcutta and Madras, a Secretary to the Corresponding Committee, able to devote a large portion of his time to the Society's operations throughout the Presidency. They rejoice that they can report the accomplishment of this object, by having secured the assistance of the Rev. G. Candy, who is the Minister of a Church in Bombay, and who lately conducted a branch of the Missions of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, among the country-born population. That Society having relinquished its Mission, Mr. Candy was enabled to undertake the duties of the Secretaryship, for which the Committee esteem him to be eminently qualified in every respect.

* Further accounts of the East-Africa Mission are given in the "Church Missionary Record" for March 1850, pp. 57—64; and also in the "Church Missionary Intelligencer" for October, pp. 127—129, 133—136; November, pp. 154—158; December, pp. 181—183; January 1850, pp. 202—205; February, pp. 229—232; March, pp. 253—255; April, pp. 272—276; and May, pp. 307—312.

Mr. Candy left England a short time since for Bombay. The Committee cannot announce this measure without recording, at the same time, their deep obligation to several disinterested and zealous friends of the Society, who have for many years discharged the duties of the Secretaryship with great advantage to the Society, until the growing extent of the Mission has rendered another arrangement necessary. They must especially record the very valuable assistance of one friend, who was suddenly removed by cholera upon his return to England, after thirty years' enjoyment of health in India—the late Archdeacon Jeffreys.

The Bombay Mission has been strengthened by the arrival of the Rev. W. S. Price and Mrs. Price on the 9th of December. They will proceed in the first instance to Nasik, for the advantage of acquiring the native language.

BOMBAY.

The Missionary work in this Station has been divided between the two Missionaries, the Rev. C. W. Isenberg and the Rev. T. Jerrom, the latter confining his attention wholly to the Money School.

Native Church in Bombay.

The Rev. C. W. Isenberg has taken measures for collecting the various Natives at this place, who have been baptized by Missionaries and Ministers of the Church of England, into one Native Church. Forty-seven persons have thus been gathered, viz.

Marathi	10
Guzarathi	7
Canarese	3
Tamil	17
Malabar	2
Chinese	2
Abyssinian Christians	6
Total	47

Native Christians belonging to the Church of England.

Six young Abyssinians are at present living with Mr. Isenberg, who seeks to instruct them in the Scriptures, and to impart to them as much of secular knowledge as their capacities will admit.

Preaching in Marathi and in Amharic has been carried on regularly.

Five adults have been received by baptism into the Church during the last year. At the general Confirmation held in October by the Lord Bishop of Bombay, at the Cathedral, seven Native Converts were confirmed. The number of Communicants is 14.

The Marathi Services are held at Trinity Chapel, Sonapur, on Sunday mornings. The Missionaries report that between 20 and 25 is the average number of attendants.

Connexion of this Mission with Abyssinia.

The connexion of the Bombay Mission with Abyssinia has been already noticed under the head of Jerusalem, and will be viewed with peculiar interest when it is remembered that Mr. Isenberg laboured for some years in that country, until he was expelled by the influence of French Jesuits.

Education.

The Money School.

This important Institution has enjoyed, during the past year, the sole and undivided care and attention of the Rev. T. Jerrom. Though its fluctuations have been greater than at any preceding period, its average attendance has also been greater. There are on the list at present, in the English department, 171 boys; while the Marathi department numbers 130 boys. One boy attending the Money School this year was baptized on the 30th of September.

The important connexion of this School with the progress of Christianity in Western India, has induced the friends in Bombay to propose a great enlargement of its accommodation, and to promise liberal contributions toward effecting that object. The Committee have gladly responded to this proposal by setting aside a grant of 1500*l.* from the Jubilee Fund, in the confidence that an equal sum will be raised on the spot.

Native Boys' and Girls' Schools.

The number of Schools is 15; viz. 1 under Mr. Jerrom; 8 under Miss White; 5 under Mr. Sargon; and 1 under Mr. Isenberg; who also has to superintend Mr. Sargon's 5 Schools. Of these Schools 13 are Marathi, including one attended by Beni Israel, 1 is Guzarathi, and 1 Amharic.

The number of Scholars is 712, viz. 512 boys, 194 girls, and 6 adults. If to these be added the English Institution of the Money School, with 171 boys, the total of all scholars in the Society's Schools in the island is 883. Miss White's Schools are under the Ladies' Female-Education Committee.

The Rev. G. Pigott has furnished the Committee with the following important particulars connected with Female Schools. Some of the Schools are in the native town, among the Brahmins, Purthus, and Sunnars, and consist exclusively of children from those classes.

The Gugaum School is at Miss White's own house. When she visits one of these Schools it is quite a customary thing for the mothers to come, with their female friends, and sit to hear their children taught the Scriptures, and ask for copies of the Scriptures and Tracts, which the children may read to them at home. How important this opportunity, when the instruction given to the young is reflected back on the preceding generation, and the mother, in the anxiety with which she listens to the answering of her child, receives good to her own soul! These native women, had the effort been directed primarily to themselves, might perhaps have sullenly declined it; but addressed to them through their children, it becomes attractive, and they yield themselves to it. How important the improvement of the mothers of India! While they continue ignorant and degraded, how can the character of the people be advanced? The fountains of influence and of example are poisoned, and the ignorance and viciousness of the mother are transmitted to the child.

On Sunday Miss White has also a Bible Class, which is attended by the Teachers of the different Schools, parents of children, and others, and sometimes her schoolroom is quite full. They sit round, each with a copy of the Gospel, and, as verse by verse is read, they are questioned and instructed. Some young men who are being educated at the Government College, and are in its highest classes, have also been occasionally present. What has induced them to attend? Their wives were educated in these Schools; and, perceiving their superiority to the general mass of native females around, they have discerned the excellency of the instruction given in the fruit which it has produced, and they have also come to learn. Nay, such is the growing conviction of the superiority of the native females who have had the privilege of being taught in these Scripture-teaching Schools, that some Hindu gentlemen recently came to Miss White, with an earnest request that she would receive their wives into her house for the purpose of instruction.

What a happy centre of beneficial influence does not one devoted Christian lady become, who gives herself to a work like this, employing her talents to the glory of God and the improvement of her sister females of a heathen race! and what an enlarging circle of desirable results is she not the privileged instrument of describing around her! How preferable to a selfish life, which, in the ennui and listless dissatisfaction which it produces, brings, even here, its own punishment! "She that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth."

This position of usefulness has not been attained without much perseverance against difficulties and untoward circumstances. But prayerful diligence has been blessed. Great power over the vernacular dialects has been acquired by constant teaching of the great truths of the Bible to the native children; and the message of the Gospel is thus conveyed in simple language which the people can understand, and which they hear gladly.

Christian female talent, what a valuable material! Into how much of acceptable and beneficent service might it not be woven! How much of it is wasted, lost, when, if faithfully improved, it might effect so much!

NASIK.

This Station has been occupied by the Rev. J. S. S. Robertson and the Rev. E. Rogers.

During the last year the Native Church has received an accession of nine persons, formerly heathen: it now numbers 40 souls. All have continued stedfast, showing no inclination to return to the sins and follies of idolatry.

Labours of the Rev. J. S. S. Robertson.

The most promising and important department of labour at Nasik consists in the preparation of a class of native young men for holy orders. Mr. Robertson thus describes his labours—

I have been appointed to occupy a position here of great responsibility. All the Candidates for the Native Ministry have been assembled here, and are now under my care. We have been occupied, for the last six or seven weeks, in arranging and completing our plans, and now we have the regular form of a Divinity College presented to our view. The Bishop was of opinion, when I returned to India, that as I was to have the charge of training the dear young Natives for the work of preaching the Gospel to their countrymen, it would be better that I should come up to Nasik than stay at Bombay. Two arguments in favour of this plan were stated by his Lordship; first, that a quiet, retired, and classical spot, like Nasik, was a better place for an Institution, like that to be organized, than such a bustling commercial town as Bombay is; and, secondly, that in Nasik we have larger, commodious premises, rented by our Mission; whereas at Bombay such accommodation as we require has not yet been obtainable. In consequence of this plan for the establishing of our Divinity College at Nasik, the Rev. E. Rogers has been brought here, to strengthen this our chief Mission in Western India.

When I look at the state of our Mission now, in this Presidency, I have great reason to rejoice in the visible tokens of the favour of the Lord. When I first came to India, more than ten years ago, there was not, in connexion with our Missions, a single convert from heathenism. The first convert was Isabella, Mrs. Robertson's ayah (or waiting-maid), whom my partner instructed, and whose heart the Lord opened, so that she attended to the things that were spoken to her. She remains stedfast in the faith. The next convert was Joseph, the porter of the Money School in Bombay: he also continues stedfast, and is a most exemplary Christian man, of the lower classes of life. Then the next converts were our dear Catechists here, Daji Pandurang and Ram Krishna Antaji; the latter the first converted. After them followed our Assistant Catechist, Sorabji Carsetji, in Bombay. In a year or so after their conversion, men and women began to be added to the Church in great numbers. Several of them have gone to their rest since their baptism, having, previously to their decease, given proof that they had found peace and joy, through faith in the Lord Jesus.

Our meeting with our beloved sons in the faith, Ram Krishna Antaji, Daji Pandurang, and Sorabji Carsetji, after more than five years' absence, was very affecting. Tears of joy filled their eyes and ours that we were again permitted to meet in the flesh. They all related to us the trials, the struggles, the temptation, the grief, and the sad days that they had passed through, while we were in Europe.

All our former Converts, and all the new Converts around us, are going on in a very satisfactory way. They present a good sample to the heathen among whom we dwell. The Schools for the benefit of heathen children are going on pretty well. They are attended by about 300 youths in this city. It is a vexation to us sometimes to see the Schools very thinly attended, on account of the numerous heathen festivals. One abominable festival, called the Kôli, is just over: it lasts five days, and during all that time only two or three children were to be found in any single School. I need not describe the festival to you: suffice it to say, that it is the yearly carnival of the polluted Hindus, during which they practise abominations such as may be supposed to be acceptable to the demon of lust.

I have now nine students under my care. At present I am teaching them the Greek of the New Testament, the principles of General and Comparative Grammar, the proper method of instructing others, and Biblical Theology. I give them two Lectures daily, one at noon, the other at 8 P.M. The day is spent by them in studies connected with the subject of my Lectures. On Monday evenings I give no Lecture, as that evening is spent by us in exercises—singing, reading Scripture, and prayer—suitable to a Missionary Prayer-meeting. On these occasions the students take a part in the prayers. I think it would quite delight you to be with us here on a Monday evening. You would hear the Lord Jesus worshipped and praised in that beautiful language the Marathi, which has been for ages the vehicle of only heathen thoughts and heathen devotion. On Thursday evenings, also, I give no Lecture. This evening is spent in a sociable way with the students, and their female relatives who are Christians (wives, sisters, mothers, &c.) Mrs. Robertson gives them all tea. After tea, which they take seated around our table, in the European fashion, we converse on general topics, but always endeavouring to give a Christian as well as a cheerful tone to our conversation. We conclude the evening by singing, reading Scripture, and prayer, all in the Marathi tongue. One of the students takes the prayers. It is my duty to make the remarks on the Scripture read. We give up this evening to Marathi, for the benefit of what we may call the Native-Christian Ladies who do not understand English. And we think it is a good thing to cultivate the social affections of those who have given up their former associates for Christ's sake. We love them as brethren and sisters; and we are gladdened by seeing them loving us as parents, for the interest we take in their temporal and eternal happiness. We hold a Marathi Service every morning, at half-past nine, for the good of all the Christians on the Mission premises. We muster, in all, about thirty persons. After our Service for Christians, the Heathen Schools are addressed by one of the Catechists alternately. The Catechists speak to them with great plainness, earnestness, and affection. It is hoped good may be the issue. Even already, since we came here, we have had an addition to our number, in the person of a young Brahmin, about twenty years old, named Shankar Balawant, whom I hope to baptize on Easter Sunday. I may say that this youth is the fruit of the labours of our dearly beloved Ram Krishna, who, by his faithful and affectionate labours as a Catechist of our Society, has gained the esteem, not merely of the Christians of this place, but even of the formerly bigotted Brahmins, yet heathen, who, at the time of his conversion, were so bitter against him.*

Mrs. Robertson is, like myself, engaged from morning till night in the absorbing and delightful work of our Mission. While I am occupied with the young men, who are preparing for the Native Ministry, either instructing them or giving suggestions about the proper method of conducting their studies, she is taken up with their wives, their sisters, or mothers, &c., teaching some of the most intelligent English, hearing the others read in their native tongue, and showing all how to knit, sew, &c. They have all taken a great liking to my dear partner, and are as submissive to her as well-bred Christian daughters in England are to their mammas.

You will bear in mind that I am now writing about those of our Christian Converts who occupy the highest place—those who were, before their conversion, members of the highest caste of Hindus. Conceive of these our Converts, not as of the rude, savage Negroes, but think of them as lively, intelligent, sprightly, polished Asiatics, of the very highest, viz. the Brahminical family. Some people, who either know very little of the Natives, through ignorance of their language, or are themselves unable to approve of any thing but what is English, can see nothing but what is repulsive, nothing but what is abhorrent, in the Natives of India. For my part, I am ready to recognise worth wherever I find it. Whether a people be white or brown, black or red, if the love of Christ dwells in them, then there is a charm to attract me. And even those who have not yet become Christians have quite gained my affections, by the many excellent things which I have observed in their social manners. I freely declare myself to be extremely partial to the Hindus. Satan, it is true, hath long bewitched them; but I do not despair of their being brought soon to the service of Him who died to save them. Then shall they be washed, sanctified, beautified, glorified! Oh, to see that glorious epoch! I shall not perhaps see it while in this world, but I shall see it certainly, and rejoice at it, in company with the angels of God, when I go to where Martyn, and Schwartz, and Valentine—ever-beloved Valentine!—and Dixon, and Warth, and Dredge, have all been brought to rest from their labours in the presence of the Redeemer.

I must tell you that most of my students have for some time been employed as Catechists. They are now studying, in order that they may be furnished with sufficient literature to satisfy the Bishop, previous to admitting them to Holy Orders. They are all between eighteen and twenty-six years old, except one, who is about thirty-nine. I am very anxious that they should be very well instructed before their Ordination, which, in the case of three or four of them, will, I hope, take place within two years from this time. I have no more time left; so I must conclude by telling you how much we have reason to admire the talents and eloquence of those of my students who are Catechists and Assistant-Catechists. They always speak extempore; and in their frequent addresses, which I hear, to the Native Christians and Heathen, I have been often forced to exclaim to myself, "Would that all, even of our educated parochial Clergy in England, had such valuable gifts!"

In the latter end of March, on account of the rapid setting-in of the hot season at Nasik, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson had found it necessary to retreat to Aujanneri Hill, near Nasik. With the exception of the poor women in the Asylum, all the Native Christians had accompanied them, and were encamped around in neat little bungalows or huts, enjoying the refreshing breezes and the lower range of temperature—the thermometer in the early morning being down at 69° and 71°, and in the hottest part of the day rising not much higher than 87°, while at Nasik, at 3 and 4 P.M., it stood at 96°, and throughout the night seldom below 82°, without any moderating breezes.

Adult Baptisms—Death of one of the Divinity Students.

Immediately before the departure of our Missionary from Nasik, a young Brahmin convert was baptized, and has continued stedfast, and happy in communion with his Native brethren. Another Native was baptized at the same time, the wife of a convert named Yakob. Her husband had been a Christian for three years, and she herself had long been desirous of baptism. She received the name of Rahel (Rachel), as harmonizing with her husband's name Yakob (Jacob).

But the joy of this accession to the Christian Church was turned into sadness, by the sudden illness and death of one of the Divinity Students, which is thus recorded by Mr. Robertson—

The death of Vishnu Pant made me very sad, as well as all his fellow-students. He had gone on very diligently and promisingly with his studies up to the 17th of March, the day on which he was taken ill. As he died on the morning of the 30th, he was ill just thirteen days. He suffered very much, for it was a very bad fever. During his illness both I and some of his fellow-students had frequent and full opportunity of speaking to him of another world, and of the love of Christ which insures bliss to the believer therein. He gave very satisfactory evidence that up to the last his faith and trust in the Saviour remained firm and stedfast. Just two or three days before he died he said to his wife, Sarai Bai, who is also a Christian, "I desire to be with Jesus." To my distinct question, "Do you still love and believe in Jesus?" he gave a most cordial response by signs, at a time when his strength was too far gone to be able to speak. His funeral obsequies were conducted with great propriety. His fellow-students not only undertook to provide a suitable coffin, &c., but most freely offered to carry his remains with their own hands, in the English fashion when there is no hearse, to the place of interment, which is about one mile and a half from the Mission premises. The whole of our Native Christians, who were able to walk or ride, old and young, rich and poor, attended the mournful procession. Even the Native Heathen and Mussulmans seemed struck with awe. It had been the reproach of the Heathen to the Brahmin converts, "that the Missionaries would be kind to them as long as they lived, but that when they died they would be so miserable, that not even a Mahar (one of the outcasts) would be found willing to carry them to burial." How clearly on this occasion was this reproach on the Christian religion shown to be false! A Brahmin youth became a Christian, dies at twenty-three, and he is borne to his last resting-place by fellow-Christians and fellow-students composed of Brahmins, Sudras, Parsis, Mahars, and Portuguese, who all deem it a privilege to be allowed thus to show their respect to the body of him, who was loved by them as a brother while yet his soul was with them. We know and believe that all the false representations of the Brahmins shall, in a similar manner, be exposed. The Lord will give us favour among the poor people around us. It was particularly affecting to my heart to see our dear Shankar Balawant, whom I had just baptized the day before, joyfully taking a prominent and public part in these funeral obsequies. Here was one of the strongest tests of his sincerity to which he could be put. In the face of the bigotted Brahmins of the most holy city of Western India, to whom he was known formerly as an idolater, he cheerfully, and as it were joyfully, takes his part in what they deem a vile work—the carrying the body of a fellow-Christian to the grave! I thought, on this very account, it was a providential circumstance that we had baptized him some days sooner than was once intended. Mrs. Robertson attended the body to the grave. The Native-Christian women of highest rank were also conveyed in a carriage, placed at their disposal by the medical friend who had attended the deceased during his illness. I walked all the way from the Mission-house to the grave at the head of the remains, having the widow as chief mourner by my left hand. The full Service was read in Marathi, partly in the Church and partly at the grave. Daji assisted, by reading the Lesson and responding in the Psalms: all the general responses were most fervently joined in by all present.*

JUNIR.

This Mission is still too much in its infancy to say much about it. The Rev. C. C. Mengé, who is in charge of it, preaches the Gospel in the town of Junir and the neighbouring villages, distributes Tracts, and superintends three Schools, which contain 150 boys, all Sudras. The Brahmins offer violent opposition to the efforts made for evangelizing the people. Mrs. Mengé attempted to establish a Girls' School, but without success. She assists her husband in the work, however, by reading to native visitors, and conversing with them on the truths of the Gospel. She is anxious to establish an Orphan School, and her eminent qualifications for that object make it desirable that she should meet with success.

ASTAGAUM.

The Rev. E. Rogers occasionally visits this little Church, and also the Station at Malligaum.

At Astagaum there are 18 Native Christians. Five Converts have been baptized by Mr. Rogers, viz. three adults, relatives of Ramaji, and two children, the daughter of another Convert who was baptized last year. In Astagaum itself, the opposition to Christianity seems to wear off gradually, but it increases in several of the surrounding villages, where the population is more under Brahminical influence.

MALLIGAUM.

The little native flock at this Out-station has suffered a considerable diminution by removals of several members to other places, five of whom have gone to Nasik, and joined the Congregation there. There are at present twelve baptized Natives at Malligaum in connexion with the Society, viz. one family consisting of seven individuals, three infirm persons belonging to the Poor Asylum, and two young men. One of the Society's Native Catechists is stationed here, administering religious instruction to the inmates of the Poor Asylum, and teaching an English Class in a School which has been lately established, and is supported, by private contributions. There are two Candidates for Baptism at this place.*

Funds received from Friends in India in support of the Society's Operations.

It was announced in our last Report that nearly 700*l.* had been raised in Bengal on account of the Jubilee Fund. That sum was doubled in the course of the Jubilee year. In addition to these sums, 800*l.* was raised in contributions to the general fund of the Society; and there are also several local Church Missionary Associations which collect considerable sums annually, and almost every Station receives direct aid in support of its Schools, buildings, &c. The amount thus raised is estimated at 4000*l.* annually, in addition to the 800*l.* specified above. Such liberal contributions, raised upon the spot, are a sufficient testimony that the work of the Society approves itself to those observers who are best able to appreciate its character.

General View of the North-India Mission.

The Corresponding Committee, in their Annual Report, estimate the whole number of Native Christians in connexion with the Society in North India at 6164, of whom 1024 are Communicants. The number of new Converts during the year has been 71, exclusive of the children of such of them as have families: the number added to the flocks by infant baptism has been about 340. In the Society's Schools in North India are 4679 pupils, of whom 1092 are Native-Christian boys and girls, and the remainder Heathen and Mussulman. The Schools of various sorts are 92 in number.

The points of special interest in the proceedings of the past year are—

First, the opening of a new Station, Bhagulpur, the chief town of the province of Bahar, a district which extends for 500 miles between Burdwan and Benares, and which hitherto has not presented one single Missionary Station. The town contains 30,000, and the immediate neighbourhood two millions, of inhabitants. A Missionary well acquainted with the language has been appointed to this Station, at the earnest solicitation of Christian friends connected with the place. If, upon trial, the openings are sufficiently promising, a permanent Mission will be established in those parts.

Another feature of Mission-work which has been first introduced into the North-India Mission during the last year, is the systematic and special instruction of the Native Teachers in Schools or classes for that purpose. Such classes have been commenced at Thakurpuker, Solo, and Benares, and the Committee look forward with much hope to the result.

CALCUTTA.

During the year three Missionaries, the Rev. Messrs. Sandys, Long, and Hasell, have divided the labours of this Station. Messrs. Sandys and Hasell have ministered to the Christian Congregation assembling in Mirzapur. Mr. Long has undertaken the pastoral superintendence of Thakurpuker; devoting two days every week to the concerns of the Mission, and on a third day meeting at Alipur the Native Catechists, Readers, and Teachers, who spend the day in receiving scriptural and other instruction through the medium of their own language. His object is, to supply the Mission with humble, laborious, and well-qualified workmen for the rural Christian population.

Preaching to the Heathen.

Each of the Missionaries is sufficiently familiar with the native language to visit the thoroughfares of the city, and the villages of the neighbourhood, to preach and converse with the people. A few Converts have been received into the Church.

Education.

The Schools for Christian children, boys and girls, constitute a most interesting and hopeful branch of the work. The boys study Bengali and English: they have also recently begun to study Sanscrit. It is an encouraging fact, that the greater number of the Teachers, now employed in the Schools connected with these Stations, have been trained up in the Native-Christian Schools at Mirzapur.

The English School for heathen boys, which has hitherto been under Mr. Long, has been transferred to Mr. Hasell. The Vernacular and other Schools have been carefully superintended.

At the close of the year an annual examination of the scholars in all the Church Missionary Society's Schools took place, before a large assemblage of civil and military officers. The following account has reached us—

Above 500 children were gathered together under one roof, nearly 300 of whom were the students who attend the English School, Hindus chiefly, though it was pleasant to observe that several Mahomedans were there, and exhibited a fair advance in their studies. About 130 boys came in from the three Vernacular Schools subordinate to the Institution. About 70 of the children were the Christian boys and girls. A considerable degree of activity was manifested in the proceedings of the morning. The several classes, being placed in squares, covered the School-room in its several divisions, and were separately examined by different persons; so that almost every body was simultaneously engaged. Altogether, it was an animating scene. The girls—neat, clean, and intelligent-looking—were in a side room: they read and answered in English with remarkably good expression, and in Bengali naturally. Prizes were afterward distributed.

AGURPARA.

This interesting Out-station maintains its useful and efficient character, under the care of the zealous Catechist Mr. F. De Rozario, and the superintendence of the Calcutta Missionaries. Mr. De Rozario writes—

The Missionary work has been carried on in every department as usual, and not without fresh tokens of God's favour; just enough to encourage the feeble efforts of man, and to make him more prayerful for future greater blessings. The number of pupils, both in the English and Vernacular Schools has increased. The Gospel has made strong impressions on their minds. A young man, a Brahmin of the first class, has embraced Christianity, and one other.

BURDWAN.

The health of the Rev. J. J. Weitbrecht has been, through Divine mercy, greatly restored by the rest and journey alluded to in the last Report. He was able to return to Burdwan early in last year, and his general health has continued good. The Rev. B. Geidt has continued his labours throughout the year at the Station.

Completion of a New Church.

The external machinery of the Mission has been strengthened by the completion of a Church, erected at the cost of between 700*l.* and 800*l.*, including two fine bells and a clock. The Rajah of Burdwan subscribed 50*l.* toward the tower. It is reported to be one of the best specimens of modern Gothic architecture to be found in Lower India. It stands in a clump of trees by the road side: "the chaste, elegant spire, rising high above surrounding objects, stands as a silent but unquestionable witness that Christianity is settling in this still heathen land."

General View of the Station.

Mr. Weitbrecht reports of the general state of the Station—

In the general aspect of this Mission no very striking changes have occurred, and the numeral increase of our Native-Christian Congregation has been but small. But there is an internal growth, and I feel persuaded we have been advancing in this respect. The number of professed Christians is 180. Many pleasing instances of true faithfulness and zeal in our Native Helpers, tried by long and faithful service in Schools and preaching, have been witnessed, and a sweet spirit of piety in different individuals has now and then cheered our hearts.

Mr. Geidt states—

I have had, during the last year, several young men, among whom were one or two Brahmins, who came often to my house, sat down for an hour, and read the Bible with me. There is a seeking, in many of them, after something better than Hinduism. . . . Some other young men, of a lower caste, have come and remained even in our Compound for a few days, expressing a wish to become Christians. I mention these instances to show that there is certainly a leaven working among them. Who of this class would have ventured, ten years ago, to live for some days or weeks within the limits of a Mission?

Education.

The Schools for Christian boys and girls have been carried on satisfactorily. The industrial system is, as far as practicable, introduced. Five promising native helpers, raised up by this School, are already employed in the Mission. The Girls' and Infant-schools have increased in numbers. Since the death of the interesting Native Schoolmistress, Rabi, another native woman, Helen, has been placed in charge of the School, with assistants, who, like herself, were trained by Mrs. Weitbrecht, and who all prove far more energetic and efficient than the adult Teachers who have been hitherto employed. Of the English School for heathen boys Mr. Weitbrecht writes—

It has been under my superintendence during this year, Mr. Cecil continuing the head Teacher. The number of pupils has been steadily increasing: there are now above 100 on the register. The Bible knowledge of the first classes was highly commended by the residents of the Station at our last Examination, as well as their proficiency in other branches, such as history, geography, translation, arithmetic, &c.

Five Vernacular Schools are under the superintendence of Mr. Geidt, and contain about 390 boys. Mr. Geidt reports respecting these Schools—

I give instruction five days in the week. It is arduous work, especially during the hot season, to go four miles to some of these villages, give three or four hours' instruction, answer the questions of the people around, or address them; and then return the same distance in the burning heat of the sun. Then I best experience of what Missionary labour consists. But arduous as this work is, it is in my opinion the most useful, and calculated to bestow the greatest blessings on the country, and it is therefore my delight. These Vernacular Schools, being in the very heart of Bengali superstition, exercise both on old and young, learned and unlearned, a beneficial influence. People, seeing and hearing us Christians, acquire confidence, and become, gradually, favourably disposed to our religion. The children read often to their parents at home, and tell them what they have learned in the School. The people therefore, around Burdwan, make no objection whatever to the reading of our Christian books in the Vernacular Schools.

Preaching to the Heathen.

The preaching to the Heathen has been regularly continued in the bazaar and villages. Mr. Geidt writes—

The numbers differ much. In Burdwan there is, all the year round, a Congregation varying from 20 to 100 and upward. I have frequently heard them saying, "The Christian religion will prevail here and everywhere, and our religion will fall; but we cannot forsake the faith of our ancestors: we are to remain Hindus: our children, however, will become Christians." Even many of the old orthodox Brahmins often listen quietly and calmly. I have proofs that we labour not in vain, though our hearts' desires for the conversion of great numbers have not been realized at Burdwan. This keeps us low, and makes us ascribe all the success, honour, and glory to God alone.

A bungalow has lately been built in a village nine miles north-east of Burdwan, to enable the Missionaries and Catechists to reside there during their preaching excursions in the surrounding villages.

On one occasion the two Missionaries, and the Rev. W. Keane, spent several days in preaching in these villages, and met with general and respectful attention. Mr. Geidt remained after the other friends returned to Burdwan, in order to celebrate Divine Service, and to keep a Sabbath on the spot—that appointed "sign" between God and His intelligent creatures. He writes—

I had this day a meeting with my own people in the tent, partly for our own spiritual benefit, and partly to impress the Heathen with our Christian Worship, and make them perceive the difference between their and our religion; and I may say our singing, prayer, and reading and expounding the Scriptures, had a good effect on those who were present.

KRISHNAGHUR.

Changes in the Districts.

Since our last Report, some important alterations have taken place in the arrangements of this Mission. The Solo District has been divided into two. The old Station, Solo, has been occupied by the Rev. C. Bomwetsch. A new Mission-house and Girls' School-house have been erected at Bholobpur, on the banks of the Boirob, six miles from the old Station; and to this the Rev. J. G. Lincké has removed. A new Church has also been commenced, and a Christian village, of 26 houses and 156 inhabitants, has already collected around it. At Joginda, though an Out-Station to Rottenpur, where the Missionary in charge resides, a small bungalow has been built, that he may sojourn, during the healthy part of the year, among the people for a week or two at a time. The number of Districts may be therefore reckoned as seven.

The greater part of the necessary Mission-buildings having been now erected, or nearly so, the Missionaries are able to give their time and attention, more than hitherto, to visiting those numerous members of the Christian flocks still dwelling in scattered heathen villages, to personally instructing the Schools and Native Teachers and Catechists, and to preaching Christ to the multitudes still ignorant of His great salvation within the district and around it.

Death of the Rev. C. T. Krauss.

The Krishnaghur District has been deprived by death, during the last year, of one of its most zealous, faithful, and useful Labourers—the Rev. C. T. Krauss, of Kapasdanga. Though warned by an attack of illness, he was so zealous in his work as to persevere beyond his physical powers. The completion of the enlargement of his Church, and its re-opening; the preparation of forty younger members of his flock for Confirmation; the work of translations; and multifarious Missionary duties; occupied his attention at the same time. In his rides to meet his brethren engaged with him in the work of translation he caught a fever, from exposure to the sun. He neglected the symptoms, and proceeded with his family toward Calcutta to attend a Missionary Conference; but he reached no further than Hooghly, where he expired in the house of a kind and friendly physician on the 14th of October 1849. A worldly-wise judgment may censure such zeal and determination of character under the name of imprudence. But such men are needed if the world is to be won to Christ—spiritual warriors, who earn for themselves the commendation bestowed in holy writ upon one of David's captains: "His hand clave unto his sword."

Upon the death of Mr. Krauss, the Rev. F. Schurr removed to Kapasdanga, and Mr. Herman Ansorge, who had been assisting at Kapasdanga, removed to Solo to assist Mr. Bomwetsch.

General Survey of the Missionary Work in Krishnaghur.

The Committee are able to present, on this occasion, a general view of the Krishnaghur Mission, from the Report of a visit of inspection made by the Rev. G. G. Cuthbert, Secretary of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee. In addition to the facilities for obtaining accurate Missionary information, which Mr. Cuthbert's office affords him, he possesses the advantage of having had much experience in the Ministry at home; having held for ten years a parochial charge in a county town of Ireland, before he devoted himself to Missionary work. He was also well acquainted with Krishnaghur, having resided there, and taken charge of one of the Districts, upon his first arrival in India. With these advantages for forming a correct judgment of the case, the Committee present with much confidence the result of his inspection, as exhibiting a clear and graphic description of the state of the Mission.

It must be borne in mind that, seventeen years ago, the name of Krishnaghur first appeared in the records of our Society, as an Out-station to Burdwan, where a School for heathen boys and girls had been commenced. This was the first attempt of the Missionary to disturb the unbroken heathenism of the District. Now, Mr. Cuthbert reports upon the present state of the Mission under three aspects, as exhibiting a progress in

I. Missionary Establishments.
II. Missionary Instruction.
III. Missionary Extension.

I. First, MISSIONARY ESTABLISHMENTS. Missions and Mission-work are now rooted in the District—settled in the land as firmly as the English people are in India, aye, and more so. Among the evidences of this settlement in the land are the following—

1. There are six Stations now occupied, and an Out-Station may be counted as a seventh.

2. Churches are built, substantial and durable. At the Sudder Station the Church is a beautiful structure. At Kapasdanga almost every thing is a model of neatness and order: the Church has just been enlarged by taking in the verandah and boys' Schoolroom, and will now hold 500 worshippers, and there will be 500 Christian worshippers and more to fill it—a truly joyful fact. At Rottenpur the Church has likewise been enlarged, and will, when finished, be a neat and pleasant building, with a verandah on either side. Each Station has its substantial Church.

3. The Missionary dwelling-houses are as stable and permanent buildings as the Churches: they hold possession of the land for the Church Missionary Society—no, rather, for Christ (whose Envoy the Society is) till He come.

A day spent at any of the Stations is extremely interesting, so various and so pleasing are the occurrences and employments succeeding each other during the hours. There is an early bell for prayers, for both the School-children and the people. Some of the Missionaries go to the villages for worship with the Christians, and others to preach the Gospel to the Heathen. The children come in classes to the Missionary's study to receive their lessons: they are taught singing, history, geography, &c., sufficiently to make them useful members of society. Then the people come about for medicine, and bring their wounds to be healed, bodily wounds as well as spiritual. After some time the School-girls, and at some Stations the married women, come to sew or knit in the verandah for an hour or two, and so on throughout the day. About seven o'clock in the evening the bell rings for evening prayers. At Kapasdanga, the Church being under repair, the people assembled in the Boys' Schoolroom on the evening which I spent there. The sight was most striking: we found the little place, and the verandah without, thronged with the Native Christians of the Compound and of the Christian village surrounding it, including the School-children. There must have been nearly 300 persons altogether: many women with infants were obliged to sit on the ground outside even of the verandah. A hymn was sung by the assembly, and then a chapter was read from the Scriptures: I do not think any exposition was was given here, as had been done at Krishnaghur when I attended a similar Service on the preceding evening. After the reading, all, leaning forward—for they sat not on benches, but on the ground—covering their faces with their hands, and bending down to the ground, engaged in prayer, led by a Native Catechist, who performed the Service—all, of course, in the Bengali language.

4. The School-houses are also permanent buildings, and present a fine prospect to the eye. New Girls' School-houses at four Stations are partly finished, and will add to the rapidly-rising objects of beauty and promise, which are evidences of Missionary establishment in this District.

5. The Christian villages—villages where Christians only are permitted to locate themselves—are another interesting object, and now exist at every Station. The cottages and huts, for there are both, from ten to fifty in number, are generally neat and comfortable. I will describe one of them. We walked through the Christian village of Rottenpur early in the morning. It has increased very much since I last saw it: there must be now about fifty cottages. They are of many sizes, and degrees of style and neatness, from the Catechist's well-raised, plastered, divisioned, and ornamented house, with its little offices attached, down to the simple but neat one-roomed hut of the agriculturist, whose wages, being but about three farthings a day, cannot afford a fine house. His kitchen is a little hole in the ground in front of his hut; and all his worldly substance, which is indeed next to nothing, is contained within its four mud walls, some twelve or fourteen feet square. Nevertheless, his wife and children have generally a cleanly and cheerful look. They are Christians. The mistress of the lowly dwelling, instead of scampering off into the jungle, or running up into a dark corner, and turning her back upon a visitor, like the Hindu female, draws her saree (the long cloth which forms the dress) modestly about her, and comes forward to meet one with a smile and a salaam. Many of them are comely young women, educated in the Schools, and showing their cultivation by their superior looks. They can read their Bible; and poor indeed is the hut which has not, hanging on, or stuck into its mud walls, a rude shelf containing a Bengali Testament, the Psalms, perhaps a Common-Prayer Book, a Hymn-book, and two or three Tracts or School-books; marking, and as it were consecrating, the abode as a Christian dwelling. It is pleasing to observe the happy aspect of the children, who are to be seen here in as great numbers as in an Irish village.

II. Secondly, MISSIONARY INSTRUCTION is established in Krishnaghur.

1. For Adults, the Sunday Services of the Church, with reading and exposition of the Scriptures, morning and evening during the week. Their answering in the responsive parts of Public Worship—hearty and audible—is quite delightful; and their improvement in singing is very striking. The number attending Public Worship is both remarkable and commendable.

2. For children, the Boys' and Girls'-schools afford valuable means of instruction. From 25 to 60 girls, and from 30 to 80 boys, are taught in each School, and are continually under the eye and instruction of the Missionary, brought up in Christian habits of order, neatness, and steady attention to duty. These must exercise a great influence upon the population at large, as will be seen in another generation. Beside the School studies in ordinary branches of knowledge, the lads are taught some trade ; such as book-binding, carpentering, tailoring, and at one Station even soap-making is carried on by a Native Christian. Some also learn the work of table servants, house "bearers," &c. Many girls of the School are settled as good wives and mothers in the villages.

At Bholobpur Mr. Cuthbert witnessed the ceremony of four Native-Christian marriages. The young women had been educated at that School. The account continues—

It was a pleasing circumstance, that they felt and showed much regret at leaving their schoolfellows and the Missionary's family, from whom they had received so much kindness and benefit; and that even their joy at attaining the dignity of a wife, to which the Indian female looks forward with so much eagerness, could not overcome their natural and becoming sorrow. The effects of education were clearly seen in the superior look and manner of two of the bridegrooms who had been at School: the others appeared scarcely to know what they were about, or what they said, or what was said to them. All was conducted with great solemnity and propriety, and the behaviour of the rustic crowd was most orderly and becoming. I doubt if an equal number of people of the same rank in England or Ireland would have behaved any thing like so well on a similar occasion. I have witnessed very different marriage-scenes in Europe.

A new feature of instruction has of late been added—Infant-schools have been begun in some of the Stations, with every hope of success. The infant scholars are not far advanced as yet; but any one who has witnessed the operation of these Schools must rejoice in their existence, using as they do for good the very earliest portion of the brief period which the native female can give to education.

Another important measure has been adopted by the Rev. C. Bomwetsch at Solo; namely, the formation of a class of Native Catechists, Readers, and Teachers, for their further instruction in the truths of Scripture, and for the improvement of their minds. All the instruction will be in the vernacular tongue; and the elder members of the class, whilst pursuing their studies, are to engage also in actual Missionary work in the Schools and villages of the District. It has been long felt that such a means of improving the native agency in Krishnaghur is urgently called for, and is likely to prove of very essential benefit to the whole Mission. We trust that the blessing of God may rest upon the design.

III. Thirdly, MISSIONARY EXTENSION prevails in Krishnaghur. Some progress is being made. Converts are gradually, though slowly, coming in from day to day. Several families have been lately announced as entering the fold. Much more might be done by means of Schools for the Heathen in the large villages; but the want of Teachers, both in regard of numbers and qualifications, is still grievously felt in the Mission. In fact, Teachers, that deserve to be called so, are not to be had in the country: before we can have them we must make them. For a long time the Missionaries have been chiefly engaged in bringing things to order within their own borders. Now this has been in some degree effected; and they are enabled to extend their operations by giving more attention to the Heathen immediately around and among the Christian flocks, and by going over the country beyond their own immediate limits. The circle in which the Gospel of Christ is known is now gradually widening; and though there are many difficulties and discouragements to contend with in the character of the people, Christians as well as others, yet is the field full of cheering promise; and cold must be the Christian's heart that can pass through it without often saying to the Labourers—"The blessing of the Lord be upon you: we bless you in the name of the Lord."

To the graphic description of the work of the Mission, taken out of Mr. Cuthbert's report of his visit of inspection, the Committee need only add a few remarks.

The last Returns report the number to be 548.

An encouraging instance of conversion in a pupil of the English School at the Sudder Station took place about the middle of last year. Being sixteen years old, he was of age according to the law in India, and his parents and friends were unable to use force, as in many other instances, to defeat his purpose. But as this was the first conversion of a youth of respectable connexions residing in the Station, a very great excitement was caused by the event. On the next day the School fell off in numbers, from 170 to about 50; and after a short time it was as low as 28. At the end of the year, six months after the event, it was still nearly deserted; but other Schools which had been set up had already failed, and there was every prospect of a return of scholars.

Confirmation at Krishnaghur.

The Bishop of Calcutta arrived at Krishnaghur on the 25th of Sept. 1849, and on the following day held a conference with all the Missionaries of the District, and afterward administered the rite of Confirmation in the Mission Church. Archdeacon Pratt thus describes the occasion—

The season of the year prevented the Bishop's going into the District to hold Confirmations at the various Missionary Stations; and the same cause made it difficult to bring in all the Native Christians, who were prepared, from their several villages. There were therefore only 94 confirmed; though, had the time of the year been favourable, there would have been many more. These, however, together with the native flock at the Sudder Station, completely filled the Church. The Service was in Bengali, the Prayers being read by the Rev. James Innes, and the Lessons by the Rev. Messrs. Lipp and Krauss. The Bishop then called on the Rev. C. H. Blumhardt to read the Preface to the Confirmation Service, and also the other parts, in the Bengali, portion by portion, as his Lordship read them in English. The Rev. H. C. Krückeberg, as the senior Missionary, was appointed to act as interpreter of the remarks which the Bishop made to the assembled Native-Christian flock, in his usually impressive way on these occasions. The Service was a very interesting one; and we doubt not that the instruction and advice given by the Bishop will be blessed to some who were present.

The young Brahmin who was recently baptized, and also a fellow-Convert from the same caste, who was brought up in the same Mission-school, and baptized two years ago, were among the persons confirmed.

Missionary Tours.

The Missionaries have been enabled to devote more time to the carrying of the Gospel to the Heathen than in former years. Mr. Innes reports that he has gone out twice a-week, with his Native-Christian Teachers, to address the people in the Bazaar, and in a Preaching-Chapel in the city. Mr. Krückeberg states that he had made two Missionary tours in tents, living among the Natives for six weeks, accompanied by two Readers and a Catechist, travelling from place to place. Beside these excursions, it is an adopted rule in his Station that every Reader, Catechist, and Teacher, goes out on a Saturday to preach the Gospel in some village or place in the neighbourhood, and to enter into religious discussions with every traveller who is met in the field or in the way, in the hope that some souls may be gained over to the Church of God. Saturday evening is set apart for conversation on this subject, and for prayer. Mr. H. Ansorge reports that he had gone to the surrounding villages 103 times in the year. Mr. Bomwetsch made a tour to the north of Krishnaghur, where no Missionary was known to have penetrated.

BENARES.

This important Mission, which the Committee were able in their last Report to speak of as presenting much encouragement, still continues to call forth our gratitude and praise, though, on account of the absence of two out of five Missionaries attached to the Station, some departments of labour cannot be carried on with the efficiency which might be desired. The Rev. W. Smith, however, has now returned to his work, after a stay in England; the Rev. M. Wilkinson supplies the place of the Rev. P. L. Sandberg, now in England, at the Free-school; and the Rev. C. B. Leupolt and the Rev. J. Fuchs undertake the general work of the Mission.

Native-Christian Church.

The Native-Christian flock has been increased during the year by the addition of 9 Converts and 29 children, and amounts in all to 292 souls. It has been, as is the case, we believe, with every mixed Christian flock in every land, a source of both grief and joy to the Pastor; but here rejoicing seems to have predominated.

Those who have joined the Christian band as Converts seem to be satisfactory persons. One of them was a young Brahmin Pundit, who came to the sacred city to perfect himself in Sanscrit lore, and there, through the preaching of the Missionaries, finding Him who is "the Wisdom of God," sat down like Mary at Jesus' feet to hear His Word, and afterward fell down before His cross to receive His salvation. Another was a medical student of cultivated mind, who had studied medicine in Calcutta, and, on returning to his friends in Benares, yielded himself to Christ. Others, both male and female, encourage the hearts of the Missionaries, and walk as becometh the Gospel.

Some have entered into rest, and have comforted, by their peaceful, happy deaths, those who watched over them in the Lord. Among these was the worthy Catechist, John Paiba. For sixteen years he was a faithful and zealous helper, and a Christian companion to the Missionaries. He lived for his work and in his work of making known Christ, and during the above lengthened period Mr. Leupolt says, in a private Letter, he had to rebuke him but once. He died calmly resting in the perfect work of the Saviour, as he had lived to adorn and commend His blessed Gospel. Joy mingles largely with our sorrow for such deaths as these.

The Christian body has branched out already. Several families have been for some time settled in a village called Gharwa, some miles distant from the Station; and form there the germ of, we trust, a future extensive rural Christian community. Catechists reside among them, and they are superintended by the Missionaries of Benares. Every Church, even the youngest, should be a spreading, a Missionary Church; and this character has been imparted to this infant village community. A branch Mission has been formed in connexion with it.

Mr. Leupolt writes—

> The spirit of our people becomes every year more genuine and Christian, prejudices are slowly eradicated, the moral tone is raised, and the people grow, though but slowly, in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. The Jubilee year of the Church Missionary Society will be remembered by our people for years to come, as a season in which it pleased the Lord to grant them a special blessing. That blessing is still felt, and we hope may prove lasting through eternity.

The closing day of the Jubilee year was celebrated by the baptism of six Native Converts, three men and three women —two of the men being Mahomedans, and one a Hindu. The day was thus spent. The Missionaries, with the European and Native Catechists, met the Candidates for Baptism at six o'clock in the morning for prayer. At half-past seven the Morning Service commenced. The Church was full: the Candidates were baptized. In the afternoon another Service was held, when the Holy Communion was administered to sixty Communicants. Mr. Leupolt writes—

> It was a day of grace to us all; a day of Jubilee to our Christians, to us, and to the Mission at large. Who would despair, or even become faint-hearted, when, beside God's promises, he is permitted to see days like this.

Visitation of the Bishop.

But the hearts of the Missionaries have been rejoiced by witnessing another interesting scene, in the Church which they have so recently erected in the Mission Compound, and which bears the name of St. Paul's. On the 23d of November the Lord Bishop of Calcutta held in this Church an Ordination, in which two of the Deacons who have laboured in this Mission, Messrs. Wilkinson and Fuchs, were admitted to Priests' Orders; and two new Labourers, who have been for some years Missionaries in India in connexion with a Lutheran Mission, were ordained Deacons. This Ordination will greatly strengthen the Missionary District, which, with Benares as a centre, comprises Chunar, Jaunpur, and Gorruckpur. On the 28th of November the Bishop held a Confirmation at the same Church, when twenty-seven men and seventeen women were confirmed. The Service was in Hindustani, and the Bishop's impressive address was translated clause by clause by Mr. Leupolt. On the next day the Native Congregation was assembled, and after Morning Prayers the Bishop addressed them, through the interpretation of Mr. Leupolt, upon the parable of the lost sheep, and the joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, in a very interesting and simple manner, adapted to their comprehension.

Industrial Employments of the People.

The Missionaries at Benares have long encouraged industrial habits among their Native-Christian people, and have tried manufactures of various sorts, to enable them to maintain themselves. The following passage of Mr. Leupolt's Report refers to this branch of the work—

> In a temporal point of view we are progressing likewise. All the Christians residing in the villages, without exception, maintain themselves as heretofore. Not one of them receives gratuitous support from us. They are variously employed. One man has become a wood-merchant in the city, and is doing well: another has hitherto continued his trade of manufacturing caps. Two additional families have taken to farming: one has taken the spare ground of the Christian village at Sigra, and the other has rented ground from a Zemindar. Our farming experiment has hitherto answered well. We have shares in three villages, and have at present, beside Mr Woods, eight families residing outside: two more will be settled next year. The profits derived from the villages are about 600 rupees; but I would still wait another year before giving a decided opinion as to our success.

Christian and Orphan Institutions.

In reference to these Institutions Mr. Leupolt writes—

The only trade in which we are now engaged, beside a little tailors' work, is book-binding. This department is carried on with efficiency, and has proved remunerating. The income during the last year has been 1258 rupees, and the expenditure 863 rupees; the stores of materials, &c., in hand, 600 rupees. There are five young men on wages, beside the master, and three more are learning the trade. When in England in 1842-43 I wrote a little book—"Recollections of a Missionary." This has yielded a profit of about 60*l.* Half of this sum I have appropriated to increasing our binding establishment, by having materials sent from England. These have arrived, and I do not think I can appropriate the rest of the money to more advantage, than by having the balance invested in the same manner.

Education.

The Christian Schools comprise a Boys'-school, containing 49 scholars, a Girls'-school of 39, and an Infant-school of 32 children. A most important branch of Christian instruction has been lately added, in a class of superior pupils, who receive a theological training to fit them for the office of Teachers. It is the commencement of a head Seminary, and comprises ten young men, including two Catechists and two young men formerly Brahmins. Mr. Fuchs devotes much time to their instruction in theology, and the original languages of Scripture.

Jay Narain's College and Free-school.

In the early part of the year, Mr. Sandberg having returned to Europe, and Mr. Wilkinson being with his bereaved family at Simla, the management of this noble Institution rested upon Mr. Mackay; and it has been a cause of much thankfulness that he was preserved in health, and enabled to carry on the work with vigour and efficiency. The number of scholars was partially reduced; but upon the return of Mr. Wilkinson the School began to recover its numbers.

During the Bishop's visit, the School was examined by Archdeacon Pratt, who reported favourably of it. The annual public examination was attended by the Hon. the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-West Provinces, and many other gentlemen, and gave high satisfaction to all who witnessed it.

Preaching to the Heathen.

Mr. Leupolt being the only Missionary sufficiently master of the language for this department, it has chiefly devolved upon him during the last year. He has been ably assisted by Messrs. Mackay and Broadway, European Catechists, and by his Native Helpers. They have kept up daily preaching in the city of Benares, nor have the villages been neglected. Mr. Leupolt reports—

For this purpose two Native Catechists were stationed in the villages outside, where our Christians are located. They are under the superintendence of Mr. Woods. They have commenced two Schools, and go round the neighbouring villages to preach the Gospel. At the beginning of every month they come to Benares, and give an account of their work. The reception they meet with everywhere is most gratifying. It indicates a new era in our work. They have also visited the Melas in Ramnagur, and lived for several days among the Fakirs in the Sarai (place of accommodation for travellers), being treated by them with the greatest consideration. O that we could soon have a large native army in the field! for without them we shall never accomplish the spiritual conquest of Hindustan.

Our preaching department is more promising than ever. O for a larger number of right-minded, able Labourers, and our influence would be still more felt; but instead of increasing in number we become less, while new duties are devolving upon us. On Mr. Hawes' return to England, the Jaunpur Mission was connected with Benares. Thank God, however, we know that it is not by might, nor by power, but by the spirit of the Lord that the people are converted. The work is the Lord's, and He will care for the same. His name be praised!

JAUNPUR.

The Committee are sorry to report that this Station has been left without a Missionary during the last year; the Rev. R. Hawes having been obliged to return home to England on account of his wife's continued ill health, and there having been no available Missionary to supply his place. Mr. Leupolt has visited Jaunpur from Benares occasionally.

Education.

The large Jaunpur School, as well as the Out-schools, have been conducted in a very efficient manner by Mr. J. P.

Cæsar. The attendance has rather increased: the whole number of children is about 400.

During the visit of the Bishop of Calcutta to Benares, he deputed Archdeacon Pratt to visit Jaunpur. The Archdeacon examined the Free School, containing 150 boys, in the Scriptures, in Geography, and in Euclid, and expressed himself much gratified by the result.

GORRUCKPUR.

Native-Christian Settlement at Basharatpur.

The Native-Christian flock are located, for the most part, in a Christian Settlement at Basharatpur, where there is now a good house for the Missionary to whom is assigned that division of the work. The whole number of Native Christians is 165.

Mr. Acheson, who was appointed to the care of the Farm and Christian Settlement in 1847, soon after going to reside there was attacked with fever, and obliged to remove to Benares. Mr. De Ravera, a Catechist, resides on the spot, and carries on the work under the Rev. J. P. Mengé's superintendence. The Christians maintain themselves by agriculture. Their religious state is described by Mr. Mengé as improving and encouraging.

Education.

There are two Schools for Christian and orphan children at the Station; and a large School for heathen boys, originally established by the resident Magistrate, and made over to the Society. An European Master, Mr. Greenfield, conducts this School, under the superintendence of Mr. Mengé. It numbers 140 scholars. Mr. Greenfield writes—

> I am truly happy to state that the last year has wrought a change in respect to their estimation of the Bible. I think we may safely say that respect for the Bible is a point gained. Every boy who can read in any language reads in the Bible every day; and I can testify that several boys now pay the greatest attention to, and take much interest in, their Christian lessons.

Preaching to the Heathen.

The preaching to the Heathen has been steadily prosecuted by Mr. Mengé, with his Native Assistants; but no marked effects have appeared.

CHUNAR.

Cheering condition of the Native Flock.

The Native-Christian Congregation consists of above 100 individuals, connected chiefly with the troops. It is under the care of the Rev. D. Hechler, who speaks of it with great satisfaction. The members have abounded, out of their poverty, in liberality.

Doubts have been for some time entertained by your Committee whether Chunar should be retained as a Missionary Station, while so many more important Stations are unoccupied or feebly supported. The knowledge of these doubts having reached the native flock, called forth on their part a genuine proof of their value for Christian ordinances. Mr. Hechler writes—

> I wish particularly to put upon record the fact, that from the time when first informed, above two years ago, that the Committee were contemplating my removal, and the abandonment of this Mission, a daily Prayer-meeting has been kept up by the Congregation. They commenced it of their own accord, and have carried it on by themselves. They first forwarded a memorial to the Parent Committee, earnestly entreating them not to abandon this Mission: then they betook themselves to prayer; and earnest indeed must at times their prayer have been, for they used language like this—"O Lord! take all we have from us: leave us only the Gospel and our Minister."

Mr. Hechler mentions another proof of the prosperous state of his flock—that, having been compelled to separate one of the members from the Congregation in consequence of a deplorable fall, "I was, even in the midst of my sorrow, cheered when I heard how the backslidden delinquent was, by the other members, exhorted and entreated, with tears, to return as a truly-penitent sinner; and I rejoice that I am able to add, that, though not yet re-admitted to the Communion Table, he is attending all the other Means of Grace."

These proofs of the value which the native flock entertain for the Gospel, and their profit under it, show them to be in a state of advancement which renders them every way worthy of a resident Pastor. But the Committee would desire rather to see them settled under the charge of a competent Native Pastor, with occasional superintendence from an European Clergyman, than that they should occupy the chief time of a Missionary, whose peculiar office it is to labour for the extension of the Gospel beyond the limits of a native flock.

Mr. Hechler has several Vernacular Schools, containing about 280 scholars. His health has not allowed him to labour much in preaching to the Heathen.

AGRA.

Upon the return of the Rev. F. A. Kreiss to India, the Rev. C. T. Hoernle came with his family to Europe; so that during the last year only three Missionaries have been employed at this important Station.

Native-Christian Congregations.

The Rev. C. G. Pfander has charge of the Congregation in the city of Agra, numbering about 100 souls; and Messrs. Kreiss and Schneider of that at Secundra, containing 300 souls. The Missionaries report favourably of the outward consistency of the Converts with the profession of the Gospel, but yet long to witness in them more of the life and power of Divine grace. No new Convert has been admitted to baptism in the course of the year.

Education.

The Christian Boys' and Girls'-schools, chiefly orphans, in Secundra, have been continued as last year. The Vernacular Schools number 230 scholars. But Christian education has not as yet been carried out to the extent which the Missionaries desire. They have long pleaded for the establishment of an Educational Institution of a high order at Agra, which may both introduce Christian instruction into the upper ranks of native society, and also prove a training school for Native Teachers. Your Committee strongly feel the importance of increasing the efficiency of this Mission, both in respect of the City and District of Agra, and of the vast regions now opened to us in the Punjab. They trust that preparations are now made for securing the services of competent men to undertake this important work.

Industrial Department.

In addition to the Printing-Press connected with the Orphan Institution, a Type-Foundry has been erected during the last year, which is superintended by an European type-founder. There is every prospect of this trade proving a profitable addition to the establishment, and furnishing increased employment to the Christian population. The profits of the Press during the last year have been about £400, which has been carried to the account of the Mission for the purchase of property adjoining the Kuttra Mission Compound in the city.

Preaching to the Heathen.

Each of the Missionaries has taken part in the labour of preaching to the Heathen, and in circulating the Scriptures and other books. It is estimated by Mr. Pfander that at least 300 villages had been visited by himself or his Catechists in the course of the year.

The Rev. F. E. Schneider spent the month of November in a Missionary excursion. One remarkable notice occurs in his Journal, which deserves to be recorded on account of its connexion with the prospect of a Punjab Mission. Mr. Schneider writes—

> The most steady and anxious hearers at the Mela at Betesow were some Sikhs, belonging to a detachment of the Sepoys sent to the place, from Agra, to keep order during the time of the fair. Some of them, who had heard the glad tidings of the Saviour of the world for the first time, expressed their astonishment at having never been made acquainted with those most important truths by their European officers. I felt myself at a loss, and at the same time ashamed, to give them a satisfactory answer.

Many striking instances are recorded, which prove that many among the mass of Hindus hear and receive the Word of Truth, are convinced of the folly of idolatry, and fully believe that Christianity shall ultimately prevail. It is frequently discovered that the Tracts and portions of Scripture, distributed several years ago, have been read and pondered upon ever since by intelligent Natives. Every thing bespeaks a state of preparedness in the native mind. The Church of Christ is loudly called upon to provide for the approaching crisis, by maturing their Missionary establishments, and sending forth men able, under God, to direct a great moral movement into a right course.

MIRUT.

Congregation—Baptisms.

The Committee are very thankful to be able to report some progress in this Mission, in which the Rev. R. M. Lamb labours alone. Mr. Lamb states that, though the average of the adult Congregation is only forty, the number of Communicants is thirty. "It is cheering to the heart to witness the devout attention of the worshippers, and to listen to their voices engaged in prayer and praise." Paul, the Munshi, who was baptized a year ago, continues to labour as a Catechist with much zeal and success.

During the past year three Converts have been baptized. "One is an interesting case of a man aged 30, who came from the Punjab, and whose brother, a Christian, lives in Mr. Lamb's service. This man was of the Sikh religion, a follower of Nanak, and a guru, able to read the Punjabi. He studied with so much diligence, during his preparation for Christian baptism, as to be able fairly to read the Urdu Gospel of St. Matthew in two months. His services will be valuable among the Sikhs, many of whom have, and may, come to Mirut."

Missionary Excursions.

Mr. Lamb has begun to take Missionary excursions, and is much cheered by the ready reception and intelligent attention he has met with in a great many places. In Nov. 1848 he spent eight days at a large Mela in the neighbourhood. In December he made a Missionary excursion by Delhi and Agra. In Feb. 1849 he went to some villages within twenty miles of Mirut. "The readiness with which the Natives heard, and their request that they might be visited again, were very gratifying. At a Mahomedan village the Word of God was not only listened to, but the people felt so much interested with what they heard of Jesus, that they asked the Missionary to spend the night there. As this was impracticable, he was requested to visit them again. This is an extraordinary exception to the conduct of the Mussulmans generally."

In these various Missionary excursions addresses were delivered on 70 occasions: the number who had heard the Gospel explained was estimated at 9000, and the Books and Tracts distributed were 370.

HIMALAYA MISSION.

Since the death of the Rev. M. Wilkinson, Simla has been abandoned as a Station. The Rev. J. D. Prochnow, the only Missionary, has laboured at Kotghur, with the assistance of Mr. Voss, an energetic and useful European Catechist. Mr. Voss has been compelled, by the failure of his health, to return to Europe, so that Mr. Prochnow labours alone.

The Boarding-schools—Baptism of two Girls.

In this incipient Mission the chief department of labour is that of two Boarding-schools for boys and girls. The heart of the Missionary has been cheered by the conversion of two girls of the Girls'-school, of the ages of sixteen and twelve years: they have been admitted to baptism, as the first-fruits of the Kotghur Mission.

Connexion of Kotghur with the Punjab.

The chief importance of Kotghur, as it was stated in the last Report, consists in its being an advanced post toward the Punjab and Tartary. The Missionary excursions of Mr. Prochnow, during the last year, have served to confirm this view of the Station. He has made two tours, one along the banks of the Sutledge, another along the banks of the Byas, a second river of the Punjab. He found the country thickly peopled. The inhabitants listened attentively, but were very ignorant. The language used was the Tanni. Mr. Prochnow writes—

Why not connect a Punjab Mission for Kangra and its neighbourhood with Kotghur? Kangra is in the Himalaya Mountains as well as this place, and only ten to fourteen short marches distant. It would form, most appropriately, a second Station of the Himalaya Mission, and the Missionaries could reside alternately here and at Kangra. May the Lord induce the Home Committee soon to send us help! The whole country to the North, Ladok, Cashmere, Yarkand, is open to us.

Archdeacon Pratt writes upon the same subject, Aug. 8, 1849—

Kotghur has risen much in importance since the Punjab has been added to our territories. Its value will be great as a centre from which other Stations in the plains may be commenced.

A further appeal has been made to the Committee. A subscription has been opened in India for this special object; and the Circular which has been issued places the appeal on grounds which every British Christian must feel to be irresistible.

It is contemplated to raise a subscription for the establishment of a Christian Mission in the Punjab, as a Thankoffering to Almighty God for His late mercies toward the Governments of England and India, in the past signal victory, and the present promised blessing of peace.

The Stations of Nainee Tal, Almorah, and Moradabad, have contributed nearly five hundred rupees towards this object, and there are many monthly subscribers.

The camp at Peshawur are favouring the Mission; the Church Missionary Society in England has been applied to, through the Branch Society at Calcutta; and it is humbly trusted that England, as well as every Indian Station, will, when only called upon, take it up, and labour to confer a permanent blessing upon the land of the Five Rivers. . . . . .

All sums are requested to be paid at once into the Delhi Bank, by Government Treasury Order, on account of the Punjab Mission, to the credit of the Secretary to the Church Missionary Society, Calcutta.

It is also determined, that, if the amount should be insufficient for the establishment of an Ordained Missionary at the close of two years, the funds collected shall still be devoted to no other purpose but to the spiritual benefit of the Punjab, or a district therein, by the distribution of Tracts and portions of the Scriptures through the instrumentality of a Native Catechist, or other faithful servant in the Lord's Vineyard, or by the payment of the expenses from England of a devoted Missionary from the Parent Society.

It is hoped, further, that the Chaplain, Missionary, and Military Officer of each Station, will, on receipt of this Statement, circulate it in the usual manner; or in case of there being none, that some other friend to Christian Missions will undertake it. The work is the Lord's; but man may partake in it, and "Blessed is he who soweth by the side of all waters, for he shall find it after many days." Let but the Christian community of India come forward as one man, with a modest offering, and it must needs be that a sum equal to the wants of the Mission will be raised, and the Thanksgiving of the sixth of May turned into a continued memorial of their gratitude to Him who is the Giver of all victory!

DEO SOLI GLORIA!

The Committee have determined to strengthen the Kotghur Mission, with the view of its extension into the Punjab toward Kangra. The enlarged Mission, also, of Agra will enable the friends of the Society to concert and prepare plans for the establishment of some other Station in the Punjab as soon as there shall appear a providential opening for such a measure.*

attached to each; but the health of the Rev. J. J. H. Elouis compelled him to return to England at the close of last year, and the Mission has therefore rested upon the three remaining brethren.

Ministrations to Native Christians.

The Rev. J. Bilderbeck, in his Report dated July 28, 1849, states that the Congregation at Black-Town Mission-Chapel numbers 249, with 88 Communicants, and that at John Pereira's 198, with 61 Communicants. There is a marked improvement in the attendance on the Means of Grace; but he regrets that he can say but little respecting the growth of spiritual religion.

One of the most encouraging departments of labour is amongst a small band of Native Christians in a Poor-house. Mr. Bilderbeck writes, July 28, 1849—

> Of all the exercises for the benefit of Christian Members identified with the Black-Town Congregation, nothing has proved so encouraging and refreshing to my own mind as the Afternoon Meeting conducted among the poor Christian inmates at the Monegar Choultry every Wednesday.

Notices such as these cannot but convey to an intelligent reader a lively impression of the disheartening apathy of the usual hearers of the Missionaries.

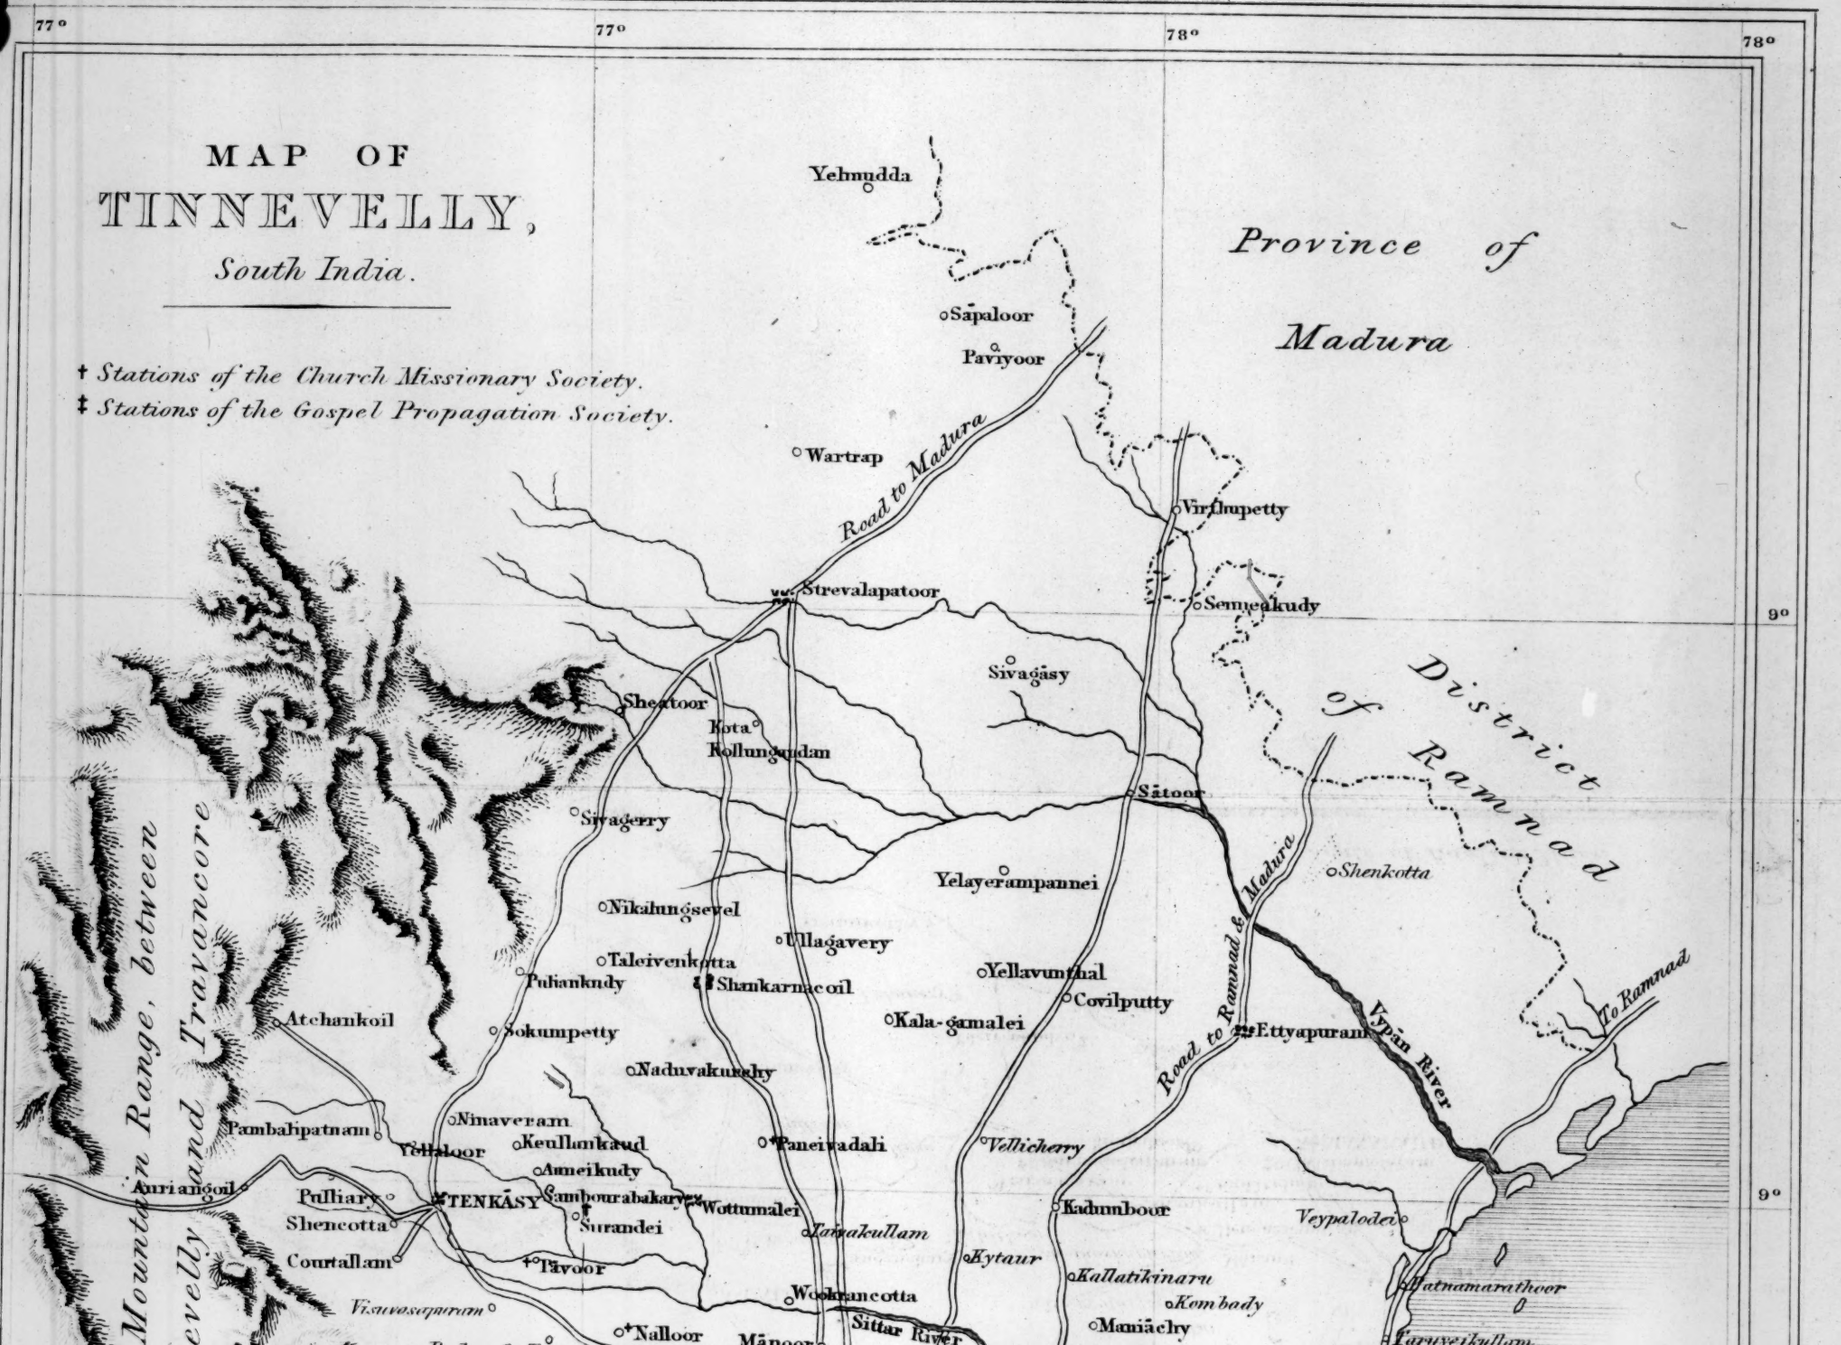

Supporting Power of Divine Grace.

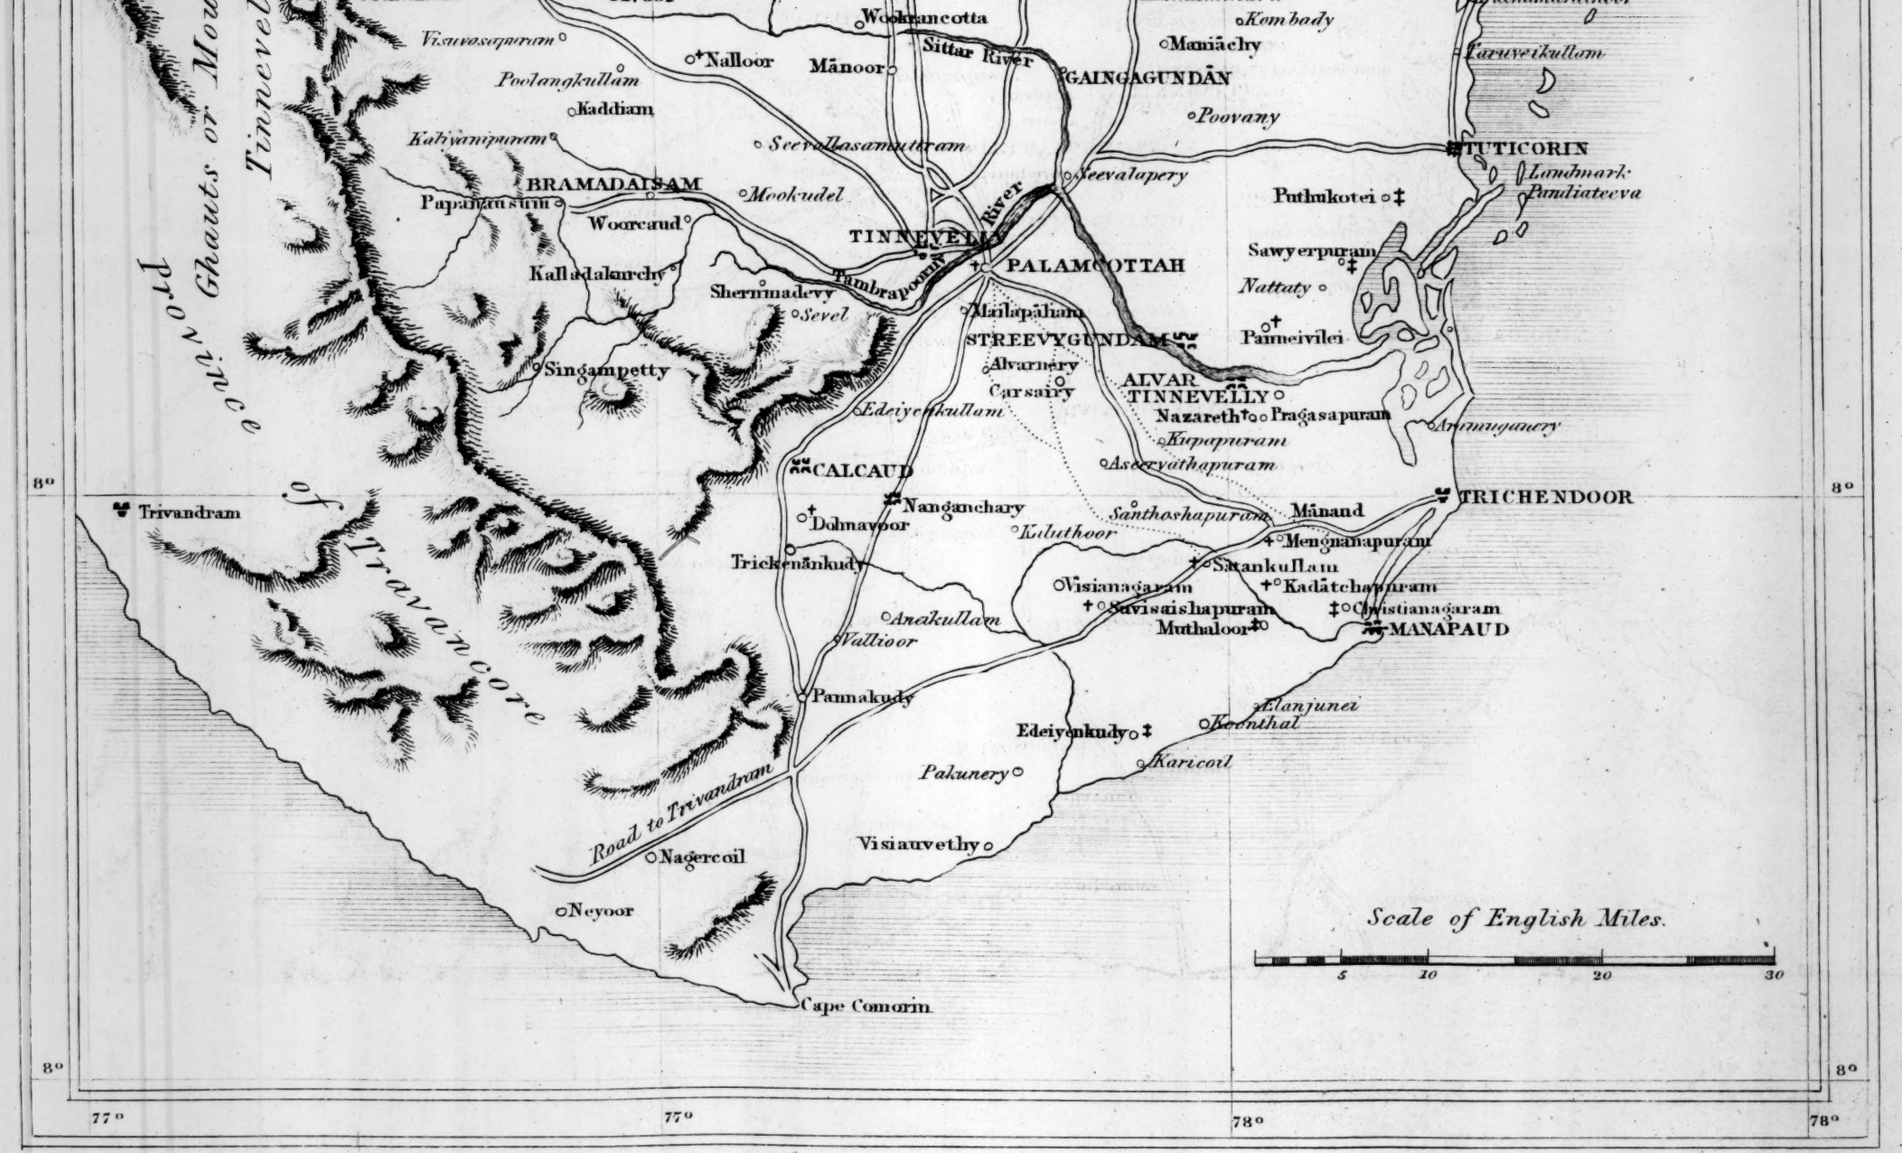

An instance of the power of Divine grace to support a sufferer under the extremity of pain, is recorded by the Rev. J. B. Rodgers under the date Feb. 25, 1849—

> After Service I visited the wife of Daniel Reader. I had seen her twice, and found her worse each time, suffering most intensely in body, but preserving the same composed, peaceful state of mind. Her disease was making very rapid progress, and this evening she was reduced so low by it as scarcely to be able to speak. She recognised me as soon as I entered, and attempted to say something; but in so faint a whisper that I could not hear it. Judging from her countenance, it was plain that she was enduring excruciating pain: she assured me, however, that she could even then rejoice in God her Saviour. After proposing to offer a prayer, I asked her whether she wished me to make any special petition on her behalf. "I know"—she replied, in a scarcely audible voice, but with a most solemn expression of countenance—"I know that Jesus Christ is my all-sufficient Saviour, and that for His sake God has forgiven me; but I am a sinful, very sinful creature, and I am now going to appear before God: pray that all my sins may be pardoned, and that all my uncleanness may be washed away in the blood of Jesus." Within an hour after I had left her she peacefully fell asleep in Jesus.

Education.

There are Schools for boys and girls in connexion with these Congregations. The Girls'-schools are under the efficient superintendence of the Ladies' Committee for Native-Female Education. An encouraging report was given of the last annual examination, at the close of the year. There is also a Female Boarding-school, containing 18 pupils, under the care of Mrs. Bilderbeck.

Preaching to the Heathen.

The three Missionaries have regularly and zealously availed themselves of opportunities of preaching the Gospel to the Heathen, in School-houses, in the Bazaar, and by the way-side; but, notwithstanding their special advantages in the perfect command of the language, their encouragement is very small. The Rev. D. Gnanamuttoo writes—

> Among the obstinate and hard-hearted people of Madras a Christian preacher must not expect to get quiet hearers. If he be a Native Christian, he will most certainly meet with opposers and despisers almost everywhere in Black-Town, and at all times. But in this respect he is not worse off than the Chief Shepherd of the flock was.

At the Tinnevelly Settlement the reception of the Missionaries is scarcely more tolerant. The Heathen resort to every species of persecution, short of open violence, against those who embrace Christianity. The Missionaries have not been able to procure ground for a School or Chapel.

TINNEVELLY.*

The number of Districts nominally remains the same as last year, namely eleven; but this enumeration includes a division of the former Nulloor District into those of Nulloor and Pavoor, which has not yet been carried into effect from the want of Missionaries to take charge of each. During a great part of last year, owing to the failure of the Rev. P. P. Schaffter's health, the two districts have been under the Rev. Septimus Hobbs. The Rev. P. D. Foulkes, an Ordained Student from Islington, has been added to this Mission. The Rev. G. Pettitt, who has been two years in England, has been transferred to the Ceylon Mission instead of returning to Tinnevelly.

General State of the Mission.

The description given in the last Report of the general state of the Mission may be repeated. The Converts have been exempt from violent persecution, though still suffering from less formidable discouragements. There have been no large accessions of numbers, as in some former years. The Missionaries, both from longer experience, and from a more complete organization, have been better able to examine into the state of the baptized Converts, and to exercise Christian discipline over the large body of professed Inquirers. The period now under review has therefore been eminently a sifting time; and many Inquirers, whose names had been on the list for twenty or thirty years, but who had manifested neither desire for baptism nor qualifications for receiving it, have been struck off. The Missionaries have also been careful in the admission of names on the list of Inquirers, and have often deferred doing so till the petitioners have evidenced a sincere desire to conform to Christian instruction and discipline. In addition to these causes, affecting the number of converts, must be mentioned the activity of the Romish Priests. A company of Jesuits have replaced the inefficient Goa Priests upon the coast, and are actively exercising their arts to beguile the young Converts in some of the districts, especially those whose parents or friends were once members of the Romish communion. The Rev. E. Newman, writing from Palamcottah, states—

* A Map of Tinnevelly is appended to this Report, and a reference to it will render additionally interesting the account of the Mission given below.

> For some time past the Jesuits have been parading processions, saying masses, and propagating falsehoods, in every direction. Nor do they confine themselves to these means for the accomplishment of their work, but join with the Heathen in persecuting the Christians, whenever a convenient opportunity offers; their principal object seeming to be, the breaking up of our Congregations, whether they increase their own thereby, or not. So close is the affinity between Romanism and Heathenism, that in one case, when the Heathen Merasdar had deprived the Christians of their trees, being applied to by them to restore them, he replied, that he would do so on condition of their rubbing ashes on their foreheads and returning to heathenism, or else going over to the Church of Rome. These efforts of the Jesuits have so far succeeded, that they have reclaimed a considerable number of those who formerly belonged to their Church, but had joined themselves to us when they had no Priests to look after them. Beside these, however, they take, from time to time, those who are dismissed from our Congregations for bad conduct; and a few others, also, who were impatient of discipline, unwilling to learn Christianity, and still more unwilling to walk according to its precepts, have gone over to them. These desertions, it is true, have lessened our numbers, but the effect has been rather beneficial than otherwise, as they have tended much to purify our Congregations.

Under all these circumstances, it is an encouraging fact that there has been an actual increase in the numbers upon the lists of the Society; the accession of new Inquirers having more than counterbalanced the defection. The Committee regard it as a proof that the Mission is a sound and advancing work. The whole number of Converts, on the 1st of January 1849, was 23,373; on the 1st of January 1850 the number was 23,994; above one-half of that number consisting of baptized Converts. The Committee fully concur in the sentiments expressed by several of the Missionaries in the extracts which are subjoined.

The Rev. Stephen Hobbs, while reviewing the Satthankullam District for the year 1848, and the defections which had lately taken place, writes—

There is, however, no more reason to fear that the Congregations will all dwindle away by these defections, than that the gold will all go to dross when applied to the action of the fire. The ore is not to be judged of by the size of the mass, but by the quality of the metal; and I have reason to believe that there is a large amount of sterling Christianity in the 2000 now on my lists, which is rather the better than the worse for the separation of the 500 who are gone. The greater number, by far, of the adult Christians are of the first generation of Converts, and of very many of them it may be confidently said that they are at least so entirely weaned from heathenism as to be quite beyond the danger of being seduced back to it; and I may add the encouraging fact, that I do not remember a single instance of a person brought up from infancy as a Christian, of his own accord relapsing into heathenism.

The Rev. James Spratt writes to the same effect—

Notwithstanding all drawbacks, we have abundant cause for thankfulness that our Heavenly Father has thus far prospered the labours of His servants; that He has afforded us so many proofs of the presence of His Spirit and His grace. Comparing the state of our Native Christians with that of the surrounding Heathen, we may truly and thankfully exclaim, "What hath God wrought!"

We are most anxious that our Christian friends should know exactly the character of our work, with all its encouraging and discouraging circumstances. Thus, and thus only, can we hope to secure their intelligent, abiding, prayerful sympathies.

The Rev. E. Sargent, after alluding to some of the cases in which the Converts had firmly resisted persecution, writes—

With reference to the question in general, What might be the result of our labours if circumstances required the abandonment of our Mission in Tinnevelly, and a persecuting power gained the ascendency in these parts? I cannot but think that Tinnevelly would also supply its martyrs not a few, who, witnessing to the Lord Jesus Christ here, would join the white-robed company of the blessed around the throne of God.

The Committee will now proceed to give a few extracts from the Reports of the Missionaries, calculated to furnish a faithful representation of the nature and progress of the work in which they are engaged.

Sketch of the Palamcottah Station.

A distinct and pleasing view of the progress and stability of the Tinnevelly Mission, is furnished by a sketch of the first and principal Station, Palamcottah, which has been presented in a paper drawn up by the Rev. G. Pettitt, who has had a principal share in the labours of the Mission since the separation of the late Rev. C. T. E. Rhenius.

Let me conduct the reader from the fort of Palamcottah to the neighbourhood of the Mission Church. Passing out of the west gate, and proceeding for nearly a quarter of a mile, you leave a burying-ground on your left, where you see the tombstones of the late Rev. C. T. E. Rhenius and two of his children, and also the tombs of some Native Christians. On your right is a kind of hospital for poor, sick, or aged Natives, supported chiefly by the contributions of Europeans, which we call The Friend-in-Need. A small bridge then leads over a nullah, or watercourse, for purposes of irrigation. A path to your right then offers to take you down to the North Mission Bungalow, where the Missionary resides who has charge of the Seminary, a School for educating sixty or seventy Christian boys, when full, for usefulness in the Mission in future years. You now pass through the village of Moŏrŏogenkŭritchy, the houses on the right, close to the road, being occupied by Native Christians, at the end of which is a Mission School for boys, where only the native language is taught; those on the right, lying back from the road, being chiefly occupied by Heathen. Your attention is now confined to the left side, for where the native houses end, the Mission buildings commence. First, a neat English School—if the architect may say so—44 feet by 20 inside, with a verandah supported on Tuscan pillars surrounding it, meets the eye; and if you looked in you might see 100 boys or more, sons of respectable Natives, both Heathen and Mahomedan, learning English, and reading the Scriptures with Mr. Cruickshanks, the Schoolmaster, who is perfectly blind, and his two assistants: beyond this, and receding from the road, is a building which I have not yet seen myself, as the walls were only just rising when I left Palamcottah. It is the Printing Establishment, which the demands of the Mission and the province rendered needful: the lower rooms are the offices, the upper the Printer's residence.

Turn your face toward the road again, and you are standing in front of the Church. It is surrounded by a wall which extends far beyond it, and encloses also the Missionary Compound, the first property possessed by the Church Missionary Society in Tinnevelly. It was built originally by the Rev. J. Hough, when he was Chaplain of the East-India Company there: it was subsequently repaired and occupied by that distinguished and excellent Missionary, Mr. Rhenius. At the close of 1835 the excellent Bishop Corrie preached in the Church, and admitted to Priests' Orders within it the Rev. John Dewasagayam, a Native Deacon. Then, as it was needful that the name of the Church should appear in the Ordination Papers, it received from the Bishop, for the first time, the name of Trinity Church. It was finished a short time before the first Visitation, in January 1841, of Dr. Spencer, the successor of Dr. Corrie in the see of Madras; and His Lordship then confirmed 700 Native Christians, beside holding an Ordination, and also a Visitation of the Missionary Clergy, within it.

Subsequently, in January 1843, the Bishop of Calcutta paid a visit to Tinnevelly, held a Visitation in the Church, twenty Clergymen being present, and also preached to the Native Catechists and Schoolmasters.

The foundation of the steeple is all of solid granite stones, the history of which I must relate. They were once in the walls of heathen temples. Released from the service of false gods by a Mahomedan conqueror of Tinnevelly, who destroyed a large number of Hindu temples to build the fort of Palamcottah, they formed for many years a portion of its walls; and when such a fortification ceased to be needed, and it was deemed advisable to take down the outer wall, the Authorities permitted me to take from it as many stones as I might require for the foundation of my steeple; and there, after these vicissitudes, they lie honoured in sustaining the weight of a Christian spire. The superstructure is of brick and cement. Its total height, including the ball, is 115 feet. The style is Doric in the lower, and Ionic in the upper parts of the tower. The cost of the whole will appear incredibly small in this country, for it did not exceed 220*l.*; but it must be considered that I had no architect to remunerate, this office, and sometimes those of builder and mason too, being necessarily discharged by myself. All the working plans I had to draw, and the first of every base and capital to do myself, the native bricklayers being unacquainted with our styles. The stability of the structure has been tested by a hurricane, which, in three hours, blew down in the province more than 100,000 trees. Europeans have thanked me for giving such a Christian look to the place, and the Native Christians regarded it with a kind of pride, when they saw it rise above the towers both of the Palamcottah and Tinnevelly pagodas. One of the rooms in the tower is used as a dépôt for Bibles and Testaments, in four languages, supplied by the British and Foreign Bible Society to our Branch of it established in Tinnevelly.

I am afraid of extending this notice of the Palamcottah Church to an unreasonable length, or I might add other interesting particulars to those already named. Not only have the voices of many excellent Ministers of Christ, and of three Indian Bishops, declared within its walls the glad tidings of salvation; not only have Confirmations, Ordinations, and Visitations been held in it, but from Sabbath to Sabbath, for many years, our own countrymen and many Native Christians have offered up within it, and acceptably, I trust, through Christ, the sacrifices of praise and prayer. And not unfrequently have Europeans and Native Christians, and also Heathen, been therein assembled, when, at our Annual Festival in the month of January, the Missionaries, Catechists, Readers, and Schoolmasters, with the wives of many of them, and a good number of Native

Christians from the villages, congregate within it, and, commencing with singing and prayer, hold our Annual Meeting of the Religious Societies established in the Mission. Having no other place half large enough, we are compelled to hold them in the Church; and so devotionally are they conducted, that no objection is felt to this arrangement. The sight would gladden the hearts of English Christians, if they could see, as I have seen on these occasions, the sable faces, illumined with smiles, of 700 persons, men, women, and children, sitting on the floor of the Church, all listening, with intelligent looks and sparkling eyes, to the address of the Missionary, as he exhorts them, in their own language, to support these Societies by the argument, "Freely ye have received, freely give;" or to the address of the Native Catechist, who follows up the exhortation by an appeal to the benevolent example of their English fellow-Christians, who sent the Gospel to them when they, only a few years ago, were lying in the same heathen darkness which is still brooding over their neighbours, and even over many of their own relatives and friends.

The Panneivilei District.

The Rev. J. T. Tucker thus writes respecting the Panneivilei District, July 19, 1849—

The number of souls under Christian instruction is greater than it was at the close of the last year; which is peculiarly encouraging, considering that of late our number has rather been decreasing than on the increase. The persons who have been added to my list have professed their faith in Christ about a twelvemonth, and they appear stedfast. I ought, however, to state, that beside these there are upward of three hundred souls under instruction whom I have not yet received into my congregational list, feeling uncertain about their sincerity. Yet I cannot but rejoice that so many have, during the last half-year, renounced the religion of darkness, cast away their idols to the moles and bats, and shown a desire to learn that only way which will lead them to everlasting life.

You perceive how I have thus had the privilege, lately, of preaching to very many who, until the last few months, had heard nothing of salvation through Jesus Christ, but who are now professing themselves to be His disciples. My work, indeed, altogether, since my return to Panneivilei, has, in consequence of the general feeling in favour of Christianity among the Heathen throughout my district, been more than usually that of an Evangelist rather than a Pastor. I really believe, that, could the Church Missionary Society send two or three more European Missionaries, they would find in my district alone ample work in teaching those who are prepared to renounce heathenism.

The increase of Congregations has enabled me to increase the number of Schools; so that, both in the way of preaching and of teaching, the Gospel (mustard-tree) has in my district recently sent forth many branches. I trust, also, that the leaven of Gospel truth has been gradually leavening those who have now for several years professed the Christian name.

The Baptisms since December last are only few. This is, in some measure, owing to my having refused a goodly number of Candidates because I was not altogether satisfied with their knowledge of the leading doctrines of Christianity. In one village alone seventeen adults applied to me for baptism. I had no reason to refuse them on the grounds of insincerity, but simply because the Catechist had not sufficiently instructed them on the subject of Baptism.

At a later date—Oct. 22, 1849—Mr. Tucker thus describes the opening of a new Station Church in his District—

I promised you, the last time I wrote, that I would give you an account of the opening of the Panneivilei Church. The ceremony took place on Wednesday the 3d. It appeared to be an occasion of great interest; for not only most of my brethren in Tinnevelly and other European friends, but likewise Native Christians from all parts of the district, as also many Catechists from other districts, attended; so that, although the Church is calculated to contain about 1200 souls, there was not sufficient room to accommodate all parties, and consequently many were obliged to remain outside. The Rev. E. Sargent read prayers, and the Rev. P. P. Schaffter delivered an appropriate and excellent sermon, which I trust, through God's blessing, will be long remembered by those who heard it. That the Church is now fit for Divine Worship is a subject of great rejoicing to myself, because I am thereby enabled to collect, every Sabbath, a much larger Congregation; to whom, through God's grace, I can speak fully of the unsearchable riches of Christ. There are upward of a thousand souls connected with the Congregations within a mile or two of the Church; and I was much gratified to find on the Sunday after the opening of the Church almost as great an attendance as on the 3d. It is no small token of good for these poor people, that, in the midst of a large Heathen and Mahomedan population, so many souls meet in one place to worship the only true and living God, and to hear His holy word. I feel it a very great privilege that God has given me such an opportunity of proclaiming His word every Sabbath to so great a Congregation, only just gathered in from among the Heathen; but I also feel that it is by His grace alone that I shall be able, if spared, to point sinners to that "Lamb of God who taketh away the sins of the world." Pray for me, my dear friend, that I may become the honoured instrument of placing a few spiritual stones on His glorious temple. After the ceremony was over I gave a feast of curry and rice, at which nearly two thousand souls were present.

The Nulloor District.

The Rev. P. P. Schaffter thus describes the state of his district, June 1, 1849—

We have had a small increase of people in the Congregations, which, as the statistical returns show, does more than make up for those who have been excluded. The increase has been in Nulloor, Vellalankullam, and Mukkoodal. A few were Roman Catholics, and the others Heathen. The Heathen of Marudambuttoor, mentioned in my last Report, and amounting to fifty families at least, have made several fresh attempts to be received under Christian instruction, which I have resisted to this day, as I have reason to be afraid that it is not Christian instruction which they in reality seek, but rather our assistance against their Merasdar, with whom they are continually quarrelling; and we could not receive them without, at the least, appearing to countenance them. Yet I am not quite satisfied in my mind that I am right in refusing to comply with their request, as a course of Christian instruction, carried on in their own village, seems the only sufficient means to bring them to a better knowledge, and to gather out the souls which the Lord may have in this place. In the mean while, I tell them to attend the instruction of the Catechist at the nearest Congregation, which every Heathen has the liberty to do. A few only attend.

I find that my various duties amongst the Catechists, Congregations, and Schools, have a tendency to divert my attention from the Heathen, amongst whom I have not done much for a long time; and, if something or other did not remind me of them from time to time, I should do still less. But a circumstance a few weeks ago reminded me powerfully of them. A Bandyman called upon me, and expressed a great desire to join Christianity. He mentioned a conversation I had with him, at least two years ago, as having given him the first impulse to take the important step. As he is a wealthy and independent man in his line of business, and the only one of the place in which he lives who has expressed any desire to join Christianity, we may suppose there is sincerity in him. After having again instructed and warned him, I sent him home, requesting him to think further on the subject.

About two years ago we established a Thursday market at Nulloor, which has prospered beyond our expectation, and is now attended by thousands of people, Heathen and Christians. This affords a favourable opportunity to spread abroad the knowledge of Christ, of which opportunity we avail ourselves. Our pilgrim attends there with a supply of Tracts, such, principally, as show forth the sinfulness of idolatry and the excellency of the Christian religion. These he reads to and distributes amongst the people, who, being caught on Mission ground, always behave with great decency. Another good, which I hope will result from this market, is, that the Christians and Heathen will be gradually trained to behave justly and kindly toward each other. All the disputes arising come before us, and we endeavour to decide them in the most impartial manner. This market has done much toward allaying the bad feelings which existed in consequence of the outbreak.

The Catechists, Female Teachers, and Schoolmasters, have been diligent; but what we require is a more abundant effusion of the Spirit of God on them and the Congregations, and indeed on us all. The Catechists are instructed monthly in the Gospel according to St. Matthew, and write essays on Scriptural themes.

Zeal and Firmness of Female Converts.

Mr. Schaffter mentions the following interesting circumstances—

I never visit our little Congregation in the town of Mukkoodal, without meeting with some encouragement. I have no Congregation in my district of which I have such strong evidence that the foundation is sound. About twenty years ago, in Mr. Rhenius's time, some families of this place put themselves under Christian instruction; but they all soon went back except one widow, who continued for many years the only Christian in this town, and was baptized by the name of Samathanum. She used then often to come to Palamcottah, a distance of about twenty miles, to hear the Gospel and participate in the Lord's Supper. Her Christian profession brought on her a great many trials, chiefly from her Heathen relatives. She told me that she sometimes thought they were too great and too many to bear; but that at the same time she felt she could not go back, but must go forward. The second person who joined the Congregation was another widow. She was added possibly in answer to the prayers of Samathanum. During the last fifteen years this Congregation has gradually increased, and is now composed of at least sixty individuals. The last who joined us had been Roman Catholics. Samathanum is now about seventy years old, and not without some of the mental defects of old age; but her faith is strong. She rejoices much at the progress of the Gospel in her native place, and always expresses her persuasion that the Lord will add a great many more people to the little flock. She clearly considers the younger members of the flock to be her own children; for I remark that she becomes displeased, whenever I am sharp in rebuking any of them.

The Rev. T. G. Barenbruck mentions another striking instance of the zeal and firmness of a female Convert—

A circumstance connected with the Congregation at Rettiyapatty lately came to my knowledge, which shows how salutary an influence a single individual may exercise, where other means seemed to have failed. Several families in the village were, from the pressure of some external temptation, on the point of backsliding. I had spoken to them very seriously in one of my visits, pointing out to them the sin and danger of their returning to the worship of devils after they had known the truth. The Catechist, also, had repeatedly warned them, and begged them to reflect on the evil of their ways before they took the fatal step. But they appeared to heed nothing that was said, and were growing more and more remiss in their attendance on the Means of Grace. Whilst matters stood thus, Lydial, an aged and sincere Christian, a Member of Mr. Schaffter's Congregation at Alankolum, and related to most of the individuals referred to, hearing of all this, determined to visit them, and endeavour to re-establish her wavering friends. On reaching the village, she began with assuring them that she had come solely to ascertain whether the information she had received about them was true, and that, if so, she could have no further intercourse with them, or partake of any food with them; but at the same time would not cease in her endeavours to persuade them to relinquish their intention, and would not return home until she had effected her purpose. Accordingly, putting up in the house of an acquaintance for several days, she so earnestly and so affectionately entreated them, that happily they were brought to a better state of mind; since which, I have had no reason to doubt the sincerity of their profession, and pray they may have grace to continue stedfast to the end. This is only one of many instances in which women have been the stay of a Congregation. They are frequently in advance of the men in the Congregations; and though on other occasions they may not be consulted, no little deference is paid to their opinion and wishes in matters of a religious character. How necessary and important is it, therefore, to use our best efforts in promoting female education!

Education.

The Reports of the various Schools and Educational Establishments in the Mission have been, on the whole, satisfactory.

The great and pressing want of the Mission at the present time is the supply of Native Teachers, of such enlargement and maturity of Christian knowledge, and so confirmed in Christian habits, that they might safely be trusted to act as settled Pastors to their countrymen, and thus relieve the Missionaries of the Society from the pastoral work which at present occupies nearly their whole time, and prevents them from labouring for the conversion of the Heathen.

An Institution has therefore been established at Suviseshapuram, by the Rev. E. Sargent, at which a few of the most promising Catechists have been trained and instructed in theology, with a view to their Ordination. Some of them will, it is hoped, be shortly admitted to Holy Orders by the Bishop of Madras.

In order to supply the Institution with a succession of Pupils, it will be necessary to raise the Christian Seminary for boys and youths to a higher grade than it has hitherto attained. The Committee and the Missionaries are anxiously taking measures with a view to this object. The Missionaries are also using the best means in their power to furnish the present Catechists with the necessary qualifications for making them efficient Native Teachers. Mr. Barenbruck, in his Report for June 1849, states—

Our former plan of instructing the Catechists has been improved upon. The whole number of Districts has been divided into three Divisions. The Northern Division comprises the Nulloor, Pavoor, Paneivadali, and Surrandei Districts. The Catechists meet for the same course of instruction once a month at their respective Stations, and are examined in a body at the end of the half-year. The first examination of this Division was held here last month. One day was occupied in reading the Essays they had written on a given subject, and awarding prizes to the writer of the best Essay in each District. The forenoon of the following day was devoted to the vivâ voce examination of the Catechists, in the portion of Scripture they had gone through; those of each District who correctly answered the greatest number of questions receiving a prize. As we have made but a beginning I would speak advisedly. Still, I decidedly think that we have not failed in realizing the benefit we anticipated from such a plan of combined systematic instruction. As regards the conduct of the Catechists, I am thankful to add that the good behaviour and diligence of the majority of them have been very pleasing.

The foregoing Reports furnish striking evidence of the importance of raising the education of females in due proportion with that of the other sex. Miss Giberne, the zealous and successful promoter of this branch of our work in the Normal Female School at Kadatchapuram, has been succeeded in her labours by Miss Hobbs.

Societies.

The various religious and benevolent Societies which have been described in former Reports — such as the Bible Society, the Book and Tract Society, the Church-Building Societies, the Friend-in-need Society, and various Societies for mutual support in sickness—have been carried on with increasing spirit and success during the last year; and a new Society has been added to the number, of a peculiarly interesting character, termed the "Heathen's Friend Society." It was commenced in the early part of last year by a few poor Native Christians, being entirely a scheme of their own. The following explanation of the objects they propose, and appeal for assistance, was drawn up by themselves—

As it is the duty of all who call themselves Christians to seek the glory of God, by diffusing among the Heathen around the little knowledge of the Scripture which they possess, and by living in accordance with their profession, so we—i. e. the poor young men who form the Members of this Society—are desirous of seeking in some measure the glory of our Heavenly King, and the enlargement of His kingdom. We have therefore proposed to open Day-schools in the surrounding heathen villages, where the light of the Gospel has not yet shined, and where the glad tidings of great joy have not yet been proclaimed, for the purpose of educating heathen children in the Christian religion, by employing Native Christians—sincere men—as Teachers, and, if possible, of employing trustworthy and sincere men to distribute Tracts to the people; and not only so, but, with your liberal subscriptions and donations, of purchasing Tamul Testaments, and other religious books, to give to those who are unable to purchase them.

We are low in life, but we trust you will condescend to us to encourage us and support us in all good undertakings.

We beg you, therefore, whom God has placed high in life, and who, we trust, are the friends of Christ and of the poor, will subscribe or give a donation for the support of our fund.

Mr. Newman informs us, six months after its establishment, that a considerable number of Native Christians have come forward with voluntary subscriptions in support of the new Society. It has also met with countenance and encouragement from Europeans, and is now in active operation, having on its list 2 Catechists, 3 Schoolmasters, 1 Distributor of Tracts, and 3 Schools, containing 140 Pupils.

Another pleasing proof of the desire of the Native Converts to help in bearing the charge of their own Christian instruction, was given on occasion of the Jubilee. Land has been purchased entirely by the subscriptions of the Native Christians, on which a village is in course of building; and palmyra-trees are planted, in the hope that the rent of the land will form an endowment for a Native Catechist and Schoolmaster. The first inhabitants have taken possession of their new abodes. They invited their Missionary to visit them, and to join in prayer for a blessing upon their new settlement, which they have called by the name of Jubileepuram.

TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN.

The Missionaries in this District remain the same as stated in last year's Report.

COTTAYAM.

Cottayam College—Visitation of the Bishop of Calcutta.

The following remarks upon the Cottayam College and Mission by Archdeacon Pratt, though written more than sixteen months ago, having reached the Committee during the last year, are too important to be withheld from the present year's Report.

The College has continued to be conducted upon the same system, and the numbers are subject only to occasional variations.

Saturday, the 23d of December, the Bishop rested; but on Sunday morning he preached to the students of the Church Missionary Society's College, and the scholars of the School attached—altogether, seventy in number. I examined the first class of the College, consisting of seven Syrian and Anglo-Syrian youths, in the Greek Testament, and questioned them pretty closely both upon the original text and on doctrine; and was much struck at the decided improvement which had taken place during the last six years—the interval elapsed since the Bishop of Calcutta's last visit to this place. The second class, consisting of eleven boys, I examined in the English Scriptures; and both classes also in other branches of knowledge. The oldest youth in the College is between seventeen and eighteen years of age. The seventy students are all boarders, and retain in every respect their native habits of dress and food—sitting on the floor at meals and eating like their countrymen, and not adopting English apparel, not even shoes and stockings. There are two young Syrians now in English Orders, in the Travancore Mission, in connexion with the Church Missionary Society, who have, in whole or in part, been trained in this College.

But important and promising as this Institution is, I was sorry to learn that the Malabar Syrian Church is itself in no better condition than it was six years ago. In some sense it may almost be said to be worse. For there are now three Metrans contending for the pre-eminence. The old Metran, who did not obtain his consecration from Antioch, but from his predecessor, and was the first to break off connexion with the Church Missionary Society, is still alive: he continues to admit men of very indifferent character and of gross ignorance, I am told, into the Ministry, as Catanars or Priests. Then there is a young man, a native of Malabar, who went to Antioch six or seven years ago, and returned—just after the Bishop of Calcutta's visit to Cottayam in 1843—with a Staticon, or Letters of Consecration, from the Patriarch, who it seems ordained him Deacon and Priest, and consecrated him Metran for this charge—all within the space of a few days! This person is still in the country, and is endeavouring to establish his authority; though cautiously. * * * The third candidate for the office of Metran came out between two and three years ago. He is said to be an Arabian by birth: is entirely ignorant of the vernacular tongue—the Malayalim. He is residing at the Old Syrian College, and has come direct from Antioch, but has been unable to make any way in obtaining ecclesiastical authority or influence as yet.

It is most lamentable to contemplate the state of ignorance and distraction in which this ancient and fallen Church is lying. What might not have been accomplished ere this, if the pious old Metran, who more than thirty years ago invited the Church Missionary Society to aid him in the reformation of his Church, had been succeeded by men equally anxious with him for the spiritual revival of their people and Priests. Here are perhaps 100,000 Native Christians scattered up and down this beautiful country, the descendants of those who first planted the Church in these parts, centuries ago, in primitive purity. Churches are every here and there rearing their ancient towers—I was told they are 160 in number, including Syrian and Roman-Syrian—filling the mind with sacred thoughts, till one learns that the Gospel is not preached in them, nor the Word of God explained, not indeed read in an intelligible tongue! The Liturgy is all in Syriac, a language understood by few, if any, of the Priests—much less by the people.

A circumstance occurred recently in a Syrian Church near Cottayam, which illustrates the dread of all innovation, or, what should be called, improvement, with which the people themselves seem to have been imbued—no doubt through the influence of those who would suffer in their unholy gains if a reformation were brought about. A Catanar, better inclined than his brethren to what is good, and not unfavourable to holding intercourse with the Missionaries, began on one occasion—on a festival, I imagine—to instruct his people by giving an exposition of the Gospel for the day, and that in the vernacular, Malayalim. It was no sooner ascertained what he was about, than the Congregation quitted the Church to a man!

The following account, sent me by a friend residing in Travancore, gives other particulars of the state of this fallen Church, and fully justifies the remark which fell upon my ears during our visit, that "the Syrians, as a Church, are as bad as they can be."

So far as the state of a Church can be judged of by its practice, the facts of the case will compel us to assign a fearfully low position to that of the Syrians in Travancore and Cochin. There are a few, and but few exceptions to the general rule. But, on the whole, bribery and corruption pervading the mass. Sacraments and Ordination are openly a matter of traffic. Division and insubordination distract both priesthood and laity; and the contentions of three rival Metrans have vastly aggravated every evil. It is impossible to say what Mar Athanasius may be willing or able to accomplish, should he eventually be acknowledged. But I speak of the past and the present, and, in any case, of much of the future: for it will be long before this Augean stable can be cleansed, whoever may attempt to purge it from the filth of ages.

Oh! that the divine warning to Laodicea could reach their ears, "Be zealous therefore, and repent!" There are some, few though they be, who are not altogether sunk in heathenish darkness. To such the Lord still says, as He did to that early Church, "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me." May the Lord increase the number of His people!

The object which the Church Missionary Society had in view, when invited to send labourers to this field, was, at the desire of the Metran, to plant Schools, to educate and train Catanars in a complete knowledge of the truth, and to translate and circulate the Scriptures in the vernacular of the country, and ultimately the Syriac Liturgy also, after weeding it of its errors—in fact, to be the instruments of inspiring the people themselves with a desire for a reformation, and of raising a body of men well furnished for carrying it into effect.

Since this has failed, in consequence of the accession of an unfriendly Metran, the importance of the Mission of the Church Missionary Society in this country, though changed in its character, is not in the least diminished, but rather increased; as it holds out an accessible refuge for all who are led to feel the spiritual bondage in which they are held by their own Church, and a visible light to all who are looking for salvation.

In consequence of the changed position in which the Church Missionary Society has been placed, another, and a fourth class of Christians is springing up—Members, in fact, of the Church of England. Till the separation took place there were (1) Syrians, the descendants of those who did not remain subject to the Church of Rome after the Portuguese persecution ceased; (2) Romo-Syrians, or those who did so remain—both these, I believe, use their own Syriac Liturgy, but very much corrupted; (3) Romanists, or Members of the Romish Church, who use the Latin Liturgy. Now there is another class springing up, (4) Members of the English Church—either, 1. Anglo-Syrians, or, 2. Converts from the Heathen and others.

I was glad to hear that the proportion of Anglo-Syrian youths, in Mr. Chapman's College and the School, to Syrians, is larger than it was; which shows that our own people are increasing in number, and that we have not to look for a supply, solely or chiefly, to the general mass, of whom—as among the Heathen in Calcutta and elsewhere—many are ready enough to send their children to School, merely for the sake of the education they receive.

Female Education.

A Normal Female School at Cottayam, under the care of Mrs. Johnson, is conducted with great success. It was examined by Archdeacon Pratt, who reported—

I think the intelligence of these children was quite as great as any—in fact, I thought it almost superior to that of any—I had ever seen in India. I examined them for an hour—the elder girls in Isaiah liii., and the younger ones in Luke ii.; both chapters being chosen by myself, in parts of the Bible which they had not been recently reading. I asked them a great many questions, through Mrs. Johnson's excellent interpretation; and I do not scruple to say that I was quite astonished at the full and accurate answers they gave.

Cottayam Village District.

The Cottayam Village District has continued under the charge of our venerable Missionary, the Rev. B. Bailey. He is now on the eve of returning home, after thirty-four years' labour. The Rev. H. Baker will remain in charge of this District.

Cottayam and Pallam District.

These two Districts have been under the charge of the Rev. H. Baker, Jun., during the last year. He has, however, been able to afford but little time for the former District.

Mr. Baker's Report for the Pallam District, dated Aug. 22, 1849, gives the following results of his labours since he entered upon the District five years ago.

Four Out-Stations have been established. From 124 Anglican Church Members we are now 552, with 286 Communicants, living strictly, I believe, according to her rules and discipline. In the Schools 307 boys and girls are regularly taught. You will, perhaps, be surprised at the large proportion of Communicants; but you must remember that the greater number of our people have been Syrians, and are, in our opinion, the choice portions of that corrupt Church, and have been under constant teaching and probation before being admitted to the Holy Communion.

The Hill Araans.

The last Report contained an interesting account of the appeal which had been made by some villages among the hill tribes for Christian instruction. The lapse of another year has opened prospects of peculiar promise in respect of this field of labour. The number of the tribe is estimated at 2000, lying between thirty-five and forty miles from Pallam. All the information received respecting them serves to establish their character for truth, industry, and hospitality, and for other kindred natural virtues, far above the standard of Syrian or Hindu morality.

In Mr. Baker's Report for Midsummer 1849 he stated, that he had sent Readers and Schoolmasters to them; that 190 had learned the Creed and Lord's Prayer, and were getting on with the Ten Commandments; that Prayer-houses had been built, and the Sunday kept holy; the little huts in which lamps to the memory of their ancestors had been kept burning, had disappeared; and prayer, morning and evening, as well as on the Sundays, was offered up unitedly.

At a subsequent date Mr. Baker writes—

> About two months ago we had a very interesting assembling of all the principal men from the several villages in the District, six in number, who desire Christian instruction. It was midnight before the meeting broke up. They requested me to build a small bungalow and Church, and live some months at least in the year among them; giving as a reason, that only if this were the case would they feel sure we should not desert them; and promising that they all would willingly learn, and that when the Church was finished it should be opened by the baptism of themselves and relatives. We were all seated in the open air, with the whole scene lighted up by huge fires. We closed with prayer; and when all knelt, and about 200 voices, the representatives of two or three times that number of souls, repeated the Lord's Prayer, I felt that God had blessed my work, and that it would not be in vain, for "all the ends of the earth must serve Him."

A few months later, this infant branch of the Mission appeared to be on the verge of destruction. One of the Schoolmasters, under the effect of fever, terrified the people by the report of visions which he had seen. A man from a distance, bearing the character of a prophet, visited the people, and threatened the most fearful evils if they embraced Christianity, and made an appeal to certain recent events as ill omens. Some of the inquirers became unsettled in their minds, and commenced re-building the idolatrous huts, and searching for the sacred stones which had been a few months before cast down the hill side.

Mr. Baker hastened to visit them, accompanied by fresh Readers and Schoolmasters. His presence soon restored confidence and order; and he fixed upon a suitable spot for a Mission Compound. He thus describes the situation—villages, and where any of those who wish to join us can build. It is a spot, too, through which the merchants pass from the Tamil country, and where numbers of people would come to live were a beginning only made. The Travancore post passes it daily; and a set of bearers would take a palanquin from Pallam to it in ten hours.

At the close of the year Mr. Baker sends a further account of these interesting people.

I have been living a fortnight among the Hill Araans, in a hut built in a large tree some twenty-five feet from the ground, at a place called Moondakkum. The jungle has been cleared; eight houses for native families built; a School-room, to be used as a Place of Worship, finished. One Nair, two Syrian, and several Araan and Chogan families are on the spot. The whole is to be surrounded with a high bank of earth and granite stones, with a ditch to keep off elephants. The bungalow is to be in the centre. A river runs on two sides, and the high road leading to the Goodaloor Pass is on another. The spot is in the centre of the Araan villages. All the boys are to come to learn at the School, and several families will remove to the place. Families of different castes are desirous of settling; but I refuse all who will not put themselves under instruction. I have got the Brahmin, who is the Zemindar and owner of the soil, to grant me, for the people to cultivate, a diameter of two miles round the spot: rent to be paid only for the ground really under tillage. By this means I shall keep off all intruders. And when the neighbourhood has become safe for the houses to be built—separate, each in a garden by itself—the people will all remove out of the Mission Compound, which will then contain only the bungalow, Church, and School-house, but be surrounded on all sides by the gardens of the people belonging to the Congregation. A village in Travancore is different in this respect from one in the Carnatic, and consequently in a great measure preserved from the evils attendant on a crowded neighbourhood. Part of the bank is already finished, and I hope to have the bungalow also complete in a few months.

MAVELICARE.

This Mission, upon the return of the Rev. J. Peet, at the commencement of last year, was divided into two Districts; namely, Mavelicare and Tiruwalla. The former is under the charge of Mr. Peet, with the assistance of the Native Minister, the Rev. Jacob Chandy; the latter, of the Rev. J. Hawksworth, with the assistance of the Rev. G. Matthan, also a Native.

Cordial Reception of the Rev. J. Peet upon his return.

Mr. Peet, in a Letter at the close of the year, Dec. 31, 1849, has furnished the following particulars respecting his return to his Station, and the progress of the Gospel—

About the year 1838 I planted the cross of Christ in this chief seat of Satan's power. Several families in different parts of this extensive District heard, and received with joy, the tidings of a Saviour's love. They enlisted under His banners, and endured sufferings for His sake; and though various causes tended to shake their faith, or rather to drive them from the open profession of it, they have still, through grace, held on, and welcomed my return among them with expressions of the greatest delight and affection. Yes, I have had the most deeply-affecting and overwhelming proofs, that a Hindu's heart, when under the influence of Divine grace, is susceptible of those affections which make man resemble God. They have overwhelmed me with their sympathy: they have evinced their gratitude, and given me undoubted evidences of love. O for the time when we shall not need to pray, "Thy kingdom come!" but when, like these our Christian brethren, we shall all love, all be one in Christ.

Nor is the efficacy of the Gospel in this Mission seen merely in its direct influences. My return was hailed with joy by numbers of my heathen neighbours, who never derived worldly support from me. For more than a month people of all classes, from the haughty Rajahs decked in glittering finery, to the poor despised low-class man, came to congratulate, and to condole with me on account of domestic affliction that befel me since I left Travancore. Among them I could reckon some like the man who came to our Lord by night, and numbers who make no secret of their belief in our Gospel, but are kept from openly embracing it by the dread of poverty. On Christmas-day last, as I was returning from a distant village Church, I called at the house of one of my people, where a number of Heathen collected, who, after a long and interesting conversation, assured me they had frequent conversations on the subject of our religion, and that they had an idea of joining me in a body. These are proofs that the preaching of the cross of Christ is arresting the attention of the Heathen; and it is quite certain that an underground current of good is sapping the foundation of ancient prejudices, and preparing the people for some—perhaps especial—manifestation of the power of God.

The Rev. Jacob Chandy thus notices, in his Journal, his removal to his appointed Station—

April 17, 1849—I removed to Kodawalanya with my family. What a great work is before us! The degraded Heathen, with their idol temple, and members of our Congregation who are to be built up a spiritual temple, are our neighbours. There is the work—to root out and to pull down, as well as to build and to plant. Christian brethren, pray for us that the Word of the Lord may have "free course and be glorified," in this our neighbourhood.

TIRUWALLA.

Commencement of Missionary Operations.

The Rev. J. Hawksworth's time has been greatly occupied by attention to the building operations necessary on the formation of a new Mission; and yet he is able to report—

I am, nevertheless, thankful to say that I have had more opportunities for direct and individual intercourse with the Heathen, than during any similar period since I came to India. The doctrines of the Gospel, and especially the mediatorship of our Lord, are invariably listened to with respectful attention. Copies of St. Luke's Gospel, or the Acts, are frequently received by respectable Heathen. It is an unspeakable privilege to be allowed thus to sow the good seed—the living, the life-giving, Word of God. It will not perish: it cannot be destroyed: "it shall prosper."

A fact mentioned in Mr. Hawksworth's Journal may serve to explain that under-current of good which appears to be flowing, even in that portion of the Syrian Church which has not joined the Mission. He writes—

With respect to the Syrian Christians I believe that there is scarcely a family unsupplied with the New Testament, unless there happen to be no member who can read—and such families are comparatively few. I say this in special reference to the state of things in the Mavelicare and Tiruwalla Missions, which for some time were under my superintendence. An excellent little book of Family Prayers is also extensively in use.

In the same communication Mr. Hawksworth adds—

As an instance of what is going on silently and unobserved, I may briefly mention a fact which occurred in a family known to me. The eldest son of a Syrian Priest was learning in the Cottayam College. He was seized with the cholera, and died. The first intimation that reached his parents, who resided at a distance, was the arrival of a corpse. Great was the grief of the afflicted parents. Friends and neighbours said, "You must not send any more of your children to Cottayam;" upon which the weeping mother turned to her husband, saying, "Do we not wish all our children to be educated for Christ? and if He see fit to take them, be it so. We must send another son, and a daughter." And another son was sent to College, and a daughter was sent to a Girls' Boarding-school.

ALLEPIE.

Arrangements for this Station.

Upon the removal of Mr. Baker from this Station, at the commencement of the year, it was placed under the charge of the Rev. E. Johnson and the Rev. J. Harding. Both Missionaries being imperfectly acquainted with the language, and inexperienced in the work, have been much tried with difficulties, and with some painful defections from the Congregation—an old Convert having gone over to Mahomedanism, with two of his sons from the Schools of the Society. On the 30th of June 1849 Mr. Johnson writes—

But with all this there is, thanks be to God! some encouragement. The attendance at Church is something better than before; while a great improvement has taken place in the attendance at the Day-schools. Many requests have been made for new Schools.

TRICHOOR.

The Rev. H. Harley continues to labour alone at this Station. The encouraging aspect of Missionary labour described in the last Report is still sustained.

General View—Encouragements.

The large body of Romanists who had joined the Church of England at Moolicherry have remained firm to their purpose, notwithstanding various acts of persecution to which they have been exposed. A small Place of Worship has been opened, and a School; and the Missionary visits the place at least monthly, and distributes the Scriptures and Religious Tracts, which are greatly valued. There were, at Midsummer 1849, 31 Heathen Candidates for Baptism at the Station, several of whom have since been admitted into the Christian Church. In the Report at the close of the year Mr. Harley writes—

One great source of encouragement to us has been, that the Word of God has been more sought after and read; and although it has not, in most instances, led to the renunciation of error, yet it has contributed to an insight into the truth; and we may hope that it will not be without its effect hereafter. Persons of influence among the Roman Catholics, as well as several Priests, have sent to obtain copies of our Scriptures. A Roman Catholic and his wife, living at Anvykara, about two miles distant from us, have been brought to a knowledge of the truth by the perusal of God's Word, and have embraced the Protestant faith. He is now actively employed in spreading the knowledge of God's Word among the Roman Catholics and Heathen.

At Moolicherry it has been gratifying to see the several families who have lately joined us carrying our Prayer-Book and the Word of God to the House of God, and listening with attention to the words of Divine life. A short while ago they were intimidated, and ashamed to let the Word of God be seen in their possession; but now, in the face of their Roman-Catholic neighbours, they set the highest value on what before they had been led to despise. At Divine Service, also, nearly all the Members join in the responses of the Liturgy. This must form a striking contrast to the dull, heartless, and ceremonious prayers offered up in the Romish Church.

During the year I have had twenty-one Baptisms. Those from among the Heathen who are Catechumens I have not yet baptized, but hope to do so in the course of a month. We are endeavouring, if possible, to have the slaves at Moolicherry instructed. A Member of our Congregation, who owns several, has engaged to allow us to have his; and we are endeavouring to get others also. A man has been appointed to teach them. But the owners, in general, grudge every second of time that the slaves are absent from work.

TELUGU MISSION.

MASULIPATAM.

The Mission work at this Station has been carried on by the Rev. Messrs. Noble and Sharkey, and Mr. T. Y. Darling, European Catechist. The Rev. G. English joined the Mission at the close of the year.

Commencement of Native-Christian Churches—Preaching to the Heathen.

The commencement has been made of a Christian Church, in the assembling together of two Congregations, the one for Telugu Services, the other for Tamul. The former contains only 6 baptized persons, a few heathen adults, and 50 or 60 heathen school-children. "While it is pleasing and encouraging," writes the Missionary, "to observe their regularity in attendance, it is somewhat trying to find that there is no spirit of inquiry. They come and go with mechanical punctuality." The Tamul Congregation comprises 25 adults and a few children.

The Missionaries are diligent in visiting all places of public resort, and the surrounding villages, to preach to the Heathen. A few individual instances of success have been vouchsafed to their labours.

Education.

The English School is carried on with great efficiency, and occupies a large portion of the time of the Missionaries. The number of scholars is between seventy and eighty, of whom one-half are Brahmins. The pupils pursue their studies with great spirit, being encouraged by the periodical distribution of prizes, and the establishment of several Scholarships. Half-yearly public examinations take place, which are sanctioned by the presence of many civil and military friends. The reputation of the School extends throughout the town, and even to remote villages. An aged Brahmin walked from a village twenty-eight miles distant to petition for the admission of two of his sons, whom he willingly left under the care of the Missionaries.

The Missionaries write—

> Our English School is more than full. Had we more Teachers, properly qualified, the number of pupils might be perhaps more than doubled. Scarcely a day passes without some fresh respectable and intelligent-looking lads applying for admission.

A vernacular and elementary English School has been opened during the last year, for boys of the lower order, in which a Christian Native Student of the English School assists.

There is also a Girls' Boarding-school, containing eighteen children, who afford the Missionaries much satisfaction and encouragement. One of the girls, during the last year, manifested a very sincere desire to become a Christian, and was admitted by baptism into the Church of Christ. She was the daughter of a Saiyid. The Saiyids are reckoned the descendants of Hasain, the grandson of the false prophet, and are looked upon with peculiar reverence. She left the School, on one occasion, to attend with her mother a celebrated Mahomedan festival. Upon her return a wonderful change commenced in her, and in about six months, to the surprise and joy of the Missionaries, she declared her desire to become a Christian. She firmly resisted the entreaties and threats of her mother, who even attempted to poison her, and she was baptized by the name of Lydia. The Missionaries write—

It was the sufferings of our dear Redeemer that first led her to think seriously of a means of escape from the wrath to come; and when we questioned her as to her reasons for seeking baptism, she readily replied, "Because Christ loved me."

The Fox Memorial.

In connexion with the Telugu Mission it will be interesting to record, that the friends of the late Rev. Henry W. Fox, who had been educated at Rugby School under the late Dr. Arnold, have raised a fund to establish a "Rugby Fox Mastership" at one of the Native Schools in Masulipatam, a part of the salary being made up by annual contributions, chiefly in the School, and by a collection in Rugby Chapel after a sermon in behalf of the object. Dr. Tait, the late Head Master, gave the plan his best support, and wrote—"I think it very important that the commemoration of Fox should also be made the means of effecting what he had so much at heart, namely, some regularly-established connexion between the School and the Missionary cause." A Master has already been sent out from England upon this Foundation.

The Committee trust that the most important results may flow from the introduction of this Missionary element into our Public-School education, under the blessing of Him whose Holy Spirit alone can give success to the design.*

CEYLON MISSION.

Mission Establishment :

10 Ordained European Missionaries.	85 Native Teachers and Schoolmasters.
3 Ordained Native Missionaries.	19 Native Schoolmistresses.
14 Native Catechists.

Appointment of a Secretary to the Mission.

The Parent Committee have long felt the importance of providing a Secretary for the Mission in Ceylon, where the Missionaries are so far separated that they are deprived of that degree of mutual conference and assistance which are enjoyed in other Missions. They have, therefore, lately transferred the Rev. George Pettitt from Tinnevelly to Ceylon, to undertake this office. His long experience in Mission work, and his perfect knowledge of one of the native languages of Ceylon, will prove, they trust, under the Divine blessing, of much service toward invigorating and combining the Missionary operations of the Society in that Island.

COTTA.

The ill health of the Rev. J. F. Haslam *, noticed in the last Report, deprived this Station of his valuable aid during the first half of the year 1849; and the Rev. W. Oakley removed from Kandy to Cotta to supply his place. The Rev. H. Collins has returned to Europe upon a sick certificate.

Character of the Population in and around Cotta.

After six months' residence at Cotta Mr. Oakley gave the following review of the Mission, in a Letter dated May 23, 1849—

Cotta is usually called a Christian village, because almost all the inhabitants are nominally Christians, having obtained Christian baptism from the former Government Proponents; yet there is in Cotta, within a mile and a half of the Mission Premises, one of the largest

* The Committee have received the afflicting intelligence of the death of this most valuable Missionary on the 19th of March last.

Buddhist temples in the island. Large parties of nominal Christians —men, women, and children—come from villages near Colombo, Galle, Matura, &c., a distance of from 70 to 150 miles, to worship in the heathen temples in this town!

Of the nominal Christian families in Cotta, it is believed that the number who worship in the heathen temples, and have recourse to heathen ceremonies, has very much decreased of late years, though there are still in the village, among these nominal Christians, some very rigid Buddhists. Several families are living together without Christian marriage; the baptism of their children has been neglected; and they are seldom seen in a Place of Christian Worship.

Such is the character of the population amongst whom this Mission is established! It has been the great object of the Missionaries to teach the people the nature of true Christianity, and to draw the line of distinction between its nominal profession and its reality. As yet, after thirty years' labour, but little progress has been made. The evil effects of Christian baptism administered without the evidence of real conversion from heathenism, have checked the spirit of inquiry among the Heathen, and disheartened the Missionaries. Such experience teaches an important lesson in respect of the foundation of a Native Church—that it is essential to maintain a just standard of qualification in the Catechumens, and rather to delay baptism than to attempt to build up a Christian Church upon an unsound foundation. Upon this principle the Missionaries of the Society at Shanghae still defer baptism of their Chinese Inquirers, and those in South India still maintain a strict exclusion of all caste distinctions.

Encouragements at this Station.

Mr. Oakley has also presented the Committee with a brighter view which the Mission presents.

Cotta is still, upon the whole, an exceedingly interesting Station. It is at present divided into three Districts. During our stay at Cotta I had charge of one of these Districts, and had also an opportunity of witnessing the state of the other two Districts. Of the people in some of the villages it may, I think, in truth be said, that "the fields are white already to harvest." I have not before witnessed in Ceylon such a readiness to receive Christian instruction, or such a serious attention to the word preached.

Almost all the Congregations at the Station appear to be in a more prosperous state than they have been at any period since the commencement of the Mission. At the little Churches at Yakbadda and Kalapaloowawa there are increasing and very attentive Congregations: at Borella the little Place of Worship (in appearance like a respectable Schoolroom) is filled with an attentive and interesting Congregation.

The Cotta brethren have long felt how necessary it is that the Catechists and Probationary Catechists should reside in the villages which are placed under their charge. Up to the present time, almost all the Native Assistants have been accustomed to reside near the Mission Premises. A variety of reasons have led to this arrangement, and there are some advantages connected with it, especially that of being, at all times, able to exert a vigilant superintendence over them. But the present state of the Mission seems to call for a different arrangement. The people are manifesting a wish to receive instruction, especially that kind of instruction which can only be imparted by visiting them at their own houses; and it is evident that our Native Assistants can render effectual aid in this work only by living on the spot, and thus being at all times near the people. I was therefore very happy to have an opportunity of addressing the Native Assistants on this subject, on the morning of the day on which I left Cotta. The several districts, in which the Native Assistants are appointed to labour, were marked out: their attention was called to the nature and importance of the work in which they were engaged, the difficulties they will have to contend with, and the spirit in which they must endeavour to meet these difficulties: they were also reminded of the promises and encouragements which the Divine Word holds out, especially to those who act in obedience to the Saviour's command, "Go forth to preach the Gospel." Their willing consent having been obtained to the above plan of locating them in the several villages, they were commended in prayer to the protection and blessing of Him, in whose work they are engaged.

Village Congregations—Communicants—Baptisms—Temptations of the Converts.

At the close of the year 1849 the Missionaries report that the number of village Congregations had been increased from 19 to 25, and that the average attendance at these Services was 538 adults and 681 children. The number of Communicants is 104, having been increased by the addition of several young persons after the Bishop's Confirmation in July. During the past year 37 adults have received Christian baptism, and 229 children. There are at present 109 young persons under instruction as Candidates for Baptism. But in proportion as the hopes of the Mission revive, new schemes of temptation are prepared by the great enemy of Christ's Gospel. The Missionaries state, in their Report—

The stedfastness of the members of our Congregations has been much tried during the past year by the formation of Societies, in many of the villages, professing to be merely Gam-Sabas (i. e. Village Councils for the purpose of settling minor differences among the people without going to law), but being in reality Societies established for the upholding of Buddhism; the Buddhist Priests being, in some instances openly, in others secretly, the instigators and leaders. One rule of nearly all these Societies is, that any person who shall refuse to join them shall be excluded from social intercourse, and the assistance generally rendered by friends and neighbours in times of sickness and trouble. The dread of this has a very powerful influence over the mind of a Singhalese; and we have to regret that some of our people have joined these Societies, and, in consequence, have either discontinued their attendance at Christian Worship, or at least been led to act contrary to their Christian profession. Others, however, have, we trust, been enabled to stand firm. At Talangama and the neighbourhood the Buddhists have carried on a sort of petty persecution of the Christians, both by slander and ill-treatment; yet though many, we fear, have been unsettled by it, there have been instances among our people of a steady resistance of the temptation, which we cannot but hope has arisen from something higher than mere human principle.

Cotta Institution—Schools.

The number of students in the Institution during the last year has been unusually small: at the end of the year it was 15. The diminution in numbers has been owing to various causes, which the Missionaries have not been able to control. They, as well as the Parent Committee, regard it as one of the most important departments of the Mission.

There is an English School at Cotta, containing about 50 boys. The number in this School is less than last year, partly owing to the spirit of opposition to Christianity and Christian Schools already alluded to. The Cotta Girls'-school numbers 68 scholars.

The Out-schools are 34 in number, containing 490 boys and 240 girls. Though such Schools are often inefficiently conducted by the Native Schoolmasters, yet they are found by experience to exercise an important influence upon the rural population, and to afford the opportunity to the Missionaries to address the people in their visits of superintendence. Whereas, if they are given up, private Schools are immediately opened, in which no religion, or Buddhism, is taught, and the people are excited to greater opposition against the Missionaries.

Printing-Press.

The operations of the Printing-Press have been conducted upon a reduced scale. Portions of the revised version of the Scriptures, and School-books, have furnished the chief employment.

KANDY.

Congregations—Communicants—Baptisms.

During the first part of 1849, while Mr. Oakley was at Cotta, this Station was under the sole charge of the Native Missionary, the Rev. C. Jayesinhe. At the close of the year Mr. Oakley reports that the Congregations on the Mission premises on the Lord's-day morning, and at Gatambe on the Lord's-day afternoon, are "steady and satisfactory:" they continue the same as in the last year in point of numbers. The Communicants have increased from 22 to 28. Three adults have been baptized during the year. Mr. Oakley writes—

> One is the son of a Kandian Chief, who was educated in the Government School in this town. His parents, though not violently opposed to the step he has taken, will, I fear, by gentle means, exert their utmost influence to induce him to marry a heathen wife. This has been the course adopted on former occasions, and has been the means of drawing aside several young Kandians, who had appeared to go on stedfastly for a time.

Education.

The Day-schools are four in number, and the children educated are about 120. The Female Boarding-school contains 10 pupils, whose conduct gives much satisfaction.

BADDAGAME.

The Rev. C. Greenwood, assisted by the Native Missionary, the Rev. A. Goonesekera, continues in charge of this Station. Mr. Pettitt, upon his first arrival in Ceylon, will spend some time at Baddagame, and devote his attention, in conference with the Missionaries, to the question which was raised in the last Report—whether any new mode of carrying on the Mission work may be adopted. Mr. Greenwood has proposed certain measures, and his long experience will be of great advantage in determining our future course.

Discouragements at this Station.

The Report of the Station for the last year is far from encouraging. There has been no visible progress of the Gospel. The closing of some village Schools has had the effect of cutting off the inhabitants from all connexion with the Mission. The people have been visited at their homes by the Missionaries, and by a Scripture Reader; but the following painful acknowledgment is made by Mr. Greenwood—

> About ten thousand individuals have been visited during the year; but it is a rare case in which we succeed, as the result of such visits, in inducing attendance on Public Worship, and no case is known wherein the result has been the embracing the Christian name and baptism. Still, I would by no means discontinue this work; for it is the only way in which we can find means to speak to the many; and

I hold it to be essential to our success to make it as manifest as we can that our object is the welfare of our fellow-sinners.

Education.

The only Schools in operation are an English School, containing 15 boys, and the Seminary, containing 13 lads. A Girls'-school contains about 50 scholars. The Seminary, or Boarding-school for promising pupils, who may be serviceable as Native Teachers, is the most promising department of labour. Mr. Greenwood writes—

> The Seminary continues to be a source of great comfort and encouragement: the number of pupils is 13. It is pleasing to add, that, with few exceptions, their conduct has been good. The Bishop, on his visit to the Station in September, personally examined this School, and expressed a very favourable opinion of the boys' attainments in all branches of study. The same good opinion has been expressed by other visitors; and it is at once grateful, and an incentive to exertion, to have independent testimony agreeing with the favourable report of the resident Missionary.

Visit of the Bishop of Colombo to Baddagame.

The Bishop held a Confirmation at Baddagame, when 25 persons were admitted to that holy rite. Mr. Greenwood writes—

> His Lordship's visit lasted three days, and was a season of refreshment to the Native as well as the European Labourers. Many and hearty were the expressions of desire for God's blessing which accompanied and followed the Bishop on his departure from amongst us.

NELLORE.

General View—Native Teachers.

The Rev. J. O'Neill's Report of this Station is not encouraging. The various branches of labour have been pursued, but the heart of the Missionary has not been cheered by any visible success. A Congregation of from 150 to 200 assembles in Nellore Church, which presents an orderly and devout appearance: 44 are Communicants. The Gospel has been preached to the Heathen in School Bungalows and in the villages, and the people have been visited in their houses. Only three adults have been admitted to Baptism.

The chief ground of encouragement appears to have been in the evident improvement in life and efficiency of the Catechists and Native Teachers, who, during the last year, are reported to have exerted themselves more faithfully and zealously than in any former period.

In the educational department, the Female Boarding-school has given much satisfaction. The village Schools have been reduced in number, and are chiefly useful as affording opportunities for preaching to the inhabitants.

CHUNDICULLY.

Congregations—Baptisms—Education.

The Rev. R. Pargiter reports of this Station, that, though no great increase has been made in the numbers of Converts, yet there is a more healthy tone pervading the affairs of the Station. The Congregations at the Station Church have kept up to their former average, and the Heathen have attended at many of the Out-Stations. Ten adults have been received into the Church by Baptism.

A severe trial has visited this Station, by the fall into open sin of one of the Catechists, in whom much confidence had been hitherto reposed. The rest of the Native Teachers are reported as zealous and efficient in their labours.

The Boys' Seminary gives promise of a supply of well-trained Teachers. The superintendence and teaching of the youths has occupied much of the time of the Missionary. The English School contains 127 boys, and the Tamil Day-schools 281 boys. Two Girls'-schools are connected with the Station.

Mr. Pargiter concludes his Annual Report by stating—

Again would I cheerfully devote myself to the holy and delightful work, with fervent prayer and hope that "He who openeth and no man shutteth" will graciously condescend to make this year more prosperous than the past, both as it respects the number of converts and the depth of piety and devotedness of those who have believed.*

was, however, prevented from attending, but sent the following Letter to the President, which was read at the Meeting—

My Lord—Till the last moment I have cherished the hope to be present at the Meeting of the Church Missionary Society to-morrow; but I now find that public business will so interfere as to render it doubtful whether I am to enjoy that satisfaction. I shall deeply regret it if kept away; but I have embodied in a permanent form my own testimony to the results of Missionary labour in Ceylon, and it will be shortly given to the public in my work on the history of Christianity in that island. So that, if deprived of the opportunity of declaring it orally to-morrow, I shall not be debarred from making known, so far as in me lies, that the superstitions of India are not impregnable; that the mission of Christianity is not doomed to repulse, as has been improperly asserted; but that its Ministers are successfully carrying forward the work of enlightenment and civilization, with an effect so remarkable, and a result so convincing, in Ceylon, as to afford every assurance of a wide and a permanent triumph for the Gospel.

Yours faithfully,
J. Emerson Tennent.

CHINA MISSION.

Strengthening of the Mission.

The Rev. W. Farmer, whose serious illness was announced in the last Report, did not live to reach England, but died on his passage home, near Ceylon. The Rev. J. Hobson has remained at Shanghai. The Bishop of Victoria sailed from England in November; and the Committee were enabled to send in the same ship with him, as a reinforcement for the Mission, the Rev. F. F. Gough, B.A., the Rev. W. Welton, B.A., the Rev. E. T. R. Moncrieff, B.A., and Mr. R. D. Jackson, a student from Islington. Mr. Gough has been appointed to Ningpo, Mr. Welton and Mr. Jackson to commence a new Mission at Fow Chow; and Mr. Moncrieff to act as Missionary Tutor at the College at Hong Kong.

SHANGHAI.

The Rev. T. M'Clatchie has completed, after much trouble and anxiety in superintending the native builders, the erection of his new Church. Soon after Mr. Hobson's arrival, the melancholy death, by drowning while bathing in the sea, of the English Chaplain, the Rev. J. Lowder, took place. The residents applied to Mr. Hobson to undertake the English Services, which he agreed to do till another Chaplain should be appointed, as he could not engage in the Native Services until he had acquired the language. As soon, however, as he had attained a sufficient proficiency to enable him to read the Service in Chinese, he relinquished one of the English Services on the Sunday.

Missionary Labours at Shanghai.

Mr. M'Clatchie thus honestly expresses his feelings in forwarding his Missionary Reports, to which the Committee believe that every other Missionary of the Society would respond—

The sickly thirst for excitement which prevails at home may prove a snare to a Missionary, by tempting him to make exaggerated statements. I am constantly asked by my friends for facts. Facts cannot be coined; and when matters go on in the same routine for weeks and months, are we to be set down as idle in our work because we have no exciting story about the Heathen to send home? I fear such is too often the case. I delight to mix among the people here, to go into their houses, and talk to them of the precious Saviour; but the conversations which pass on such occasions are, generally speaking, such as take place at home between a Minister and his parishioners.

The Missionaries have free access to the people. Large Congregations attend their Services; many have joined a Bible class; and they collect round the Missionary whenever he visits their villages; but no one has as yet appeared prepared to make such an intelligent and sincere profession of the Christian faith, as to warrant his reception into the Church of Christ by baptism.

One of the peculiar hinderances to the faithful reception of the Gospel of Christ by the Chinese consists in their extraordinary attachment to the worship of their ancestors. Three centuries ago this was reported to be the great stumbling-block by the Romish Missionaries who visited China. The Jesuit Missionaries avoided the difficulty by allowing their converts to retain this practice, though the Missionaries of other Orders protested against such a compromise with idolatry. It appears, from the Reports of our Missionaries, that the Romish Missionaries of the present day follow the pernicious practice of the Jesuits; and as their converts are very numerous in the neighbourhood of Shanghai, the difficulty of the Protestant Missionary is thereby greatly increased.

April 5, 1849—Wealth is the summum bonum of the Chinese. Their common salutation on New-Year's day is, "May you become rich this year!" Even their most solemn worship, namely, that of ancestors, seems to be engaged in by them from an expectation that their imagined dutiful conduct may be rewarded by the acquisition of wealth. The present time is the season for the performance of that form of worship, which undoubtedly occupies the highest place in the affections of the Chinese. Whilst crossing a ferry I entered into conversation on the subject with a man who stood near me. He asked me whether we worshipped ancestors in foreign countries, or not. I told him that it would be a breach of God's first commandment, which says that Jehovah alone is to be worshipped. On hearing this, another man exclaimed, "Why should you imagine that foreigners worship ancestors? They have plenty of money, and therefore need not do so."

May 11: Friday Evening—A large Congregation was present. During the course of my sermon I spoke on the sin of worshipping ancestors, as well as the folly of such a practice. As soon as I touched on this point a large proportion of the Congregation rose up and went out; others laughed aloud; and all were evidently displeased. I remark that such is generally the result when I speak on this subject. I am so far pleased at this discovery, as it proves that the truth of God is not received with apathy, but that His word, on this point at least, cuts the heart like a two-edged sword. This form of idolatry seems to be the dungeon in which the souls of the poor Chinese are imprisoned. May the Lord soon burst the prison doors, and set the captives free!

Yet on the Lord's-day following a full Congregation again attended. Mr. M'Clatchie writes—

In the evening I preached on the beautiful parable of the Prodigal Son. I felt so deeply interested in the picture of the misery here presented of those who forget God, and so anxious for the welfare of the souls of those poor creatures present, that I preached for a full hour without perceiving how time was flying. During the Service the greatest silence prevailed, and every countenance exhibited marked attention. Afterward a general rush forward was made, in order to obtain books. One man expressed a desire to know something more of the doctrines preached. I gave him a copy of the Ten Commandments. Some attend regularly; amongst others, a poor blind man, who comes in led by a boy.

June 3: Lord's-day—I commenced a Service in a small village behind our Mission-house. About a hundred persons were present. As I returned home I was invited by several to enter their houses, and sit with them for a short time. In the evening I went as usual to Wang-ka-mo-dow, from which place I am now living at a distance of about three miles: a crowded Congregation, as usual, and very attentive. I delight in these rural Services: the people are so warm-hearted, and so uncontaminated by riches, that it is quite pleasing and refreshing to get amongst them.

Opening of the New Mission Church.

Early in January 1850 the new Mission Church was opened. It can conveniently accommodate 300 persons. Mr. M'Clatchie writes, Jan. 10, 1850—

We opened our Church for Divine Service on Friday last. It was a day of much joy and thanksgiving. I preached on the occasion from 1 Kings viii. 22. We had a very orderly and quiet Congregation. One incident occurred, as the Congregation were going out of the Church, which gave me much pleasure. A man, who listened attentively to my sermon, on leaving the Church addressed my Teacher, and asked him to explain what I meant by so urgently pressing upon those present the necessity of seeking forgiveness of their sins. "I," said he, "cannot understand this. I certainly have never committed any sin: why, then, should I apply for forgiveness?" Such is the self-righteousness of the Chinese! I have frequently met with those who make such statements. I was thankful to find that our opening sermon had caused some inquiry amongst the hearers. May the Spirit of God convince this poor self-righteous sinner of his need of a Saviour!

I invited the Episcopal American Missionaries to take part in the Service. The Rev. E. W. Syle accordingly read prayers, and the Bishop closed the Service by one or two prayers and the Blessing.

Bishop Boone's Church was consecrated on Lord's-day last. I took part in the Service, and Mr. Syle preached.

We have hitherto laboured under much disadvantage in not having a settled centre of action. Now that we have got our Church, we can bring our teaching and preaching to bear on the same neighbourhood, which is a great point gained. I had two Services on Lord's-day last in our Mission Church; and for the first time every individual present, great and small, followed my example, and knelt during prayer. It was indeed a blessed sight to me. O that God would show forth His mighty power, and open the hearts of the people to call upon Him in spirit and in truth! There is an end gallery for those females who choose to attend our Services: a great number were present on Friday, and also at the Afternoon Service on Lord's-day. I intend, if I do not find it too much for my strength, to hold a daily Afternoon Service. All we want now is men. I am sure, if we can only make a vigorous attack on idolatry in this district, that the Lord will manifest His power in the conversion of souls.

NINGPO.

General Review of the Work.

The Rev. W. A. Russell gives the following review of their labours in a Letter dated Oct. 1849—

It is a cause of great thankfulness in us to our gracious and heavenly Father, that already, for upward of sixteen months during our residence in this heathen and idolatrous city, we have both been blessed with, I may almost say, uninterrupted good health and strength, both of mind and body, and permitted to consecrate so undividedly our first and best energies to the acquisition of this strange and difficult language.

Of our direct labours for the immediate benefit of this people we have, as you may imagine, little as yet to communicate. Our Public Service in the under part of our house on Lord's-days we have regularly kept up since the beginning of this year, with much encouragement from the number and attention of our general Congregations. We both, in turn, at each Service address them, when we are more generally surprised at their apparent interest and attention than the contrary, considering our great feebleness in their language: this is a source of much encouragement to us, as it is more or less a proof of the acceptableness and intelligibility of our message. In this, however, as indeed in every stage of our efficiency, we have only to look to Him whose blessing can alone render our efforts to plant or water of any avail. The need of cultivating this spirit of dependence on Almighty power is no doubt experienced everywhere; but how much more must it be felt essential, when living in the midst of the gross darkness which envelopes an idolatrous people. We have now nearly completed the building of a small Chapel, with School-room and Teacher's rooms annexed, in a part of the city hitherto unoccupied by any foreigner, and where, from the denseness of the population, we may expect a large field of usefulness. We hope to open both Chapel and School in two or three weeks. For the latter we have selected my Teacher, who has been with me since I came. He is, I believe, fairly acquainted with the great truths of Christianity, and at times seems to give evidences of more than a mere intellectual perception of them. Of real conversion, however, I cannot speak with more than good hope: in other respects he is well qualified for his work.

At the close of the year 1849 the Rev. R. H. Cobbold furnished a valuable review of the labours of the year. The last Report noticed the very short time in which he had been enabled to acquire the language, so far as to address the people in public. Upon this subject he has transmitted the following very sensible remarks—

It is exceedingly unlikely that a Missionary should be generally well understood till he has spent three or four years in the acquirement of the dialect; but I do not think that any one need wait this length of time before he opens his lips. Perhaps, however, he would do well to wait this time before he ventures to do much in public street-speaking. The speaking in a room, and on a subject more or less prepared, and where those who come do not interrupt you, is very different from speaking to a noisy crowd, whose attention you have to gain, whose clamour you have to silence, and whose questions you have to answer. I for one have never regretted, but always rejoiced in having opened our house so early for Public Service; and I think much truth has been thus gradually imparted, though in a very humble way, to those who come to hear. My work for the next six months will probably be, if God continue my health, to devote the morning and part of the evening to Chinese studies, and the afternoon to going about in the city and the country distributing books, entering into conversation with individuals, or lifting up my voice to a company, as occasion may serve; and on the Lord's-day, beside our own Service, and the instruction of our own servants, to stand up in the Lord's name to proclaim His message.

After describing the small Chapel attached to the School, and the encouraging state of the School, Mr. Cobbold adds—

With reference to our Congregations during the year, they have been, as I learn all Congregations here are, very uncertain. On a fine day our hall will be full; and on a wet day we have to begin with two or three, and, at the most, ten or twelve more come in during the Service. At our new Chapel the number will probably be seldom less than thirty or forty, as it is well situated on a large thoroughfare.

The Journals of the Missionaries in China exhibit a remarkable diversity from those which come from other heathen lands. The minds of the Chinese are not pre-occupied by any system of false religion; there is great readiness and clearness in their apprehension of the doctrines and the precepts of Christianity; the practical issue between the love of the world and the Gospel of Christ seems to come at once. In fact, the experience of the Missionaries in China approaches more nearly to that of a parochial Minister at home, among nominal Christians, than to that of Missionary Labourers among the Heathen.

It is impossible at present to anticipate the difficulties which will arise, or the devices which Satan has in reserve. The leading feature of the work is now THE OPENNESS OF CHINA FOR THE RECEPTION OF THE GOSPEL. The Committee earnestly commend this Mission to the thoughtful consideration, the earnest prayers, and the zealous support of their Christian friends. The expense of this Mission is wholly taken from the China Special Fund.*

Changes in the Missionary Force.

SEVERAL changes have taken place in the Missionary force in New Zealand.

The Rev. W. C. Dudley has been compelled to return home, for a season at least, in consequence of ill health.

The perplexing contest respecting the holding of large tracts of land by Missionaries, to which the Committee have alluded in several of their late Reports, has led to the separation of two individuals from the Society—the Archdeacon Henry Williams, and Mr. George Clarke. The Committee cannot allude to the close of their connexion with Archdeacon H. Williams without, at the same time, bearing a sincere testimony to the eminent services which, for above thirty years, he rendered to the cause of the Mission, and of the Church of Christ, in New Zealand.

These losses have been in part repaired by the addition of new Missionaries—the Rev. Messrs. Barker and Lanfear—who have already arrived in New Zealand, and a third Clergyman, the Rev. T. S. Grace, who is on his way out. The Rev. Octavius Hadfield, who was for several years so severe a sufferer as to be reported in the last stage of illness, has been restored to health, and enabled to resume his duties, and has been appointed an Archdeacon. The Rev. S. M. Spencer, who went out as a Missionary of the Society with the Bishop, in 1842, after a few years' separation has returned to labour again zealously in the ranks of the Society.

R. Vidal, Esq., has been appointed Secretary of the Central Committee, and has sailed for New Zealand.

Mr. Barker has been appointed to the East Coast, and Mr. Lanfear to Hauraki, the Station in the Middle District lately occupied by Mr. Dudley.

Mr. Morgan, also, a Catechist of the Society, has received Holy Orders from the Bishop of New Zealand. The Ordination took place in a new Church called St. Barnabas' Church, erected for the benefit of the native population near Auckland. The Governor and Chief Justice of the Colony were present, together with many others of the English population, and a large native audience. The Ordination Service was wholly in the native language—a fact of important significance and encouragement; the first instance of the kind, as the Committee believe, in modern Missions. A large assembly of both races, including the Representative of Her Majesty in the Colony, afterward united at the Lord's Supper.

General Character of the Work in New Zealand.

The moral character of the native population in New Zealand is every year becoming more assimilated to the moral state and condition of our own nominal Christian population at home. Remaining heathenism is very fast passing into indifference and practical infidelity; while among professed Christians the lust of gain occupies too generally the hearts of the diligent and enterprising, and the vices of idleness and drunkenness, and neglect of the Means of Grace, in others, complete the sad parallelism.

In some degree this state of things may be attributable to the evil example of European colonists. "It is to be lamented," writes Archdeacon Brown, "that you cannot reprove a Native for any sin at the present day, without his being able to point to the Europeans at Auckland as affording an example of the same kind; whether it be card-playing, drunkenness, desecration of the Sabbath, or any other work of darkness." But the knowledge of human nature, and of the history of the first planting of the Church of Christ in other lands, leads us to expect an apparent decline of spiritual life in the multitude, after the first successful introduction of the Gospel.

The accounts from our Missionaries partake of the complexion which belongs to this state of things. They are of a mixed character. They recount disappointments and sorrows, but also joys and encouragements. The Report of the Committee will present a few extracts from each side of the picture; though it must be borne in mind that our chief object is to recount the evident tokens of the Lord's presence with His witnessing servants, and the power with which He clothes their word. It is the record of the successes of the Gospel. The remarkable proofs which have occurred of the visible grace of God, are by no means presented as examples of the ordinary character of our work, but as the crowning encouragement given to a previous work of faith and labour of love. A dim-sighted world cannot discover even these bright lights: they look only upon the dark side, and often accuse Missionaries of giving too glowing a colouring to their representation of the state of things. With this caution, the Committee will not hesitate to speak of the rich blessings which have been vouchsafed to the labours of the Missionaries during the last year.

The period under review extends from Midsummer 1848 to Midsummer 1849, for the uncertainty of communication prevents our generally receiving full accounts to a later period.

A Chief's Reply to the Committee's Jubilee Letter.

The Committee will begin their extracts with an animating appeal from a New-Zealand Chief in reply to the Jubilee Letter of the Society to all the Native Christians in their Missions. The Letter was written in the native language, and the translation is declared to be so strictly literal as to lose somewhat of the force of the original. It may well serve to encourage us, and to stir us up to increased efforts for the future.

Kaikohe, July 14, 1849.

Loving Fathers—Your love comes to us through the love of Christ. Your Letter of love has reached us. It has laid before me; it has been in my hands; been seen by my eyes; been read by my voice; and its contents have sunk into my heart. By me it cannot be said [as well as by you] that I have been finally delivered from the sins of the flesh, the world, and the devil; but when those evils are presented to me they rouse my strength [of indignation] and my thoughts start up to Christ. I will now give you some account of my journeying to different places, where I go to visit those families who are living apart from the love of God. When I arrive among them, and hear their worldly and superstitious conversation, it is as though a sharp-pointed bramble-bush was passing through my ears; but when I look at them, love arises in my heart, and I speak the words of God to them, but it is with a sorrowful heart. Some of them will converse with me on the subject; some will agree with what has been said; some will turn away; and others will disbelieve and controvert my words: this saddens me. I have also another word to say to you, the Elders of the Church, and to the whole of the Church of England, and that word is, that you will continue to lift up fervent prayer to God for us at all times. Pray that we may be strengthened while living in the midst of so much evil; pray that we may be enlightened in the midst of this darkness; pray that our foolish hearts may be divinely taught; pray also that we may stand fast, that our feet may not slide, and that true faith may be increased within us. It is my desire to rejoice with them that rejoice, and to weep with them that weep. I rejoice, on account of the sheep which have been selected and gathered in; and sorrow after, and pray for, those which are still to be gathered in; for Christ has still other sheep amongst the tribes of the earth.

One word more, which is, that you will give your whole hearts to prayer to God in our behalf, that He may continue to give us His Holy Spirit, in order that we may possess light when we go among our friends who will not listen to the Truth; that He, the Holy Spirit, may make the word sharp, and cause it to sink down and become fruitful in their hearts. Pray that the influence of the Gospel may increase: then we will all rejoice together.

From your loving friend,
WILLIAM WATIPU.

Northern District.

Commencement of a Training Institution at Waimate.

The extensive buildings and farm at this Station are now employed by the Rev. R. Burrows for the establishment of an Institution for training up Native Teachers—a measure which has long been urgently needed by the Mission. Mr. Burrows writes, July 20, 1849—

I am happy to inform you that I have now five pupils, who are at present advancing steadily in the various branches of their education. The Committee, however, must not expect too much. Good natural ability for attaining knowledge is by no means difficult to be found amongst the New-Zealand youths—they are, generally speaking, much more apt to learn than English youths of the same age and advancement—but sterling piety is a rare quality; and the difficulty of ascertaining whether or not the work of grace is begun in the soul is in some instances very great. We may often hear a New Zealander speak of the plague of his heart, and of the warfare he has between what he would term his old and new heart, who is at the same time living in open sin. By long association with their Missionaries and their Teachers, they have become familiar with many terms relating to some of the leading doctrines of Christianity—such as the wickedness of the heart, and the necessity of the new birth—while, alas! comparatively few evidence in their life and conversation that they are experimentally acquainted with either.

With regard to the prospects of the Institution, I am prepared to meet with much to discourage. Probably many who are received into it will, after a time, find the confinement and necessary discipline too great a restraint upon their wandering and indolent propensities; others will be enticed away by their relatives and friends; and some, no doubt, will, after having put their hands to the plough, turn back again to the world. But what good work was ever begun and carried on without many and great difficulties?

The past year has been a period of trial of no ordinary kind; but it has nevertheless proved a season in which our hope has been increased, and our expectations raised, from having witnessed some progress in the re-establishment of Christianity, among our people, on more clear and hopeful principles than those on which it stood in what we considered our more prosperous days. In those days, with few exceptions, the Natives were brought to a stand when they had attained a certain degree of knowledge. Many, when they received baptism, appeared to congratulate themselves on having thus attained the summit of their wishes: they were now believers, exalted above their former standing, and seemed to expect that by the mere rite, as by a charm, they would be delivered from the power and dominion of sin, and that God in all things would be propitious to them. Some of them became great disciplinarians, and many acquired much knowledge of Scripture. But where this knowledge did not unveil the corruption and depravity of the human heart, it was ineffectual in the time of temptation, and numbers fell away. What once appeared to shine brightly became dim, and then vanished into deadly superstitious darkness. More recent experience has shown that those who were preserved from falling, and have been blessed up to this time with persevering grace, are even now but very babes in Christ. At that period there was much religious profession, mixed up with a degree of self-complacency which rendered their profession doubtful: now, they complain of their ignorance of Scripture, and of the depravity of their nature, and sincerely lament the hardness of their hearts; while here and there one may be found rejoicing in the love of God. Upon the whole there can be no doubt that the great work is advancing, although slowly; but we have learned to think and speak with caution, and to rejoice with trembling. Our present state was thus described, a few days ago, by a Christian Chief—"The declension from our former state of Christian experience was easy, because it was downward: to regain that state is hard and heavy, because it is upward."

Our Schools have been better attended, and have increased in numbers. The Day-scholars attend regularly: they love the School, and generally spend even their holidays in the School-room, or on the premises.

After noticing the death of several children Mr. Davis writes—

We were fearful that this mortality might have proved a hinderance to the parents in sending their children; but, from what they witnessed in the deaths of those children who have been taken from us, the reverse is the case. Their general observations are, "Let our children die and go to Christ. Although we love them, and our hearts are filled with sorrow on account of their death, yet they go to Christ, and are safe. The sorrow we now feel is nothing to the sorrow we should feel if they were to grow up and become wicked, and be in danger of being lost for ever."

Middle District.

General View.

Archdeacon Brown reports generally of the Middle District—

We have had much to try our faith and patience in the indifference manifested by many Natives, who did run well, and then lost their "first love;" but in the closing months of the year an improved tone of feeling, and a better attendance on the Means of Grace, have again encouraged the hope that our labour is not in vain in the Lord. When we look at the instruments employed, and the results obtained, we feel that we are bound to thank God, and to take courage. Nor is the remark to be confined to Tauranga: it is applicable to the whole Archdeaconry. For what is our force? One Clergyman in Priests' Orders, two in Deacons', and two Lay Brethren; while our Chapels exceed a hundred, with Congregations numbering 5980 Natives, of whom 500 are Communicants; and the baptisms during the year have amounted to 393, i.e. 104 adults, and 289 children.

Effect of Missionary Labours at Auckland.

The following testimony is borne by a brother Missionary, in a Letter dated May 24, 1849, to the important results of the labours of the Rev. G. A. Kissling at this Station—

I have had, during seven weeks' stay, an opportunity of seeing the importance of a Missionary Station in this depraved town [Auckland]. The average attendance of Natives on the Lord's-day is 450. They are from all parts of the island; and our Missionary Brethren have the satisfaction of knowing that their spiritual wants are attended to by our indefatigable brother Kissling, beside his attendance to the Natives of Oraki. The fact of a Missionary being on the spot prevents much evil; but still there is enough to sicken the heart, inasmuch as frequent cases of intoxication occur in the streets. This is especially the case amongst the native females, who are living a most abandoned life; and, when expostulated with, they point at our countrymen, and say, "They are the cause: they our example."

When I visited Auckland three years ago I frequently saw our Natives gambling in the streets: I am happy to say I have not witnessed a single instance during my present visit. I feel perfectly satisfied that Mr. Kissling's being resident here has been a great check on the Natives: he is respected by them, as well as by our own countrymen.

The Girls'-school, conducted by Mrs. Kissling, is in a very flourishing state; and, with God's blessing, we may expect much permanent good to result from so important an undertaking.

Educational Movement.

The Committee have pointed out in former Reports, and urged upon the attention of the Missionaries, the importance of giving a sound education to the native rising generation in New Zealand. They are happy to be able to report this year an encouraging progress in this department of labour. Mr. Kissling writes, July 4, 1849—

Most gratifying to my mind are your observations on the subject of Schools; and most thankful to God do I feel that I can state to you that this important branch of our Missionary operations has gained, and is daily gaining, more interest amongst ourselves. The difficulties which were formerly dreaded wane before our eyes as we lay earnest and faithful hands to the work. The Rev. R. Maunsell has a large Boarding-school, which has hitherto been no expense to the Society. My dear old friend Mr. Ashwell has twenty-four girls at his Station, to train them up in the fear and nurture of the Lord. Mr. Morgan, just ordained in the new Native Church in Auckland, is also forming a Boarding-school of boys and girls at Otawao on a larger scale, being supported by His Excellency the Governor; and he is now in daily communication with me as to the principles and discipline on which his School is to be conducted. Mr. Morgan intends to combine the half-caste children, so numerous in his District, with the Natives. As a broad principle, I have advised him to make no difference in admission or treatment between native and half-caste children. Our own Girls'-school, now numbering 25, is to be increased to at least 50. The Government grants made to our School amount to 600*l.* With this sum a building is to be immediately erected, near the Native Church, where a block of land of 20 acres has been secured to the New-Zealand Diocese, on behalf of the Girls'-school. The building is intended to contain a residence for the Principal and his family. For the work's sake Mrs. Kissling and myself are prepared to leave our present quiet and comfortable residence, and to remove to the Institution for the native girls, which, however, is not likely to be completed for another twelve months. The Governor speaks of endowing the Institution. In that case the Society will incur no further expenses on account of our Girls'-school. But even should the Governor not be able to accomplish this object, the enlarged number of girls will, I hope, not increase the Society's present expenditure, as we intend to employ our elder girls, for some days in the week, in doing needlework and washing, by which the School will supply a portion of support from itself.

Upon the subject of education, the following important remarks occur in a Letter from Mr. Maunsell, dated Jan. 31, 1849—

My Institution—in which there are three distinct branches to be attended to, native children, Native Teachers, European Pupil-teachers—the care of the Press in Maori matters; my immediate sphere of labour, a semicircle standing on a diameter of sixty miles; and the ministerial charge of the Kaitotehe and Otawao districts; these matters engage my hours of thought and hours of exercise. At six o'clock in the morning I am aroused to our School-prayers; and my last lesson is finished at half-past nine at night. Still, thank God! I enjoy good health and good spirits; and can, in humble thankfulness, say that my good Master is prospering me far beyond what I could have hoped.

I began my School with one European Pupil-teacher, and an average, during the first nine months, of between 12 and 15 children. Now I have 3 English Pupil-teachers—Missionaries' children; 44 native children, boarders; 6 Native Teachers, with their wives; and a prospect of having in a short time a large increase in both these departments. Instead of my having now to solicit, I am solicited to take pupils into my Institution. I began with a rush building, which cost six pounds. I am now about to build five board houses for about 250*l.*, having received that sum from the Government. This Institution has not cost, and, with the blessing of God, shall not cost, the Society a penny.

The great problem which I have set myself to work out is, the possibility of maintaining Boarding-schools without burdening the Society. We have now been in operation a year and seven months, and find in the past the strongest encouragement to proceed. Often have we been brought very low for supplies; but as often have donations, almost entirely from the Natives themselves, come in to our aid. . . . . .

I believe I forwarded to you the reply of Governor Grey to my Letter.* I am now happy to inform you that one-twentieth part of the revenue of this Colony will be devoted in future to the education of the Aborigines.

The examintion of our School was held last month. The disasters occasioned by the earthquake at Wellington caused the absence of the Governor; but the Bishop very kindly came to conduct it.

State of the Waikato District.

At a later date, March 24, 1849, Mr. Maunsell thus describes his Missionary labours in his District—

I am thankful to have to report well of the District in which I am labouring. True, we do not meet with much fervour of feeling, or strong proofs of high spiritual-mindedness. Still, there is a steadiness of attendance on our Services which gives hope. We wait for the moving of the waters: God's Spirit can alone effect our desires. Not unfrequently, however, some remarkable case turns up which excites my wonder. The Lord's-day after I began this Letter I was returning from a village by a new road, and suddenly came upon a very feeble old man, sitting by himself, naked, on his mat in the sun. "Why have you not been to Church?" said I. "How can I, who cannot walk two steps?"—"Well, I hope you pray by yourself." "Yes."—"Repeat your prayer." He immediately commenced a very simple, figurative, spiritual prayer, of which I fear I can give but an inferior report. I was struck with the emphatic abruptness of the commencement—"Have mercy upon me! have mercy upon me!" He then proceeded, "Place me upon the mountain's peak! Place me upon the rock! Place me upon the height where my view may be clear! Christ is Thy Son: He died to save me." This old man, as far as I can recollect, I never saw before, and certainly none other of my brethren, for he is in my district; and yet I was delighted to hear that prayer was his constant practice, and that a few Sundays previous my Native Teacher, sent by me to the same village, on returning by that road, heard in the house a person loud in prayer, as with a number. He waited to see who they were, and found this old man by himself, without a person near him. On passing by the same place last Lord's-day week, he stood up, feeble as he was, and presented me with two melons. He is not baptized.

These incidents encourage much; and yet I often feel depressed when contemplating the future state of this Mission, unless we succeed in establishing more efficient Schools than are now in operation.

Visit of the Governor to Otawao.

Mr. John Morgan records in his Journal, Feb. 22, 1849, the encouraging visit of the Governor of New Zealand to his Station—

The Governor rode over part of the Settlement, and expressed himself as being much pleased with the advance made in civilization. He kindly presented the Ngauhuruhuru Natives with a plough and harness, and commissioned me to engage and superintend an European, to instruct them to plough, and to draw upon him for the expenses at the rate of 21*s.* per week for the next twelve months. His Excellency also presented the Natives with two bulls, one for Ngauhuruhuru and the other for Orakoa Chapel. He was very well received by the Natives, and appeared to enjoy his visit and the fine country over which he rode.

The Governor attended Evening Prayers. I requested Blind Solomon to preach, having previously introduced him to Sir George. He conversed with him, and kindly presented him with several articles of clothing out of his own trunk, and promised, on his return to Auckland, to forward him some warm clothing for the winter, and to renew the gift every year. The evening, before Prayers, was very agreeably spent in conversing on the present state and future prospects of Missions.

We retired to rest, thankful that it had pleased the Lord to dispose the heart of our Governor to take so deep an interest in the nation and the Natives, and to grant so much advance in civilization and Christianity amongst the people.

Christian Resignation of Bereaved Natives.

Mr. Ashwell records the following pleasing instances of the power of religion in supporting the Christian Natives under trials—

I found Hoeta (Jowett)—our principal Assistant at the Boarding-school at the Station—had been in much affliction, having been called to bury his youngest son, two years old. He came to me and said, "I am fearful that I have sinned, for I have prayed so earnestly that my child might be spared, that I have been praying against the purpose and will of God. I grieve over my child; but my greatest grief is the sin of rebellion." I asked him the nature of his prayer. He said, "I did pray that God's will might be done; but I wished for my own: for this I am pouri" (dark). He said this with tears in his eyes. I felt reproved, for I fear I did not feel that degree of submission to the Divine will under similar circumstances—the death of an only son—which was manifested by this my New-Zealand brother.

Another of my Native Teachers, Thomas, belonging to the Ngatiwaroa tribe, manifested the same desire to acquiesce in the Divine will under more trying circumstances. It is now eighteen months since he buried his wife, to whom he was much attached. His only child, a little girl about eight years old, was his greatest earthly comfort; but he did not keep her from our Boarding-school. We feared, however, that she would not be spared long, as she appeared to be suffering from an internal complaint, which was gradually undermining her constitution. After being with us two years she became worse, and I thought it right to tell her father that I feared she was in a critical state. He replied, "If my only child be taken away I shall not be able to bear it. I have no strength: she is my manawa (breath); but I will trust in God." "Yes," I replied; "He is faithful. He will give you strength according to your day."

For a few days poor Thomas appeared paralyzed. The day after her death he said, "My only relief is in secret prayer." A few days afterward the children of our School followed the remains of their young friend to the grave: the four eldest girls were the bearers of the coffin. I trust the lesson will not be lost upon them. Thomas bears his loss as becomes those who do not sorrow without hope. He said to me after the funeral, "My only desire now is to be useful to my tribe. All my earthly hopes are destroyed, but the will of God is best." The consistent conduct of some few of my people, and the happy deaths of others, cause much greater joy and satisfaction than crowded Congregations of mere nominal professors.

Eastern District.

Archdeacon William Williams's Report for 1848.

Archdeacon William Williams thus describes the state of his District, at the close of the year 1848—

The Natives of this District have been left much to themselves, by reason of the pressing calls in other parts of the Eastern District. Still there is much reason to be thankful that their attention has not fallen off, but has rather been on the increase. The Congregations keep up to their full number. The Bible classes are well attended, when they are called together, by a large number of the Christian Natives.

From among the Candidates for Baptism of last year, there have been admitted into the Church 92 men and 71 women, beside 37 children, making a total of 200. The number of Candidates keeps up to the previous amount, by the accession of others who had not come forward. The number of Communicants is not so large this year, because there were several who had been kept back on account of indiscreet conduct, who would have been subsequently re-admitted had it not been for my absence from the Station.

The Girls'-school has been opened upon the Station, and numbers an average of 40. A valuable Native and his wife have the general charge, and Mrs. Williams gives as much time to it as she is able; but unless there be some assistance provided, such as was contemplated by the Central Committee, it is clear that the result will fall much below what is to be desired in a Central Boarding-school. Turanga affords great facilities for this object, because there are numbers of children to be obtained, and food is abundant and cheap; while a contrary state of things would preclude the possibility of working upon a sufficiently large scale.

On the 6th of May I set out on a journey to Waiapu. Since the death of the Rev. C. L. Reay, this important District has been again left to the charge of Native Teachers, with occasional visits from Mr. Baker and myself. On my way I administered the Lord's Supper at Uawa to 140 Communicants, and at Tokomaru to 110 Natives.

On reaching the District immediately belonging to Waiapu, I found that it was necessary to hold adult baptisms, as Mr. Reay had intended to go through the District for this purpose about the time when he was taken from us, and no baptism had been held in the villages south of Rangitukia since Mr. Kissling left. The examination of the numerous Candidates was the work of many days. Baptisms were held respectively at Waipiro, Whareponga, Tuparoa, and Korotere, when 305 adults and 177 children were admitted into the Church of Christ. The Lord's Supper was administered, in different villages, to 496 Communicants. The attention of the Native Teachers in this District has been good; but as a body they are very deficient in knowledge, and are unable to carry the people beyond the first principles. Much of that which gratifies the occasional visitor must be attributed to the effect of novelty and excitement. There is no prospect of the Infant Church being built up and established, or of being rooted and grounded in love, unless the Natives can obtain the constant supervision of a Missionary. Under their present circumstances they may be likened to the man from whom the unclean spirit has departed, for they have laid aside their former heathenish practices, and conform to the worship of the true God; but in multitudes the body has not become the temple of the Holy Ghost. There is danger, therefore, lest the evil spirit should return, and, finding his house empty, swept, and garnished, should go and take seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there, and so the last state of that man become worse than the first.

General State of the Uawa District.

The Rev. J. Hamlin, in the Eastern District, was obliged to leave his Station for six months, in order to obtain medical advice at Auckland. In reference to this circumstance he states, in his Annual Report at the close of the year—

I was not a little encouraged to find that the general affairs of the Station, Schools excepted, had gone on in a regular, and, as far as I could judge, in a satisfactory manner during my absence. Since my return I have paid a visit to each of the outposts, and have every reason to be satisfied with the state of the District generally, and great cause for thankfulness to the God of all mercies for the steady profession of the Gospel made by our more seriously-inclined Natives, as well as for the zeal and diligence of the Native Teachers in visiting the various places assigned them, by the means and assistance of whom the whole District has been brought to a better state than formerly existed. A greater respect is now paid to religion and its ordinances, than had heretofore been paid by the Natives in general. But, though they are generally acquainted with the leading doctrines of Christianity, it is to be feared that the greater part of this knowledge, in a considerable portion of them, is mixed with many strange superstitious notions, which savour more of the old system which they have abandoned than of that holy religion which they profess. Nor is this to be wondered at: so many Christian Converts scattered over a large tract of country need constant instruction and discipline in their new faith, but are nevertheless left to the care of a single Missionary, who can only pay them about four visits in a year. Surely we shall cease to wonder if ignorance and some inconsistencies prevail.

A considerable portion of the two remaining parties of last year has now joined us, and fortunately before the arrival of the Romish Priest, who paid us a visit in November: though he used his utmost endeavours to draw away disciples after him, yet he did not succeed in a single instance.

Western District.

The recovery of the Rev. O. Hadfield has been already mentioned. On the 14th of January 1849 he attended the Church at Wellington, just four years after he had been compelled by illness to leave Waikanae. The Rev. R. Taylor has continued at Wanganui, frequently taking extensive Missionary journeys, and the Rev. J. Williams, Assistant Missionary, has remained in charge at Otaki.

General View of the Wanganui District.

Mr. Taylor reports, in a Letter dated Oct. 17, 1848—

I am thankful to say that the spiritual state of my District was never so prosperous as it is at this time, as far as I am capable of judging from increased attendance on the Means of Grace, and consistent living. I have never had so many applications for baptism, or so many Chiefs who have come forward to confess Christ. I have now in my book near 300 names of Candidates; and at the last Sacrament, which was administered at Hikurangi, on the 1st of October, 440 attended the Lord's Table, and upward of 2000 were present from every part of my wide District, even as far as Taupo. I receive most satisfactory assurances that the great cause of truth is progressing. "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few."

Visit to the Scene of Manihera's Murder.

The martyrdom of Manihera and Kereopa, two Native Catechists who had proceeded to Taupo as Evangelists to their enemies in that part of the island, will be fresh in the recollection of our readers.* In February of last year, Mr. Taylor, intending to visit Auckland on matters connected with the Mission, decided on going by way of Taupo. Two young men of the Ngatiruanui tribe—one of them Piripi, Manihera's successor as Head Teacher of Waokena, the other Hare Purumera, a principal Chief—determined on completing that which Manihera and his companion had commenced, offered to accompany him as messengers of peace from their own tribe to the Taupo people. Some of his friends endeavoured to dissuade the latter from going, lest his bones should be laid by the side of his relative Manihera. He made the noble reply, "What if a canoe be upset at sea? will it hinder all other canoes from going to sea for fishing, lest they likewise should be upset? I shall go to Taupo, because the object is good—to make peace." Tahana, and others of the Christian Natives, were also of the party. They reached Tokanu on the 12th of March, when Mr. Taylor writes—

We were received with the usual cry of welcome, and the tangi of the females. Afterward we sat for some time in silence. Herekiekie arose and bid us welcome as the servants of God, and likewise as being his friends and relatives. "Welcome Piripi, the friend of Manihera, and welcome Te Teira*, te tangata o Taupo"—the man of Taupo. "The object of your journey is good, and therefore you are all welcome, being messengers of peace." Huiatahi, the murderer of Manihera, bade us welcome; and Piripi also, as being a good man, coming on a good errand. Piripi replied, he was not a good man, for none were good; but still, as a believer, he strove and desired to be such. He came to cement the peace, and to prove that his tribe entertained no enmity toward them. Huikotuku welcomed us as coming, in the power of God, to finish the quarrel on the spot where it first commenced, and therefore bade us welcome to Taupo and Tongariro, the source of the quarrel. Wiremu Kingi [William King, one of Mr. Taylor's party] said our coming was not a fresh thought: it was an old one. We came, on the strength of the Christian faith, to make peace. If a person of old got burnt he prayed to his god to draw out the fire from the wound: so the people of God, who had felt the evils of war, sought to terminate them. He said, "Henceforth let there be but one canoe for us all. We seek no payment for Manihera's death: if we did, we should have come in a different way. It was from the Lord, and therefore all was well." After some other speeches to the same effect, I arose, and told them I did not come to remind them of their former feuds and animosities, but to bury them: that my wish was to promote their unity by the establishment of peace amongst them: that before I came in sorrow, and neither shook hands nor bade them welcome, neither eating nor drinking with them; but now the case was different: that as they had been hindered by the war† from fulfilling their promise of sending one of their number to make peace with the Ngatiruanui, I had brought the successor of Manihera to do so: that my desire was to assemble the Taupo Natives and the Ngatiruanui at my next Sacrament at Otake, and I hoped they would come; and, having seen each other face to face, they might banish war for ever. I then shook hands with every one, and they walked past my party, and saluted each person. Afterward, an abundance of food was set before us.

After dinner I bade them all accompany me to the grave of Manihera, which they willingly did, and, as we went along, pointed out the spots where each of those faithful and beloved servants of God fell. They had put down a stake to mark the precise place, and pared the ground into the form of a saucer. They spoke of their death and agonies without any feeling. On our arriving at the grave I found all my party sitting in front, with their heads cast down, either in prayer, or sorrow, or both. I took my stand in front, having before me all the murderers and chief persons of the tribe, who, with my own party, together formed a large number. I commenced by giving out the thirty-ninth hymn, and then reading the account of Stephen's death; after which I pointed out the similarity of the case, and, as I trusted they had done it in ignorance, I solemnly exhorted them to repentance, and to turn to the Lord. I told them that we had no other feeling than love for them; but they had been guilty of a great crime, for which God would bring them to judgment unless they repented. I exhorted them to let this be the end of their quarrels, and henceforth to live as brethren with each other. I then offered up prayer for the murderers, and, having cleared the grave of weeds, and sown some seeds of shrubs, we returned.

Shortly after, Mr. Taylor and his native friends from Wanganui bade farewell to each other for a time, the former proceeding to Auckland, the latter returning home, accompanied by three principal Chiefs of Herekiekie's tribe, to the Ngatiruanui, formally to make peace. Thus in the shedding of poor Manihera's blood that deadly feud is quenched, and we trust that results will follow of a still more important character. They suffered at the hands of those who were their enemies, but to whom they came on a mission of love: and the shedding of their blood has terminated the hostility of the Taupo Natives. May the blood of Him who is the great Peacemaker overcome, within the hearts of the same people, the principle of estrangement which keeps them far from God, and bring them near, in a spirit of unfeigned repentance, to Him who "commendeth His love toward us in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." Some of Manihera's relatives proposed that his remains should be removed to the country of his own people; but Mr. Taylor's answer was remarkable—"Touch them not; for, so long as they remain there, the land is tapued for Christ."

The Otaki and Waikanae District.

In October last Mr. Hadfield paid a visit to his people at Waikanae and Otaki, accompanied by the Rev. J. F. Lloyd, a Clergyman from Ireland. Mr. Lloyd has written an interesting account of the visit, from which we extract a few passages. His testimony is the more valuable from the circumstance recorded in the opening of his Letter.

On my voyage out, and on my first arrival in New Zealand, I heard so many things to the disadvantage of the Natives, from so many persons apparently well informed, that I was almost tempted for a time to think that the accounts I had been reading of them at home were highly coloured, and not altogether to be depended upon. I gladly, however, availed myself of the first good opportunity of judging for myself, and accompanied Mr. Hadfield in his late visit to Otaki. As we proceeded on our journey, the disagreeable impressions left on my mind by the unfavourable reports I had received gradually disappeared. The cordiality and affection with which the Natives everywhere along the road welcomed back Mr. Hadfield, after his long illness, spoke highly in their favour. The marks of genuine feeling depicted on their countenances could not be mistaken by the most ordinary observer of human nature; and I cannot say whether I was most delighted with the amiable dispositions everywhere manifested by the Natives, or with the beauty and magnificence of the country through which we passed.

At Porirua we were joined by Rauparaha's son, dressed in European costume, and mounted on an excellent horse, and apparently in no respect differing from one of ourselves, excepting in the colour of his skin.

The Church at Waikanae, although badly situated in the midst of sandhills, yet does great credit to the Natives by whose voluntary labours it was built. It is seventy-one feet long by thirty-five wide, and is entirely of native workmanship. In the evening the whole population of the place was assembled for Service within its walls. Here and elsewhere along the coast the Natives are remarkable for the regularity of their attendance at the daily Morning and Evening Services. Almost all the inhabitants of the Pa assemble every morning in the Church at an early hour, before they begin their work, and again in the evening toward sunset, when the labours of the day are over. In the absence of the Clergyman, some of the Native Teachers officiate; and such is the proper feeling and respect of these people for their religious Services, that the Church, on such occasions, is as well attended, and the Congregation as decorous, as when the Clergyman himself is present.

On reaching Otaki, we found the inhabitants, to the number of about 600, assembled in an open space adjoining the east end of their Church. As we approached, the men shook their garments, crying out, "Haere mai!" their well-known form of welcome. As we remained for ten minutes or a quarter of an hour, according to the native custom of greeting their long-absent friends, about thirty yards apart from the assembled multitude, the women gave vent to their feelings by sobs and moans, expressive rather of deep sorrow than of joy, while the tears rolled down the cheeks also of many a tattooed and manly face. And as we stood here, with the large Church on one side, the assembled Natives before us, and the tokens of advancing civilization everywhere visible around us, I could not but thank and praise God, who had so mercifully visited this fine race of men, rescuing them from their heathen state, and making them partakers with us of the blessings of the Gospel of Christ.

When the first greetings were over we entered the Church—a noble building, when we consider by whom it was erected. It is eighty feet long by thirty-six wide, and forty high, and is entirely of native workmanship. The walls are built of huge pieces of totara wood, coloured red, of about three feet in breadth, and nineteen feet in height, and of great strength and thickness.

The village—or town, as the Natives call it—of Otaki is not yet finished. Two private houses have been built, which would be comfortable residences for any Europeans; but most of the Natives are at present residing in temporary huts, as they very properly wish to complete the Church before they commence their own dwellings. The town, however, has been laid out according to a regular plan, and will be intersected by wide streets, which are to be adorned by rows of trees. A good site also has been chosen, and the machinery already provided, for a mill, which will be commenced immediately. The Church and the two private dwellings already finished give some idea of what the town will be when it is completed; and I have no doubt that Otaki will yet afford one of the most interesting proofs that the world has ever exhibited, of the power of the Christian religion in elevating the mind and heart of man out of the depths of degradation into which they are sunk by ignorance and sin, and in refining and civilizing mankind.

In the evening there was a Congregation of about 600 in the Church, which was larger than usual, many Natives having come in for the occasion from the neighbouring Pas. I was delighted with the alacrity and regularity with which the Natives here, and elsewhere along the coast, attended the daily Morning and Evening Services of their Church. It was quite manifest that they did not regard their Religious Services as an irksome duty which it was necessary to fulfil, and which they had a superstitious fear of neglecting; but rather as a happy privilege, from which they would not absent themselves unless compelled by sickness, or by some other urgent cause. Morning Service commences at Otaki, in winter as soon as it is light, in summer about five o'clock, and Evening Service about sunset, when the work of the day is over. Every morning, as soon as the Service is concluded, School commences, which is attended by almost the whole Congregation, consisting of old and young, women and children. The adults are formed into classes in the Church, as there is no other building large enough to contain them all; or, if the weather be sufficiently fine, they assemble upon the grass outside. The young are drafted off to the School-house. They seem to have a peculiar facility in learning to write; and I have no hesitation in saying, that I have never witnessed in any School for the poorer classes, in England, Ireland, or Scotland, better writing, on the whole, than that which I have seen at Otaki. It is a singular as well as most interesting sight to see the old tattooed Natives, from the highest Chief down to the lowest member of society, sitting promiscuously in their respective classes, and catechized, perhaps, by some younger member of the Congregation, who has been chosen for the office of Monitor on account of his consistent conduct and superior attainments. There I saw, every morning, amongst other men of note, the old and once-powerful Chief Rauparaha, who, notwithstanding his great age, of more than eighty years, is seldom missed from his class, and who, after a long life of perpetual turmoil, spent in all the savage excitement of cruel and bloody wars, is now to be seen every morning, in his accustomed place, repeating those blessed truths which teach him to love the Lord with all his heart, and mind, and soul, and strength, and his neighbour as himself.

At ten o'clock the children and young people are again assembled at the Daily-school, and are instructed until twelve o'clock in reading, writing, arithmetic, Catechism, and English. The average attendance at this School is 140, which, in fact, includes all the young people of the place. The School is conducted by Native Teachers, with the exception of the English department, for which an English Master has been provided. The Native Teachers give their services gratuitously; for although it is the intention, if possible, to provide funds for their remuneration, yet up to this time they have received none, nor do they expect any. An excellent piece of rich land, of about thirty acres, in the immediate neighbourhood of the village, has been set apart by the Natives for the use and support of the School, and the school-children and Native Teachers are employed, after school-hours, in the cultivation of this land. By this means the School will be made to support itself, should funds from other quarters fail; while at the same time important instructions in agriculture are thus communicated to the young, and, through them, to the rest of the inhabitants.

On the Sunday which was appointed for the administration of the Lord's Supper, the 7th of October, there was a Congregation at each of the three Services of between 700 and 800. The large Church was filled to overflowing. Most of the vast assembly sat upon the ground in the usual native posture, and were closely packed together, presenting a dense mass of human faces. Those who have adopted the European costume sat upon benches at the east end and along the sides of the Church. Never have I seen in any English Congregation more reverence or devotion than I witnessed upon this occasion; and I may safely say the same of all the Public Services that I attended at Otaki, and the other villages along the coast. The responses of our beautiful Service were given with a fervour and unanimity, such as I have never heard in any Church in our own more favoured country. The Hymns, that have been printed at the end of the Maori version of our Prayer-book, were sung by the whole multitude with a heartiness which rendered them much more grateful to the ear than better performances which are confined to a few individuals in the Congregation. And as I looked along the dense mass of human faces, and saw the eagerness with which they drank in every word of the discourse that was delivered to them, I could not but wonder at the marvellous change which, by the grace of God, has been effected, in so short a time, in this people, once notorious through the world for their savage ferocity. After the mid-day Service was concluded, 130 individuals were admitted to the Lord's Supper. These were the choice and most approved members of the flock, and the solemnity, devotion, and intelligence, with which they joined in the sacred Service was most impressive and affecting.

The change that has been effected in the social and religious condition of the Natives at Otaki has not been confined to that one locality: I found the same great work going on, though not perhaps with the same rapidity, in all the villages that I visited in the surrounding district.

From what I have seen at Otaki, and in the surrounding country, I do not think there is much reason to apprehend any retrograde movement there. It has been Mr. Hadfield's aim, in all his instructions, to supply the Natives with broad principles of action for the regulation of their conduct, and to teach them to apply these principles for themselves to all the practical details of life. Consequently the Natives of Otaki, in place of being guided by narrow and contracted rules, taken up without reason and followed blindly, into which an ignorant people, just emerging from heathenism, are so likely to fall, have now acquired the habit of thinking and judging for themselves: their faculties have been awakened and developed, and their faith has become with them an intelligent faith, a part of their being, which cannot be shaken off without such a moral convulsion as we can have no reason to apprehend. The judiciousness of this mode of teaching became apparent, when, by the providence of God, Mr. Hadfield was withdrawn from his labours by a long and painful illness of five years' duration; for the Natives were then in great measure thrown upon their own resources, and forced to think and act for themselves. But they stood the trial well, and came out of it, as I am told, unharmed. For the last eighteen months, however, the extensive district of Otaki has been worked with much judgment and energy by a son of Archdeacon Henry Williams, of Paihía.*

The devoted Labourers in this Mission continue their "work of faith" in the "patience of hope."

The Schools form a very important branch of labour. The Rev. J. J. Lohrer remarks, speaking of the girls—

* Further accounts of the New-Zealand Mission are given in the "Church Missionary Record" for August 1849, pp. 180—185; Sept. pp. 212—216; Oct. pp. 227—234; Nov. pp. 254—258; and Dec. pp. 293—300; and also in the "Church Missionary Intelligencer" for June 1849, pp. 31—33; August, pp. 82—84; September, pp. 109, 110: Oct. pp. 131—133; March 1850, pp. 257—264, with two Engravings; April, pp. 270, 271, and 276—280, with an Engraving; and July, pp. 350—360, with an Engraving.

Their knowledge of Bible History is not to be measured by their answers, for they are very reserved. I am convinced they are not inferior to many of our best village Schools in England, and superior to not a few. There are, perhaps, in a few cases, some signs of life observable.

On Sunday afternoon the Arrowaks and Carrabeese assemble in different localities; the former in the Church, the latter in the Boys' School-room, and are addressed by Frederick and Erie, Native Teachers, respectively.

Mr. Lohrer visited the Settlements of the Carribeese, on the lower part of the Massarooni and Cuyuni rivers. He induced the Indians in the different Settlements to meet in one place, to the number of about fifty, to hear the Word of God, which they did attentively, and expressed a desire that he would return: they gave him three of their children to take to the Mission Station, for education. He has since revisited them.

Of the Mission generally the Rev. J. H. Bernau writes—

With respect to our Mission at Bartica, I am encouraged to hope that a blessing is resting upon us: the Means of Grace are tolerably well attended, and I believe that in due season we shall reap the fruit of the seed that is now being sown.

Arrival of the Bishop of Rupert's Land.

The arrival of the first Bishop, appointed by the Church at home to preside over a distant branch planted many years ago in a heathen country, is an event of such deep interest and importance, that it claims the first place in the record of the past year.

The Right Rev. David Anderson, D.D., Bishop of Rupert's Land, arrived in his diocese at York Fort, Hudson's Bay, on the 16th of August 1849. "It was a bright and beautiful day," writes the Bishop, "so that our first impressions of York Fort and the river were very favourable. Before landing, I asked the captain to allow us to sing the Doxology once more together, when he at once assembled all hands on deck, and we sang, under the open canopy of heaven, 'Praise God, from whom all blessings flow;' after which I offered up a few words of prayer, and then pronounced the Blessing."

The Bishop was accompanied by the Society's Missionary, the Rev. R. Hunt. He remained for a fortnight at York Fort, before proceeding on his inland voyage to the Red-River Settlement. In the true character of a Missionary Bishop, he at once inquired for the tents of the Indians. His own emphatic expression, at his first landing in his diocese, was, "To the Indians especially I feel that I am sent."

He thus describes the Services of the Sunday after his arrival, which had taken place on the previous Thursday—

On Sunday we had full Morning Service in the large mess-room, which, from its size, is well adapted for the purpose. Mr. Hunt read prayers, and I preached from 2 Cor. x. 14. "We are come as far as to you also in preaching the Gospel of Christ." There were about fifty Indians present, and about as many of our own countrymen. Though unable to understand much of what was said, the Indians were very orderly and attentive. In the afternoon I went with Mr. Hunt to one of their tents. I had been in the tent on Saturday, when we took them by surprise, and talked to them for some time by an Interpreter; and I then told them that I would visit them on Sunday afternoon. They had, in consequence, kindled a large fire with logs of wood, around which were green branches of trees, and a few boxes or trunks were placed for us to sit upon, while the Indians themselves were squatted on the ground. There might be in all about fifty of us in the tent. We had a very pleasant conversation with them, endeavouring to draw them out in question and answer. They said it was very hard that we should leave them to go to others: that they would like a Minister among them to tell them of Christ.

It does appear hard; but then we have not men enough to leave a permanent Minister among them. In the evening several of them came to my room, and remained afterward for Evening Prayers with our own circle.

At the end of the first week a daily Congregation of fifty-seven Indians were met by the Bishop and his Chaplain in a room; and at times nearly 100 were present. Mr. Hunt describes these Meetings in the following terms—

Great was the attention with which they all heard the Word, and many the sobs and tears which escaped from several of them, more especially while the interpreter repeated the short and weighty sentences of the Bishop's admirable and suitable prayer, and also while one of the Cree Indians, from Norway House, said the Lord's Prayer in their own tongue, and which they all, by the Bishop's direction, repeated responsively—much more heartily and unanimously than English Congregations usually do.

Four of the Indians were selected by the Bishop as sufficiently advanced in Christian knowledge to be baptized. The first Candidate had heard a Protestant Missionary once, four years before. He had, by great perseverance, made himself master of a Cree syllabic alphabet invented by a late Wesleyan Missionary, Mr. Evans, and had read a Catechism written in that character. He had communicated to others the dawning of light in his own soul; and had won over to the Truth his half-brother, who was the second Candidate for Baptism. The other two were whole brothers, who had received their knowledge of Christianity about four years before, through the pious instructions of one of the officers of the Hudson's-Bay Company; and had since, in their annual visits to York Fort, anxiously communicated with the Christian Natives whom they met there. On the second Sunday of the Bishop's stay at York Fort the baptism of these Indians took place, and is thus described by the Bishop—

I gave notice in the morning that I would have a Service for the baptism of some Indians at four in the afternoon: there was a very large Congregation of Indians in consequence. I first addressed them, by an Interpreter, upon the interview of Christ with Nicodemus, the Gospel for the Service, and then referred to Acts viii.—the case of Philip and the eunuch—dwelling chiefly on verses 36, 37. I then baptized four, putting to them individually the questions in the Service. Two of them were those I have mentioned from York: the other two are from Churchill. One of the latter is the sharpest and cleverest of the four, speaks with great animation, is very eager after knowledge, and anxious to communicate. They are brothers, and I am in great hopes they may be of some little use in Churchill in talking of these things, and spreading some knowledge of the Saviour.

All the four came afterward to our Family Prayers, and you would have been much pleased to see their attention and reverential demeanour. They are, as far as man can see, very humble and anxious inquirers, and eager to be guided into the way of salvation. We are very sorry to leave them, but shall not cease to pray for them as our first-fruits here.

After these interesting specimens of Indian Converts, the following striking testimony to the value of Missionary labours may be appropriately introduced. Five or six men, of Sir J. Richardson's unsuccessful expedition in search of Sir J. Franklin, arrived at the Fort in a boat, whose crew consisted of fifteen baptized Indians. Mr. Hunt writes—

The voluntary and explicit testimony of these men to the character of these fifteen Indians was to the effect that they never had seen a better-behaved or a happier boat's crew than were these Indians: they never omitted singing and prayer morning and evening, and they were in every respect examples of good moral conduct, forming the greatest possible contrast to the awful cursing and swearing of the Canadian voyageurs. From what we have seen of these Christian Indians, we are fully able to confirm this most encouraging account of the wonderful effects of the Gospel upon the Indian Tribes to which these men belong. Could the platform of Exeter Hall have been the scene of some of our conferences with sixes and sevens of our anxious inquirers, I will not suffer myself to doubt that donations of hundreds and thousands of pounds would multiply the Society's number of Labourers.

The testimony of the Bishop to the character which the converted Indians bear is equally satisfactory. He writes—

You will be looking for the account of my first impressions of the Indians. Let me say, they are more favourable than what I had been led to form by anticipation: there is more knowledge of Christ, more idea of sin, and more feeling of their need of a Saviour. It is rarer to find a distinct knowledge of the Holy Spirit, although they quite acknowledge that God alone can change the heart. This place is not, however, a fair test of the general condition of the Indians. They are brought into contact here with our own countrymen; with Indians, too, who have adopted all our habits and customs, and modes of thought. Beside this, Missionaries of our own Church, and Wesleyan Missionaries, are oftener in this place than in remote Stations in the interior. In this way they gradually pick up knowledge, and this circulates among them; for they are very fond of speaking of these things, and of praying or singing together.

The Bishop, after remaining a fortnight at York Fort, proceeded on his journey up Port-Nelson River, throughout the length of Lake Winnipeg, and up the Red River to the Company's Settlement. On the very day of his arrival the Rev. J. Macallum died, who had for several years conducted an academy, which was the only provision for education of a superior kind in the Colony. Mr. Macallum was an Agent of the Company; but, though not a Missionary, he was zealously devoted to the cause, had received Ordination from the Bishop of Montreal when he visited the Mission in 1843, and had preached the Anniversary Sermon of the Rupert's-Land Church Missionary Association a few months before his death. He left a direction in his will that his interest in the academy should be offered, in the first instance, to the Bishop.

The Bishop at once became the purchaser of Mr. Macallum's house and establishment, in the confidence that it would afford the nucleus of a Collegiate Institution, at which not only the youth of the settlers and country-born population might be trained up in Christian principles, but in which Native Teachers might also be prepared for Ordination under his own eye, and the advantage of his Theological lectures, for which his previous experience as Vice-Principal of St. Bee's College, Cumberland, have eminently qualified him.

With these views, he relinquished the privilege of a large and commodious house which had been assigned to him by the Company, and at once took up his abode at the academy, which is situated near the Upper Church, and began to share the labours of tuition.

The most pleasing testimony was borne by the Bishop to the character of the Missionaries of the Society, and to the success which has attended their ministrations, from the universal report of those who were best able to judge, and from his own observation as far as it has extended.

Writing from York Fort, the Bishop states—

> The Chief Factor here has seen and known all who have come out. Better men could not have been selected; men of God, and of devoted, unwearied zeal, Especially would I say, from what he has told me, that the labours of Mr. West and Mr. Cockran have been beyond all praise.

After three months' residence in his Diocese the Bishop writes—

> I have now had the satisfaction of seeing all the Missionaries of the Society, with the exception of Mr. Cowley. All appear men devoted to their work; and I have no hesitation in stating my conviction, that all have been much blessed of God in their several spheres of labour. The fruit is less apparent as yet at Manitoba than in the other Missions, but I believe a good work is there going on in the Native Schools.
>
> Of the Society's Schools, and the prospective good which they may effect, I cannot say too much. I have myself examined six of these Schools, paid by the Society. They give a solid, sound education, and of a superior description. The two best are, the Rapids School and the Upper Church School. The difference may be traced at once by the other Schools being removed to a greater distance from the Church. Neither the children nor their parents can attend Church so regularly, and hence less religious information is circulated. There is great anxiety for knowledge, great fondness for the Word of God, and an exemplary observance of the Sabbath. For this let us bless

God, and for all His mercies to the Mission and Settlement. I do not think that any country in which you have planted Labourers can have presented so fixed and settled an appearance in twenty-nine years.

If my hands are only strengthened from home for the next four or five years, I trust that after that time we may begin to do with less help, and may find that the inhabitants will gradually support the Churches planted among them, and allow your Society to extend your operations to other less-favoured spots.

THE MIDDLE AND GRAND RAPIDS CHURCHES.

The Rev. R. James has had the care of these Churches, and of the annexed Districts. He informs us that there are among his people the same outward respect and attention to the opportunities of Christian instruction afforded them, and the same evidences of its internal power.

The number of Communicants has been increased by the addition of fourteen. In the Schools, 320 children, on week-days and Lord's-days, are receiving a solid religious and useful education.

Testimony of the Bishop—Cheering Desire for the Means of Grace.

On the Lord's-day after his arrival the Bishop preached at the Rapids Church. He writes—

In remembrance of the many mercies we had received by land and sea, I invited the people to the Lord's Supper on the next Sunday; and although it was not one of the usual periods for the administration of the Sacrament, I was not a little delighted to find no less than 167 Communicants; this, too, in a Church which would not hold above 300. The appearance of the Congregation is very devotional: they respond well: they sing with heart and soul. The first burst of music, when they all joined in the Psalm of praise, quite overpowered me: indeed, I have not heard any sound sweeter to my ear since leaving England.

Mr. James's Journal contains the following striking proof of the desire of the people for religious instruction—

Oct. 3, 1848—Many who have been called away from the Settlement by various occupations have returned, so that my Lecture was well attended this evening. Although I fear the spiritual interests of my people suffer by a long absence from the Settlement, yet I always find them most anxious to attend the very first Service that is held after their return. Some boatmen, who had not been home more than an hour from their long and laborious journey to York, were present at my Lecture this evening, and listened with such attention, that I am persuaded they are anxious to regain what they had lost by a necessary absence from the Means of Grace.

Annual Missionary Services.

On the 4th of January the Second Anniversary Missionary Meeting at the Rapids Church was held. Major Caldwell, the new Governor of the Settlement, who takes a deep interest in the prosperity of the Mission, and in the spiritual as well as temporal welfare of the people, presided on the occasion, and addressed the Meeting.

Completion of the New Church.

In former Reports mention has been made of the exertions of the people to build a new Church. The first impulse was given by the visit of the Bishop of Montreal in 1844. In an Address of the Congregation, presented to the Bishop of Rupert's Land, they thus speak of the undertaking—

> Mr. Cockran invited his whole Congregation together, and told us that he had purposed to build a stone Church 80 feet long by 40 feet in width, with a tower 20 feet in the base and 49 feet above. To meet our astonishment at the magnitude of the building, seeing that we were but a poor people, the fondest hope was held out to us, that, in case a Bishop should be sent out, the Grand Rapids would be the most suitable place of residence. Under this impression we joined heart and hand to build the edifice which your Lordship sees.

The Bishop testifies that the building is very creditable to all parties, and that all have done their utmost, some giving wood, some labour, and some various parts of the furniture. The Bishop had made arrangements for its Consecration on the 19th of December. It is to be called St. Andrew's Church. "The people," his Lordship writes, "have made it over to the Society as long as the Society can maintain a Clergyman among them, and bind themselves to support a Clergyman hereafter, should the grant of the Society be withdrawn."

INDIAN SETTLEMENT.

General View—Easter-Sunday Services.

The Indian Village, during the last year, has been, on the whole, in a satisfactory state. There has been tolerable health among the Natives, and a sufficiency of food. The attendance at Public Worship is very exemplary: all endeavour to be present in their places at Church on Sunday. About 350 compose the morning Congregation. "The people behave with great propriety, joining in the Prayers very devotionally, and listening to instruction with the most marked attention."

The number of Communicants has been increased from 86 to 91. The Bishop reports of this Station, "all is in good order, and well arranged."

The Services on Easter Sunday, April 8, 1849, are thus described by Mr. Smithurst—

> I administered the Sacrament to eighty-four persons. This was the greatest number to whom I ever admistered at one time. There were, on this occasion, seven new Communicants admitted. The Service was a very solemn and comfortable one: many were in tears, and at times I could scarcely control my own feelings, especially when administering to some of the young for the first time. These young people I found children of ten or twelve years old in the School. They have been wholly brought up under my care, and it is encouraging to see them come forward to enter anew into covenant with God. May He, by His mighty power, keep them stedfast in the faith, and, through the Redeemer's merits, bring them to His kingdom!

Political Excitement subdued.

It is a fact not a little remarkable, that political unquietness was manifesting its baneful influence in the remote regions of North-West America at the very period at which Europe was desolated by civil commotions. An opposition was raised against the privileges secured by charter to the Hudson's-Bay Company, and charges of mismanagement were alleged by a party of mixed descent in the Settlement. Strong efforts were made to prejudice the Indians under Mr. Smithurst against the Company, and against their Pastor, who was understood to have given evidence in the Company's favour. For a time Mr. Smithurst was subject to a severe trial. He, however, succeeded in putting down the first indications of a seditious spirit by a resolute and firm opposition. A large party of armed men passed through his Settlement to release one of their number, who had been arrested for illegal trading, and called upon the Indians to join them: not one of Mr. Smithurst's people, however, joined the seditious party. From the last accounts it appears that the excitement of his people was passing away, and their affection for their Pastor was again manifesting itself in its former warmth and cordiality.

CUMBERLAND STATION.

Machinery of the Mission—Advance in Civilization.

The external arrangements of the Mission Establishment have considerably advanced to their completion. The Rev. J. Hunter hopes that, before the termination of another year, there will be a good substantial Parsonage, Church, and Schoolhouse, and every requisite outhouse for carrying on the business of the Station efficiently. These matters have necessarily occupied much of his time and thought. On this subject he writes, in a Letter dated August 2, 1849—

I have frequently had many anxious thoughts on this subject, but have invariably come to the conclusion that it was my duty to devote my time to these matters for several reasons; inasmuch as I was thereby establishing the Mission and giving permanency to it, and also teaching the Indians industrious habits and how to work, thereby enabling them the better to make farms and houses for themselves, and to clothe themselves and their families with the goods which I give them as payment for their work. All my payments to the Indians are in goods, which gives me much additional labour: they are unacquainted with the value of money. A Chief Factor of the Company, in writing to me very recently, says—"I rejoice to learn that you are making such good progress toward the erection of your requisite Missionary buildings, and indeed somewhat astonished at the large amount of work you are enabled to get through, considering that the chief part is necessarily done by native labour, which, generally speaking, is not much to be depended on. From no other tribe that I know of could such continuous and effective labour be expected." This is the testimony of a gentleman who has spent the greater part of his life in this country, and therefore deserves the more attention in estimating the progress which the Indians at this Station have made in forming industrious habits, although I am far from giving them credit for being so active as they might be.

And again in his Annual Report, at the same date—

Several new houses have been put up this summer, and the people are completing their old ones, so that the Mission is now assuming the appearance of a village. At daybreak the sound of their axes may be heard working at their houses, while their wives and children are making gardens around them: taking into consideration the natural indolence of the Indian, it speaks much for their improvement in this respect. They are also becoming more cleanly and neat in their persons, and are anxious to appear decently attired at our Services on the Lord's-day. Thus far civilization is going hand in hand with Christianization, and I trust that, as they become better acquainted with the blessings and privileges of the Gospel, so likewise they will make greater efforts to secure all its advantages.

Report for the Year ending Aug. 1, 1849.

The Indians are making slow, but perceptible progress, both in spiritual and temporal things. They now continue longer about the Mission Establishment than in previous years, and are more regular in their attendance upon the Means of Grace. Family Prayer is regularly maintained, both in their tents and houses, when at their hunting-grounds, as well as when at the Station; and often have I felt refreshed and encouraged, when passing their tents and houses, by hearing the voice of prayer and praise proceeding from the inmates. Their prayers are simple and child-like, offered up with great fervency and devotion, and no doubt find acceptance through the all-prevailing merits of Him who ever liveth to make intercession for His people. When absent from the Station at their hunting-grounds, I have every reason to believe that the Lord's-day is valued and properly observed. They hold regular Prayer-Meetings among themselves, which the oldest and most experienced conduct. Thus, in the midst of the forest, do these children of nature raise an altar to the true and living God, and make the wilderness to "rejoice, and blossom as the rose."

Divine Service is performed every Lord's-day, both morning and evening, in the native language; in addition to which we have an early Prayer-meeting before the Sunday-school commences, and also Prayers every evening at sunset during the week. These Services are, on the whole, well attended, especially during the summer months. The number of Communicants at present is 61. Many of those who were present on Christmas-day travelled upward of 100 miles, in snow shoes, in order to be present at the Lord's Table.

Fifteen adults have been baptized during the past year at this Station, and 35 children, making a total of 50. These, added to the 424 last reported, make a total of 474 persons connected with this Station. Thus, one after another, the Indians are making inquiries after the Truth, and seeking admittance into the visible Church of Christ. May they not only be partakers of the outward and visible sign, but may they also experience the inward and spiritual grace, of that Divinely-appointed ordinance!

*The Chief, and his Brother.

Some of the individual instances of the power of the Gospel, referred to by Mr. Hunter, are very encouraging and satisfactory. Among these may be mentioned the Chief, Louis Constance, and his brother Antoine. The Indians, in their heathen state, are the abject slaves of superstition. Their medicine-men have great power over them. Louis Constance, who has been a prominent actor in such scenes, has given the following proof of his determination to renounce all such vicious practices—

Sept. 11, 1848—To-day the Chief, Louis Constance, brought me what he formerly esteemed, when acting as head of the Metáwin feast, a very important document, viz. a piece of birch-rind made into a roll, containing a map of the straight road to obtain long life and happiness in this world, the several deities to be propitiated, branch roads which the wicked are following, the goods paid to the headmen as offerings to the deities, &c. The whole is no doubt borrowed from the Gospel; but it is a very curious document, and is considered a "Great Mystery" among the heathen Indians. The Chief told me that he used to regard the birch-rind roll with the same reverence that he now feels toward the Bible; but since he has embraced Christianity he looks with shame and sorrow on his former evil practices, and, as a further proof of his sincerity, he has delivered up this roll, the last remaining relic of his former superstition, to be disposed of as I shall think fit. I informed him that I should send it to the Church Missionary Society for their inspection, and I felt sure they would be much pleased with this evidence of his genuine attachment to the Gospel of Christ.†

March 23, 1849—I was conversing this evening with the Chief, Louis Constance, who has recently returned from his winter hunting-grounds. He complained very much of the burden of his sins, which were weighing heavily on his conscience, especially with reference to his former evil practices, as the head of the Indians at their heathen rites and superstitions. "Not only," he said, "do I feel the burden of my own personal sins, but that I should have been the cause of leading others into sin and wickedness."

April 8: Easter-day—Among the new Communicants to-day was the brother of the Chief, Antoine Constance, who was a very fierce opponent of Christianity when Mr. Henry Budd commenced his labours at this Station. Frequently he came when the Indians were assembling for prayers, using the most threatening language, and challenging the Indians to fight, and disturbing them as much as possible at their Prayer-meetings. Even since my arrival at the Station, he has been the ringleader of several Sunday disturbances to vex and annoy the Indian Christians. But since he embraced Christianity, he is become a perfectly changed character, regular in his attendance on the Means of Grace, and apparently contrite for his former bitter opposition.

LAC-LA-RONGE.

Of this Station Mr. Hunter has furnished the following

Report for the Year ending Aug. 1, 1849.

This Station is still under the superintendence of Mr. James Settee, the Native Catechist and Schoolmaster; and the accounts with which he has furnished me from time to time, of the state and prospects of his charge, are of the most encouraging description. In a recent communication he writes as follows—"I am thankful to say that my time has been fully employed in communicating the dying love of Jesus to the poor Indians. They all send their love to you for having visited their land, and baptized them in the name of the Lord Jesus. They hope the Lord will enable them to walk according to their profession, while they desire your prayers much on their behalf."

Last autumn Mr. Settee thatched his dwelling-house, built a new store-house, and also, with the assistance of the Indians, prepared the frame and logs of a new School-house. But this summer he writes, that, in consequence of the scarcity of provisions at his old establishment, he had removed to a place called Potato River, about a day's journey from Lac-la-Ronge, where he found an excellent fishery, together with an abundance of wood for building uses, good ground for agricultural purposes, and extensive pasturage for cattle. As the Indians are desirous that he should continue at the Potato River, and have assisted him to make a small farm there this summer, and prepared wood for houses, he will no doubt do so, until the arrival of the Rev. Robert Hunt to take charge of the Station—who, after residing on the spot for some time, will be able to select the most advantageous site for the Mission premises.

Mr. Settee holds Prayers daily with the Indians, and Services twice on the Lord's-day; and he reports that the Means of Grace are well attended, and properly observed.

MANITOBA STATION.

General View—Establishment of an Indian Service.

The aspect of Missionary work at this Station is still devoid of those encouraging circumstances which, when they come, make glad the Missionary's heart. The Indians remain, with scarcely an exception, careless, and wedded to their superstitions. A general view of the Station, and of the different departments of labour in which Mr. Cowley is engaged throughout the year, is presented in the following extracts from a Letter dated July 21, 1849—

Our work progresses but slowly. Preaching, and teaching, and conversational intercourse with the Indians, have been maintained during the year as usual; but with what effect God only knows. Sometimes the Gospel would appear to be gaining ground, then again to lose all. It is, however, I think, the conviction of the Indians that Christianity will ultimately triumph.

I have baptized one adult during the year, and there are three others who desire that rite, but I think it prudent to detain them till more knowledge and clearer marks of piety are discernible in them.

Mr. Cowley has established an Indian Service. The following extract, the concluding passage of his Journal, encourages us in the expectation that this Service, in their own native tongue, will be invested, in the eyes of the Indians, with an attractiveness which before they could not find in it—

July 15: Lord's-day—I was quite delighted with the appearance and behaviour of my small Congregation to-day. The people were clean and neat, and made the responses with admirable precision. I hope that the hearts of some do already correspond with the beautiful expressions put into their mouth by the Church. What an admirable provision for, and assistance to, the Heathen emerging from heathenism, is the Prayer-book of our Church! An Indian called Pewaupic compared it, the other night, to a ladder whereby he was able to climb, and that purely of his own accord. Several expressions of very profound astonishment at the great excellency of the prayers have fallen from the lips of divers of the Indians since they have been read in their own tongue. It is cause for grief that the Indians lead such a migratory life. The most of them are off at present, and it is very likely—almost certain—that they will not return till the fall, and then they will only stop a few days with us ere they leave again for the winter. Thus we have indeed very little time to preach or to teach in their hearing.

In the last Report it was mentioned that Mr. Cowley was anxious to commence a School at Shoal River, on the opposite side of Lake Winnipegoos, and another at Berens' River, on the opposite side of Lake Winnipeg. The deficiency for the year 1847--1848 in the permanent income of the Society, to the amount of 3788*l., prevented this; the brethren at the Red River not thinking themselves justified in sanctioning increased expenses when the pecuniary means of the Society, instead of being enlarged, had diminished. It shows how any relaxation of effort at home is felt even at the extremities of the work, and how want of self-denial on our part prevents the extension of the Bread of Life to the poor sufferers in heathen lands.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding their Annual Report, the Committee will invite this Meeting to consider—

1. In the first place, how the Lord is blessing the Society's work abroad.

In proof of this fact, the Committee appeal to the increase of Converts—to the grace manifested by many of them—and to the evident establishing, strengthening, and settling of our principal Missions. They appeal also to the favour given to our Missions in the sight of the Heathen; such as, the support afforded by the heathen Chiefs of Abbeokuta—the protection of our Missionaries by the heathen tribes of East Africa—the welcome given by the heathen population of Travancore to a zealous Missionary returning to his work; and the toleration now granted in Turkey and China. They appeal, also, to the open doors which the Providence of God is setting before the Society; such as, the invitation given to it by a zealous naval officer to follow up the benevolent enterprise at the Gallinas, which he had achieved by naval force—the voice from Scinde—and the special call to the Punjab. In one and the same Letter, lately received from Calcutta, applications for help were conveyed from the widely-separated localities of Bhagulpur, Delhi, Deyrah, Assam, Penang, and the Punjab; and the Letter added, "Many more similar calls would be made, could the Society hold out any hope of meeting them." Can we refuse to regard such appeals as an honour put upon us by the Lord?

2. Again, the Committee invite this Meeting to consider, how the Lord is upholding, in the most essential respects, the instrumentality of the Society.

* There are other Schools, of which no Return has been made.

During the last year we have taken into employment more than an average number of Missionaries, while fewer have been withdrawn by ill-health or death; so that at this time the number of labourers—and it is the Lord's prerogative to send forth labourers into His vineyard—is larger than it has ever been before. The Ordained Missionaries alone number seven more than at any previous period. At the last Anniversary an appeal was made for TEN additional Missionaries, beyond our usual supply from Islington College. Half that number has been supplied, and sent out from England. The Committee have also now offers before them which make them confidently hope that, in the course of this year, the number originally contemplated will be completed, as a permanent increase of our Missionary band—being one of the happy fruits of our Jubilee.

For the upholding, moreover, of our Missions in China and Rupert's Land, two cordially-attached and long-tried friends to our Society have been appointed to the Episcopate: while for our Missions in Ceylon and Bombay able and experienced Secretaries have been provided, specially devoted to the local affairs of the Society. Thus has our Missionary machinery been greatly advanced in its efficiency during the past year; and we acknowledge, in this circumstance, that the good hand of our Lord has been with us.

3. Further, the Committee invite this Meeting to consider, how those who profess to be fellow-helpers in this work are aiding the Society by their prayers and contributions.

Of the Prayers which are offered up no estimate can be formed by man—they go up as a memorial before God. May He pour down the Spirit of grace and supplications, that they may be increased a hundred-fold!

Of the Contributions to the Society, the preceding financial statement gives the account. The Committee had anticipated, from the manifestation of Missionary zeal at the Jubilee, and from the formation of many new Associations, that there would have been some increase in the permanent income of the Society. In the chief branch, however, of our Income, the Contributions from Associations, there has been a serious deficiency. They had hoped, also, that the special contributions to the support of Sick and Disabled Missionaries, and the "Children's Home," would have met the expenses incurred under these heads; but these contributions have failed to cover more than one-fifth of the expenditure, so that 4105*l.* have been withdrawn from the Mission Fund to make up the deficiency—a sum for which twelve or fourteen Missionaries might be supported abroad. Had not the expenditure of the past year, owing to temporary fluctuations, been unusually low, the finances of the Society would have been seriously deranged.

The Committee have anxiously investigated the accounts from the different Associations throughout the country. They have found that, in some counties, the cause of the Society is advocated in one-half of the pulpits; in others, in only one out of every ten or twelve. They have found that, in some localities, there has been, in the course of the last few years, a large increase in the contributions; in others, a considerable falling-off. The conclusion to which the Committee have come, as the result of their investigation, is this —that the Funds of this Society are mainly dependent, under God, UPON INDIVIDUAL EXERTION, SPRINGING FROM A SENSE OF PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY. Whenever there are, in a town or county, zealous and devoted friends, however few in number, animated, by the sense of their own personal obligation to the Saviour, to urge the cause of Missions upon those around them, there the Funds of the Society advance. If such friends fail, neither the acknowledged goodness of our cause, nor all the patronage of our Society, can avail to keep them up; and the reason of this is obvious—the strength of the Society is in its spiritual principles. Where a cause rests upon inferior motives, it finds its momentum in human nature; by which the minds of the multitude may be swayed like the trees of a forest by a passing wind. But spiritual principles, being opposed to human nature, can only win their way by slow degrees and by individual exertion—by the life and witness of men of faith and prayer, and of holy boldness to act upon their sense of personal responsibility. Such was the lamented Bickersteth: such are the chariots of Israel and horsemen thereof!

The Committee commend this view of the case to the serious consideration of this Meeting; and they do so on the conviction that the remedy, for the present deficiency in the funds, is in the hands of those assembled within these walls. Let those here present, whose hearts are constrained by the love of Christ, consider their personal responsibility and the efficacy of individual energy; and let them determine to exert themselves for the Saviour's sake, each in his sphere of influence, to enlarge the resources of the Society: let them be instant in prayer on behalf of the work in which the Society is engaged; and then we shall not only have the necessary funds supplied, but blessings far more valuable than silver or gold will descend in rich abundance.

APPENDIX.

At a Meeting of the Committee on the 11th of March, the Secretaries having reported the death of the Rev. Edward Bickersteth, Rector of Watton, Herts, formerly Clerical Secretary of the Society, on the 28th of February, the following Minute was adopted—

On receiving the intelligence of the decease of the Rev. E. Bickersteth, the Committee feel a mournful pleasure in reviewing his invaluable services to this Institution, and in expressing their deep sense of the loss thus sustained by the Society, by the Church, and by the cause of Missions in the world.

There are yet present in the Committee some of its older members, who can well remember how the sagacious eye of the late Rev. Josiah Pratt first discerned in Mr. Bickersteth those peculiar qualifications, which, sanctified by the grace of God, gave sure promise of future usefulness.

It appears from one of his Jubilee Tracts, that the Farewell Sermons of Henry Martyn were among the earliest circumstances that kindled the Missionary spirit of Edward Bickersteth. Being endowed with a vigorous and ardent mind, enjoying also a constitution capable of much labour and fatigue, and trained in the legal profession, Mr. Bickersteth brought at once to the service of the Society the very talents most needed at that stage of its proceedings. The duties connected with this Institution, which was then rapidly rising in public estimation, would have proved overwhelming even to the robust frame of Mr. Pratt, had not his youthful friend then come in to succour him; which he did with all the affection and devotedness of a son labouring with a father in the Gospel. And yet further, in the ordering of Providence—as it were, both to test and to mature the Missionary powers of Mr. Bickersteth—a sphere of foreign exertion immediately presented itself; requiring, although but temporarily, very great sacrifice both personal and domestic.

The results of Mr. Bickersteth's visit to West Africa are given in an admirable Document, which appears in the Appendix of the Society's 16th Report. Its value consisted, not only in its immediate relation to Sierra Leone, but as opening to the Members of the Church at large various important principles, and many scarcely less important details, connected with Missionary work.

From this date—1816 to 1831—Mr. Bickersteth was entirely identified with the Committee, as holding the office, first of Assistant Secretary, and afterward of joint Clerical Secretary to the Society. During this period, beside the routine of official duties, he was frequently engaged in extensive journeys, advocating the Society's cause both in the pulpit, in Public Meetings, and in smaller social parties. His published works, also, at this time were greatly conducive to the interests of the Society, especially the two earliest—on "the Word of God," and on "Prayer;" which productions, it is well known to his friends, were the result of his studies for the pulpit, and the solace of his devout spirit during his extensive journeys for the Society.

Although a period of twenty years has since elapsed, during which, beside his parochial duties, a vast multitude of important religious objects have unceasingly occupied his attention, yet the Committee would record with gratitude the many services which he voluntarily continued to render to the Society, especially at the Jubilee. Truly it may be said, that this Institution enjoyed his earliest affections, a great share of his best exertions, and his latest prayers.

While the Committee deeply and affectionately sympathize with his bereaved widow and family, and with the Church at large, in the loss of Edward Bickersteth, yet they delight in contemplating the example of one who, being stedfast in faith, joyful through hope, and rooted in charity, passed through the waves of this troublesome world with a greater measure of public affection and respect than most men, even good men, enjoy. It is their consolation to remember that the Master whom he so faithfully served was pleased to honour, support, and comfort him to the last; and that he is now safely arrived at the land of everlasting life, and has there exchanged our recent Jubilee for his eternal Jubilee in the Church triumphant.

The Committee cannot close this imperfect notice without adding, that the removal of Edward Bickersteth is a call upon all the members of the Society for special prayer, that the Lord would pour out His Holy Spirit upon the Church, and raise up many men able to supply his place—men of faith and love, of simplicity and godly sincerity, and of effectual fervent prayer—men who will not only advocate the claims of Religious Societies with ability, but who also will carry with them, as he did, into the bosom of society, in all their journeys and social Meetings, a holy savour of the spiritual principles, on the maintenance of which depends all hope of the blessing and presence of the Lord with human instrumentality.

 Some misapprehension having arisen with regard to the Association Accounts appended to the Society's Report, the Secretaries beg to state that there is no connection between the sum total of those Accounts and the sum total of Association Contributions acknowledged in the "Abstract of the General Mission Account" of the Parent Committee. The Association Accounts are made up at different periods, and their sum total thus necessarily varies from that acknowledged in the Parent Committee's "Abstract" above mentioned, which includes the actual payments made at the Society's House between April 1*st and March* 31*st in each year, and is, therefore, quite irrespective of the periods at which, for local convenience, Association Accounts are made up and balanced. It frequently happens, however, that an Association remits the whole of its year's receipts during the Society's financial year (April* 1 to March 31*), in which case of course the total of that Association, given in its place in the Report, will agree with the total acknowledged in the "Summary of Contributions," &c. (which is only an amplification of the total acknowledged in the "Abstract"). Thus in the present Report the Bedfordshire Association Account (p.* 15*) shows a total of* 116*l.* 0*s.* 10*d.; which sum will be found to agree with the total acknowledged from Bedfordshire in the "Summary," it having been remitted to the Society's House between April* 1, 1849, and March 31, 1850. On the other hand, the Woburn Association Account (p. 15*) shows a total of* 99*l.* 11*s.* 9*d., while in the "Summary" the total acknowledged from that Association is only* 98*l.* 10*s.* 1*d. This arises from* 1*l.* 1*s.* 8*d. of the* 99*l.* 11*s.* 9*d. having been remitted to the Society's House prior to April* 1, 1849, and consequently being included in the last year's "Abstract" and "Summary." It would greatly facilitate a perfect agreement between the total of the Association Accounts printed in the Report, and the total acknowledged in the "Abstract" and "Summary," if all the Associations were to close their accounts on the 31*st of December in each year. Time would thus be allowed to remit to the Parent Society the whole of the year's receipts before the* 31*st of March following, and nothing* BEYOND the year's receipts should be remitted before the 1*st of April.*

The appending to the Society's Report of the Accounts of the Associations may be regarded as a universal acknowledgment to the Local Contributors that their Contributions have been received by the Parent Committee; though the circumstances above stated render it impossible that the totals of those Contributions should in all cases correspond with the totals acknowledged in the "Summary." It may be just mentioned, in conclusion, that an Account Current is kept at the Society's Office with each Association, by which the actual transmission of its receipts to the Parent Committee is shown.

☞ The Associations heretofore included in the CITY-OF-LONDON AUXILIARY will now be found under Middlesex, the Auxiliary, as such, having ceased its operations.

N.B. Benefactors of Ten Pounds and upward, whose Names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will now find them in the List of "Benefactions of Former Years."
